DEIFYING THE GOVERNMENT

According to a news dispatch the miners at Fernie have decided by a mass meeting to strike unless the operators grant their demand for a single shift. The Fernie men are going back to work unless this demand is conceded, and if by tomorrow the operators have not come to time then all the men in District 18 of the U.M. W. of A. will be called out. It is only a few weeks since the labor department of the Federal Government announced that the provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act were to be strictly enforced. This measure calls for investigation and a reasonable attempt to settle any dispute before a strike can be called, and penalties are provided for any failure to comply with the act. For some strange reason this act has never been enforced in Canada, and the result is that strikes galore have been engineered in defiance of the law. A labor decision by mass meeting is equivalent to mob law, and under any circumstances should be held invalid. There is really no room for argument on the point, but all the same weak-kneed politicians at Ottawa have been afraid to enforce the law of the land, and so have made the way easy for frothy agitators. Fernie is an organized camp, and in calling a strike in this manner the union leaders must be fully aware that they have issued a deft to the Government of Canada. And also let it be admitted they have shown all their usual cunning. They have

Lemon Juice
For Freckles

Girls! Make beauty lotion at home for a few cents. Try It!

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin yet it is harmless.

Given as their reason for calling the strike that the mine cannot be worked with safety except on a single shift. When it comes to a question of safety there must of course be an investigation. But here are two practical points. In the first place, to put a mine on a single shift means a considerable reduction in its output, and in the second place, if a mine cannot be worked with safety except on a single shift, then it should not be worked at all.
If there is any reason to believe that this particular mine cannot be worked with safety then close it up.
This is the duty of the Minister of Mines at Victoria, and the sooner he takes advice upon the matter the better. In the meantime it is the duty of the Department of Labor at Ottawa to carry out its warning and enforce the Lemieux Act. All the same, it will not surprise us if, between the Provincial and Federal Departments, this further defiance of the law is allowed to go unpun-ished. For ourselves we must say that the union leaders could hardly have found a better pretext for calling a strike, nor could they have chosen a better time, seeing that it has been announced that there threatens to be a shortage of winter fuel.

DOMINION THEATRE

If there is an actress on the silent stage who deserves the appellation of "beautiful" it is Clara Kimball Young, who is appearing at the Do-"The Eastest Way." In addition to her undoubted beauty, she has talent of a high order having had a sure position on the speaking stage before going into pictures. "The Eastest seven acts of the famous drama of the

HEAVY ENEMY CASUALTIES

Estimated That 1,200,000 Have Been Knocked Out Since March 21.

French Army Headquarters, Sept.
6.—During the last week Gen. Manglin has been fighting with a slow pitiless determination which will not only render the German line in Tardenois untenable but will seriously oppress the one to which he has intended to retire.

Since March 21, the Germans have fought 550 divisional engagements, so that it is reasonable to debit them with gross casualties over that period of 1,200,000 men. It is true that sixty per cent of these will recover from the wounds, and be back in the firing line within two or three months, but the permanent loss remains in the neighborhood of half a million. Next spring there is every reason to believe that the Americans alone will be numerically as strong as the whole German army. Meanwhile, though victory is certain, the end is not yet. The Germans are retreating but cleverly, and they still have reserves to throw in. The German high command intends to fall back and shorten the line, thereby economizing men, and fight a defensive war to the last limit.

THE WINTERING OF VEGETABLES FOR SEED

One of the simplest and most successful methods of wintering, each bag is to place the plants side by side, heads up in a trench or pit, the top of the heads being about six inches below the level of the ground, the trench being refilled with soil to the bottom of the heads. Put about a-foot of straw over the heads and when cold weather sets in put from six to eight inches of soil over the straw. Forest leaves would probably prove as satisfactory as straw. When winters are not very severe, or where a heavy covering of snow is fairly sure, the cabbage may be simply heeled in with the heads above ground and the latter covered with leaves or straw just before severe frosts.

Good results have been obtained by wintering celery for seed purposes as follows: The plants are set in a trench deep enough so that the tops of the celery plants come even with the surface of the ground. The plants are set close together in the row, but each row is separated by soil. Before severe frosts the plants are covered with a heavy layer of straw, and when cold weather sets in with about fifteen inches of soil.
When harvesting beets, carrots, parsnips, asparagus and turnips the tops should be cut to within two inches of the end of the specimen, thus leaving the central shoot. A pit in which good success has been obtained in wintering roots is made as follows: A hole is dug of the necessary dimensions, six inches deep, in a well-drained place. Poles are laid on the ground and covered with boards, leaving about five inches of air space under the flooring. A sink hole three feet deep is dug six feet away from the pit. An inverted rough-shaped pipe connecting this hole with the air space under the pit provides ventilation and drainage.
The roots are put in bags to separate them better and piled three tiers high, running to a peak. A peaked roof of boards is put over the pit, high enough above the bags to allow fifteen inches of straw to be packed in between; over the roof is put a light coat of straw and then fifteen inches of soil. A vent hole nine inches square is left in the centre of the roof. Before hard frosts the sink hole is filled with straw and covered with boards and twelve inches of soil.

The foregoing information is given in a leaflet, written by the Dominion Horticulturist, and which can be had free from the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

STEFANSSON LEAVES
DAWSON FOR SOUTH

Dawson, Y.T. Sept. 6.—Explorer V. Stefansson left Dawson last night for Victoria to report to the naval commander at Esquimalt regarding the operations of the Canadian Government expedition in the north. He will also follow this report with one to the Ministry at Ottawa.

Stefansson declares that the submarine is preferable to the airplane for a dash to the Pole and for general Arctic exploration, and better equipped to carry supplies.

Courses could be found, said the explorer, from a half-mile to a mile deep and even deeper, under the ice, which could be traversed to the Pole in a submarine.

The explorer was extensively entertained during his visit in Dawson and was a guest last evening at a war-time dinner at which all Tu-kon-grown foods, including fish, eleven varieties of vegetables, and two varieties of berries, were served.
The menu also included Yukon meats.
