Brotherhood of Arms Between the South African Republics

Most Likely To Become an Absolute Certainty.

Pretorians Believe There Is No Escape From War-British and Transvaal Forces on the Move.

London, Sept. 28.-The decision of the volksraad of the Orange Free State to join with the Transvaal in the event of hostilities, although fully expected, is the leading news today, and will naturally stiffen the Boers' independent attitude. The raad's resolution has made the brotherhood of arms between the Transvaal and the Orange Free State an absolute certainty, and the British will have to face the situation. The volksraad's resolution was as follows: "The raad having read paragraph 2 of the president's speech, and the offi-cial documents and correspondence submitted therewith, and having regard for the strained state of affairs throughout the whole of South Africa, which has arisen in consequence of the difference between the Imperial Gov-ernment and the Government of the Transvaal, which threatens to lead to hostilities, the calamitous consequence of which to the white inhabitants will -Mr. A. MOVEMENTS OF TROOPS. The burghers are getting uneasy at the concentration of British troops between Ladysmith and Laing's Neck, and especially at Glencoe and Dundee. The nominal reason for the concentration is the protection of the Dundee coal fields, but the burghers shrewdly suspect that the real reason is the formation of a force which will advance across the Transvaal frontier, on Vryheidt, as soon as war is de-clared. The Boers do not intend to be caught napping and are now massing around Vryheid, not, however merely as a protective measure, but to be prepared, unless the British reinforcements across the border cease, to make a dash in force through a portion of Zululand, crossing the Buffalo River at a point below Rorke's Drift, and then, seizing the railroad, cut off the British garrison at Dundee and Ladysmith from the south, which would not only interrupt the British lines of communication, but would seriously interfere with a forward movement. In order to watch this portion of the railroad exposed to a Boer incursion, a British post will be established at Rorke's Drift. DESTITUTE FUGITIVES. A dispatch from Mafeking, in British Bechuanaland, just across the dispatch from Mafeking, in Brit-Transvaal border, says a stream of destitute people are arriving there from

Johannesburg.

A British infantry detachment, with some engineers, has arrived at De Ar, southwest of the Orange Free State, and an important railroad junction. Extensive fortifications will be thrown up there and the town will be made de replaced by a mosaic tile walk ten the base of operations, from that side, against the Orange Free State or the Transvaal. More troops will shortly arrive in De Aar. From Cape Town comes the news that at a meeting of the Ministerial-ists there today, it was unanimously resolved to petition Queen Victoria, de-precating the idea of war and urging a joint inquiry into the effect of the Transvaat franchise act, as proposed by the imperial government Aug. 2, and accepted by President Kruger.
