Opportunities in Long-Term Bonds

Bonds maturing in 1919 or 1920 may now be sold advantageously and the funds reinvested in longer term securities. The benefits of present high interest yield rates may thereby be secured for a period of ten years and longer.

We shall be glad to offer suggestions.

Editor Evening Telegram. Editor, to say that I read all of the letters that appeared in your paper, and I most certainly agree with the writers of these letters; and I think landed and came on by train. Snow amined. that anybody who says that a soldier should stop and thin kbefore he jumps swered if another war should break out. Now what I want to say in this; there are quite a few soldiers in this town, who applied for position at various kinds of work, and were offered a mere child's wage, with this plausible excuse, "That is all you aan really earn." Of course after seeing active service these last four and a half years they are mere children, and anybody. Why then should these men saw a "Hun" get a course or anything that they want? There are quite a few

C. W. A. Successful Sale.

The sale of work of the Cathedral Women's Association, held yesterday in the Synod Hall, proved highly successful and from the opening ceremony, which was performed at three o'clock by the Bishop, to the conclusion everybody present enjoyed the evening. At eight o'clock a concert was held. The performers were:-Miss Harvey, pionoforte solo: Miss Keegan, recitation: Miss Stella Hewn, Mr. Alex Winter, dance; Mrs. B. E. S. Dunfield, violin solo. A playlet.—"Her Majesty's Mail"—proved to be the hit of the evening. Toward the end of the sale a quantity of unsold goods was offered by auction, being taken up by the ladies and gentlemen

Guild Sale of Work.

The sale of work held last night by the Methodist College Girls' Guild was an entire success and the proceeds mounted to nearly $500.00. Mrs. Cluny Macpherson opened the sale at 3 o'clock. As the proceeds show, the various stalls were well patronized. The tea tables the direction of Mrs. W. H. Peters and Mrs. Harrington. proved a feature of the evening. The andy table was under the direction of Mrs. Alex Marshall, and the fancy work was quickly disposed of by Miss MacKay. The Girls' Guild are to be ongratulated on the excellence of the
