Robert TEMPLETON,

Temperance
Rally Sunday

AT GEORGE STREET ADULT BIBLE CLASS.

A meeting of much importance to the Class was held yesterday afternoon, when a temperance programme was adopted, which is to form the basis of greater activity along these lines in the future. The speaker was Mr. I. C. Morris, who in an eloquent and appealing manner, reviewed the efforts of temperance reformers in Newfoundland. He took his audience back to the days when agitation obtained its first measure of success with the passing of the permissive bill, which allowed districts to decide whether or not intoxicating liquor should be sold within their boundaries. The remarkable growth of the work was traced up to the present time when we have the encouraging spectacle of local option in every district except St. John's. He made an earnest appeal to the men of the Class to take up the work seriously and with the enthusiasm of young life.

A series of resolutions were unanimously passed, committing the Class to more aggressive temperance work in the future. A committee of volunteers was then formed, to make a special study of the question with a view to creating a stronger sentiment amongst the wide membership, as well as to help in individual reform wherever possible.

Regular temperance services will be organized by this body, and an endeavour made to get every member a total abstainer and a worker.

Mr. Edgecombe and Mr. C. J. Loughlin also referred briefly to the great need of the class giving their most loyal and continued support to this work.

Conversion of Young Eskimo Lad.

Yesterday was the Feast of St. Matthew the Apostle as well as the Consecration of the C. of E. Cathedral. The day was an especially memorable one in Church of England circles because the great Feast was synchronized by the baptism of a lad who had been converted in the Far North. The candidate was the Eskimo who was recently brought here from Ungava missionary labours in these desolate regions too much cannot be said. His Lordship the Bishop administered the Sacrament of baptism. Rev. Canon Bolt, Rev. Mr. Stewart and Mrs. Bolt acted as god-parents. The baptismal names were Matthew Apalak. The ceremony was a most edifying one and before His Lordship the Bishop gave an eloquent and touching discourse. The occasion, he said, was unprecedented and he expressed the good wish that the young Eskimo just received into the Church would be able to return to his native people in the future and impart the Gospel.

To-day Matthew Apalak entered Bishop Field College to begin the rudiments of education and it is the earnest wish of a great many that young Matthew will live to take up the avocation of his foster father.

Finally Bunkered

Mac and Donald were having a great eighteen-hole golf match. They both drove off in great style, but when it came to playing the next stroke Donald was unable to find his ball.

Now a lost ball meant a lost hole, and Mac came over to Donald and joined in the search.

After a quarter of an hour had been wasted, Mac suggested that they should give it up, to which Donald, who did not intend to throw a hole away if he could help it, would not agree.

A few seconds later, however, he called out:

"It's a right, Mac! Here it is!"

"Donald, you're no speaking the truth!" retorted Mac.

"I'm no leen, Mac! Tavis, see here fer yerself."

"Donald," said Mac reprovingly, "I ken fine ye're leen! I've had ye're ball in my pocket for fifteen minutes!"

Bread Upon the Waters

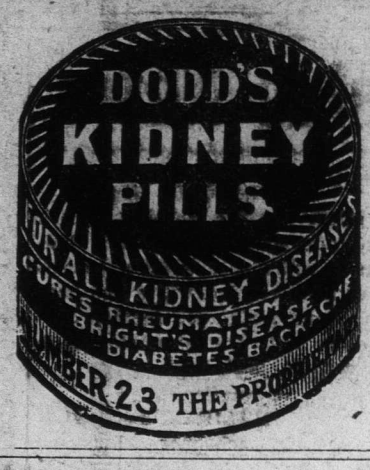

Algernon was a "free-lance" journalist, and at the moment, could have done with considerably less freedom—and more money. In fact, he was beginning to realize that a regular salary had its advantages. So was Algernon's wife.

A somewhat gloomy silence was broken by the postman's knock, and, restraining any undignified haste, Algernon went to the letter-box. It contained a foolscap envelope, which he was not the kind that editors drop into.

"Shades of the poets!" quoth Algernon. "This is really more than I can bear!"

"What is it, dear?" piped his wife.

"What is it? Why, I sent this editor two stories, and the heartless fellow has returned three!"

Forget-
Me-Nots.

It is understood that when Sir Edward Morris starts on his canvass of the island he will be presented with two bouquets of forget-me-nots. Morison's well-known timber one will adorn the right lapel of his coat; Crosbie's will find a place on the left lapel.

As Crosbie's "forget" may not be as well known to the public as Morison's, we hasten to explain. Crosbie tendered for the coal contracts for the public institutions and his tender being the lowest was accepted. It is said after the acceptance, Crosbie discovered that he forgot to include out-of-town cartage when making his tender, and a complacent Government which includes such a notable "forgetter" as Morison, promised to make good the loss. Is this a fact John C.?

We should like to know from the Herald and News when next they are talking of the splendid (?) record of the Government. If they include these lapse of memory episodes of Crosbie and Morison?

True! John C., you never got anything from Morris, neither did Morison. We can easily believe you are speaking the truth when you asserted that you and Morison "took" what you wanted. It is a pity that you did not tell us how much you have made out of the present Government.

Your spars, coastal contracts, coal contracts, steamer charters and the hundred other little jobs that have not come to light and that will only be revealed under the search-light of an official enquiry, must have put you in Easy Street long ago. Your prediction that before the Government went out you would be a rich man must be near fulfillment. But John, it is coming to a close. In less than two months and you must draw that capacious paw of yours from out the public chest. That may not be pleasant for you, but it will be a good thing for this country when you and others like you are placed where you can work no further harm.

TO THE YOUNG MAN AND THE MAN WHO WANTS TO STAY YOUNG, we particularly want to cater to in clothes. We give them that smart, nifty suit that appeals to them in every particular—made well, looks well and wears well, and we can always depend upon them for permanent customers. Our Serges are the talk of the town for their superior qualities—never faded and wear well. SPURRELL BROS., 365 Water Street, next door to Parker & Moore's.

At St. Michael's.

Yesterday being the Feast of St. Matthew and the anniversary of the dedication of the Cathedral was fittingly observed at the Mission Church of St. Michael and all Angels. The early Eucharist was attended by a large and devout congregation. The Celebrant being the Rev. A. G. C. Stamp. The chief service of the day was Merbeck's Cantata, which was directed by the choir under the able leadership of Mr. Vayssor. The Celebrant was the priest in charge who also delivered a powerful address on the life of St. Matthew. Solemn evensong was sung by the Rev. J. Brinton, Senior Curate, assisted by the Rev. H. Facey, who delivered a very eloquent and powerful sermon on "Faith," during which he urged all his hearers to have a true conception of and faith in the Sacrament of Holy Church and especially a regular and frequent attendance at the Blessed Sacrament of the Altar. The procession from the altar was held at the conclusion of the service, after which Benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Facey.

President
Coaker's Watch.

The magnificent watch presented by the F.P.U. last December, to President Coaker, as a slight recognition of their appreciation of his services to the fishermen, is now on exhibition at the store of Mr. Joseph Roper, Water Street. It is one of the best watches ever seen in Newfoundland and is valued at $400. It was made to the order of the F.P.U. by a leading watchmaker in Paris. Mr. Roper says he never saw its equal and that it is indeed a watch worthy of the fishermen of Newfoundland. It is another instance of the esteem in which the fishermen hold President Coaker, and will be highly prized by its owner, coming as it does from the fishermen and unique as it is in its mission, for no man in this Colony was ever before the recipient of such a grand gift from the toilers. Mr. Coaker should feel proud of the distinction and the fishermen will feel better satisfied with themselves in having shown their heartfelt appreciation of the great work Mr. Coaker has accomplished on their behalf which a money payment could not cover even if President Coaker, would be willing to accept such. Many a public man who has been grasping after the hard earned dollars of the fishermen the past four years, who are of the get-rich-quick brand, will likely feel a shiver of disgust creeping over them as they read of the fishermen's action of love and esteem towards the man that has toiled constantly, early and late during the last four years on their behalf, and those Grabsills may wish themselves in the place of the fishermen defender as they behold the from the toilers have for them and the smile of appreciation that will greet Mr. Coaker as he journeys from place to place the coming six weeks. Duty faithfully performed will always be appreciated, and this maxim was never more strikingly illustrated than in the case we here review. The Telegram extends its sincere congratulations to the saviors and the recipient, and trust Mr. Coaker will live many years to enjoy this unique recognition of his services to the fishermen of Newfoundland.

A.N.D. Train Wrecked.

The A. N. D. Co.'s train while on her way from Botwood to Grand Falls was wrecked on Saturday, but happily no one was injured. A freight car laden with paper and two passenger cars, containing Mrs. Jones, wife of the Company's Superintendent, and Mrs. Scott, Miss Scott and Miss Allen, were derailed. When the cars left the rails they toppled over. The passengers were shaken up and badly frightened but escaped injury.

ALWAYS MASTER OF THE ROAD.

Look for the Dunlop Traction Tread trail on asphalt and on mud. It's the "V" line to comfort. No chains; no skidding.

A WEATHERABLE TIRE.

It is just weather like we get here in Newfoundland that gives Dunlop Traction Tread Tires a chance to show their class—and motorists who have them know it.

Created because of the insufficiency of the so-called non-slip or "buttoned" tread.

Marketed only after the most exhaustive tests ever given to an anti-skid tire.

Proven itself the only real anti-skid tire obtainable—bar none. That's

WILLIAM FREW, Water Street.

Allan Liner's Had Rough

The R.M.S. Carthaginian, Capt. Ogilvie, arrived in port at six yesterday morning, after a rough eventful trip. She left Liverpool Saturday, the 12th, and at the set met terrific weather, which continued for five days. A succession of westerly and northwesterly gales and the ship received a drubbing. The wind blew with velocity of a hurricane, accompanied by heavy seas. While the storm ed her decks were constantly and very slow headway was made. Seasickness was very prevalent on board and most of the passengers were confined to their rooms. The ship was not until the 18th, when the port was reached. The ship had 800 tons of cargo, a small mail, the following saloon passengers: Jas. Bibby, Miss H. J. Black, Broughton, P. Burnham, E. Dickinson, Miss J. M. Dixon, Dodd, T. J. Duley, Miss G. H. Kramiec, J. Leamon, Mr. Mon, J. C. Marshall, Bertram, Thos. Peel, Mrs. Peel, Miss Pooey, J. Stick, Mrs. C. H. T. Miss J. Tranfield, John Watts, seven intermediate. Eleven class and twenty-eight second passengers are in transit.

Prowler at Large

The police have been accused an unknown prowler being at. Apparently this crook is bent on getting access to a Water Street saloon. He twice attempted to but failed. His latest effort a few nights ago when he ascended a ladder at the rear of the building an endeavour to get through. The proprietor heard him on being disturbed the man was again he will get a round. On Friday night last a bell got into this same store, through use of a skeleton key, rifled a register and got away with $6. The lad was brought before the court because of his tender years, go on suspended sentence.

LINTHROP PASSENGERS. s.s. Lintrop landed the passengers at Port aux Basques yesterday: E. P. Hertrich, W. Neil, Mrs. T. Otis, Mrs. A. Mrs. E. Pike, Miss S. P. Black, Rev. T. Goff, C. E. G. J. Shortall, T. H. Carter.
