JOHN CAMERON, President and Rang. Dir.

London, Friday, March 26, 1897.

GEORGE ELIOT: "I've been a great deal happier since I have given up thinking about what is easy and pleasant, and being discontented because I couldn't have my own will.
Our life is determined for us; and it makes the mine very free when we give up wishing, and only think of bearing what is laid upon us, and doing what is given to us to do."

Rejected manuscripts are usually returned when accompanied by so is expressly disavowed. Manuscripts unaccompanied by postage will not be returned.

Speech From the Throne.

- (1) Appropriation reference to Queen's diamond jubilee.
- (2) Congratulations that Manitoba school question is settled.
- (3) Promise of tariff rearrangements "more satisfactory to the masses of the people."
- (4) Measure to repeal present abominable franchise bill, substituting therefor the provincial franchise.
- (5) Deepening and improvement of canal system. "A vigorous prosecution of these works."
- (6) Arrangements to practically extend intercolonial Railway to Montreal.
- (7) Cold storage arrangements at creameries, at ports, on railways, and on steamers.
- (8) Dominion plebiscite.

If the above measures and topics were all that were to be introduced, the time-honored phrase, "meager," would be decidedly inap-plicable.

But there are others.

Spring seems to be in the incubator yet.

"There's only a few of us left,"—Sir Charles Tupper.

The European concert seems to be mostly chin music.

How will Mr. Champagne M.P. vote in the plebiscite?

If the New York Legislature decides to tax whiskers, the bald heads should go free.

Japan is making rapid strides in civilization. She has now adopted the gold standard.

The legislative bill-of-fare, presented by the Governor-General yesterday, is quite to the public taste.

The United States Senate has made the arbitration treaty useless. The treaty now resembles the Senate.

In the Dingley bill the high taxationists of this country are merely getting a dose of their own medicine.

The Duke of Leeds, if he comes, will come highly recommended. He was opposed to entering the House of Lords.

The Buffalo Times alleges that the barbers of New York State will petition the Legislature to tax whiskers.
"Next!"

This cold snap is calculated to freeze the genial current of the spring poet's soul. Let there be no more complaints about the weather.

Mr. Foster said in Wright that the Manitoba school question was dead and buried. Then why these attempts to exhumate the corpse?

As if the Conservatives of Quebec were not agitated enough by the Wright election without being shaken by an earthquake at the same time!

The attacks on the Ontario Government on the ground that it granted privileges to a monopoly come with poor grace from those who have always been the wet nurses of monopolies.

The Transvaal Government have suppressed a newspaper, because of its adverse criticisms. President Kruger has been regarded as a big gun by the world at large, but he seems to be a small-Boer, after all.

The Dominion Government's proposal to equalize the revenue and expenditure by exercising economy shows little respect for Conservative precedent. The late Government's method of restoring the equilibrium was by clapping on more taxes.

[Special Editorial Correspondence of

Ottawa, Ont., March 25.—The Supreme Court heard in the West Prince election case, which is final, is of much interest to Londoners, because it has an important influence on the decision in the London election case next June. In this Prince Edward Island case, Mr.
Hackett, a Conservative, carried the seat by a plurality of 45, stepping in between two Liberals. His election was contested, and one case of corrupt practice was proved. It was held to be trivial, and Mr. Hackett's counsel claimed that under the 19th section of the act passed in 1891 he should hold his seat. The trial judges, however, decided that though the only case proved was one of an agent having treated a voter while canvassing his vote, the candidate had not warned the agent against committing illegal acts.
In other words, as in the London case, if a candidate or his chosen managers fail to make all necessary provisions to secure the complete observation of the law, and one or more corrupt acts are proved, he loses his seat. Judge For-guson has said that the London trial judges must be governed by the Supreme Court decision, which has upheld this common sense view by confirming the judgment unseating the member for West Prince. In the London case, two corrupt practices have already been proved, and many others are under consideration. A new election for West Prince will take place immediately, and the Maritime Province M.P.s tell me West Prince will be added to the Liberal column.

Mr. J. A. C. Ethier, who will today move the address in the House of Commons, in reply to the speech from the throne, is one of the youngest members of Parliament. He was born at St. Benoit, county of Two Mountains, Que., on May 26, 1868, so that he is not yet 29 years of age. He is one of the ablest of the younger generation of Liberal public men in Quebec, and with his powers should have a future.
He served as deputy provincial secretary for the district of Terrebonne from 1888 to 1895, and has for some time successfully practiced law at St. Scholastique, Que. At the last general election, he captured the county of Two Mountains as a supporter of Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, of whom he is an ardent admirer. For a long time previous the constituency was held by the Conservatives.

Mr. Benjamin Russell, M. P. for Halifax, will second the reply to the address. He is a grandson of Nathaniel Russell, who came to Nova Scotia on the evacuation of Boston by the British, after the unpleasantness of a century ago. He was born in Dartmouth, Nova Scotia, Jan. 19, 1849, and educated at Halifax grammar school and Mount Allison College. He is a barrister-at-law, recorder of Dartmouth, professor of the Law of Contracts, Dalhousie University; editor of Supreme Court law reports, and has been reporter and legal adviser to the Legislative Council of Nova Scotia. He is a man of brilliant parts, a leader in the Methodist Church, an orator. He was first returned to the House of Commons at the general election in 1896. He is a free trader in theory, and believes this is the ideal that should be pursued, "with due regard to the economic reality." The policy of the Conservative Administration has granted the request for the extension of the postal car service on the L. E.
and D. R. R. from Leamington to Ridgeway. The change will take effect July 1 next. At the present time the mails are carried to Leamington by train, and from there they go by stage to Ridgeway.

South Essex Electric Railway Company are asking for power to construct a railway to be operated by electricity, with single or double tracks, from Amherstburg to Sandwich, thence to Windsor, and also from Amherstburg to Kingsville, and thence to Leamington.
The capital of the company will be $100,000. The construction must be commenced within two years from the passing of the act and finished within three years.

WET "TRIMMINGS."

don department stores, according to

AN ANCIENT DOLL.
In the Egyptian department of the British Museum is a wooden doll which represents the young in the history of little royal princess, who died three centuries before Christ. Her baby fingers still clasped it when the mummy wrappings were unfolded. This is probably the oldest doll in existence.

Blessed is the man who has the gift of making friends; for it is one of God's best gifts. It involves many things, but above all, the power of going out of one's self, and seeing and appreciating whatever is noble and loving in another man.—Thomas try by making additional substantial investments. Mr. Cox has successfully promoted a number of railway lines, and he has given much financial aid to higher education. He is one of the bursars of Victoria University, and president of the Ontario Ladies' College, Whitby. The Senator has been a liberal giver to the schemes of the Methodist Church, of which he is a much respected member. For seven years he was mayor of Peterboro. Premier Laurier made no mistake when he called a citizen of Canada of so many estimable parts to the Senate of the Dominion.

The new Senator who will second the reply to the address is Hon. George G.
King, of New Brunswick. Senator King is also a native of Canada, his birthplace being Springfield, King's county, N. B. He is in his 61st year.
He was first returned to Parliament as member for King's, N. B., in 1878, and held the seat till 1887, when he received a majority of the votes, but was deprived of his seat by the action of the returning officer, who declared his opponent elected. The Conservative Administration being sustained, he was unsuccessful in the bye-election, but was re-elected in the general elections of 1891 and 1896. He resigned his seat in favor of Hon. Mr. Blair, Minister of Railways, and was called to the Senate a few months since. Mr.
King is of Scotch-Irish parentage, his father coming from Finlay, Scotland, and his mother from Miltoin, Ireland.

The announcement that Postmaster-General Mulock has resolved to extend the free letter delivery system to Brantford, reminds me that it was a Liberal Administration which, a little over twenty years ago, set the free delivery system going in London.
Brantford is a progressive city, and its standing is very fittingly recognized by the Postmaster-General. I do not doubt that if the large deficit which has hitherto been yearly registered against the Postoffice Department is materially cut down by the economies now in progress, other cities will by and by have free delivery. Windsor, Chatham, Bellefleur, St. Thomas, for example.

I learn that a very large sum has been saved in the Postoffice Department by the policy of observing the law which enacts that every mail route shall be given out by tender. The fairness of this system of public competition has been criticised in some quarters, because it has led men who were determined to get a contract to accept very small remuneration. Of course, the postal authorities cannot be held responsible for the results of this competition. The inspectors have to see that the contractors live up to the law, and that ends it—the lowest tender gets the job. Under the late Administration, in many cases, no tenders were asked for, and while some friends of the Government were much over-paid, others with less of a pull sawed badly. Some of the new contractors would not make food for their horses if they depended on the carriage of the mails alone to give them a living. But this result of competition is not uncommon in other countries as well as ours. I heard today of a man who has contracted to carry the mails daily between Sanford, Ky., and a town twenty miles distant, receiving the magnificent salary of 1 cent a year! He has to travel 40 miles daily, except Sunday, or 12,500 miles during the year. The contract runs for four years, too. The lowliness of the contract price is accounted for by the fact that the mail carrier was determined not to let an enemy get the bags, and he wanted to retain the "mail stage route." This eccentric development puts in the shade some very low bids made for the carriage of the mails in the London district, but it must be confessed, in all conscience, that the new carriers are doing the work for very small remuneration.
Of that, however, the Postmaster-General is not called to take cognizance. His interest is that of the general public.

RAILWAY RUMBLINGS.

Proposed Route of the South Essex Electric Road.

Both the South Essex and the Port Essex Railways will have to operate their lines under the Electric Railway Act, which does not permit of their running on the Sabbath Day.

The Dominion Government has granted the request for the extension of the postal car service on the L. E.
and D. R. R. from Leamington to

No. 2 Committee Does a Good Night's Work.Some Important Business Satisfactorily Dealt With.

A Gain of $500 by a Change in the Route of the Evergreen Avenue Drain—Communications
Re Sidewalks.

At the meeting of No. 2 committee last night some important business was considered. J. E. Keenleyside was present and asked the committee to have the sidewalks in front of six houses of his repaired, as otherwise he could not rent them. He was told by Chairman Parnell that the matter would be given due consideration.

A communication was read from Henry Merritt, janitor of the city hall, asking for a new bell rope. The engineer and chairman will attend to the matter.

City Clerk Kingston, on behalf of the mayor, wrote, asking the committee to prepare a statement of their estimated receipts and expenditure for the current year at the earliest possible date. It was decided to give the matter of estimates immediate attention.

A statement was presented from Engineer Graydon to the effect that there had been fourteen days delay in connection with the work on Evergreen avenue, from Feb. 18 to March 3, and that during that time the cost of the cost of inspection had been $9 40. The statement was left over until next meeting.

Engineer Graydon further reported that since the proposal of Engineer Chipp, of the City of London, to lay flow drain from Evergreen avenue to the river had been received a more satisfactory arrangement had been arrived at. According to Mr. Chippman's scheme it was proposed to put down a tile sewer from the foot of the brick sewer on Evergreen avenue, where the siphon begins, to run westerly along the avenue to its terminus, and then northerly along an unnamed street to the river. Upon examination it was found that with the permission of Mr.
David Spence, the owner of a lot lying between Evergreen avenue and Interview avenue, a shorter route could be obtained, and a considerable outlay saved by running the proposed tile sewer through Mr. Spence's property. An informal agreement had been drawn up and signed by Mr. Spence, in proper form. The length now proposed was 415 feet of 18-inch tile, with an average depth of 11 feet. The estimated cost being $520. This would mean a saving of 220 feet of tile, and as under the first arrangement, 18-inch tile would have had to be used, the gain would be about $600 by making the proposed arrangement.

Some discussion followed as to the size of tile necessary, but as it was thought that greater satisfaction would be given with 18-inch tile, and as the difference in price was only 18 cents per foot, or about something less than $60, it was decided to call for tenders for 18-inch tile, said tenders to be received for the next meeting of the council.
A duly executed agreement was presented, and the council, after the necessary powers upon condition that the council would permit him to undertake the work on the proposed sewer free of charge.

Jas. Donnelly, 265 Cromwell street, wrote, asking for his property had been vacant for four years because of the want of a sidewalk, and requesting that one be constructed once. The communication was left over.

Joseph Knowles also wrote, asking for repairs to the sidewalk in front of his property on Weston street. But as this matter had already been referred to the communication was left over.

Engineer Graydon wrote recommending the laying of permanent sidewalks throughout the city in place of plank sidewalks, which only lasted four or five years, and then required continual repairs.

A discussion ensued regarding speculations for sidewalks. It was decided to ask for tenders for both red and white pine. In the course of the discussion Ald. Bennett, who was present, offered some suggestions. Speculations will be put off and considered at the next meeting.

The chairman referred to the imposition, on Tuesday morning of the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight, in which an alderman, who was acting as part of Fitz, had mistaken a pane of glass in the engineer's office for Mr. James G. Corbett's head. He caused much amusement by asking who was to bear the pain of the cost.
The committee then proceeded to pass accounts.

The following were present: Chairman Parnell, Ald. Bennett, Ald.
O'Meara, Ald. Carrothers, Secretary Bell and City Engineer Graydon.

PRICE OF LAND IN LONDON.

The price of land in the British metropolis, London, is truly becoming something fabulous. The other day a bid of $25,000 was refused for the site of Cleveland House, at the corner of King James' Square and King street.
Yet in 1665, little more than two centuries ago, Charles II. granted a lease in perpetuity of the 45 acres upon which the present site of the city of London stands, for the sum of £100, an annual rent of £30 to Henry Jernyn, Earl of St. Albans. Today a quarter of an acre cannot be had for less than $20,000.
