LOCAL MARKET.

LONDON, Tuesday, Jan. 8.
The few farmers who attended the market this morning say that the roads are in bad shape, and are in striking contrast to last week. Probably the elections yesterday in the various townships prevented many farmers from making preparations to attend today's market. All told there were not over twenty vehicles with produce on the square.

Three loads of hay were offered, which brought $15.50 to $16.25 per ton. There ought to be a good demand for hay the remainder of this week.

One load of straw sold at $3.50. No grain of any kind had been offered up to 11:30 o'clock, and the prospects are that there would be none. There should be an excellent demand for oats at tomorrow's market.

There was very little butter, eggs, potatoes, apples or poultry offered. Prices were unchanged.

There was not a very brisk demand for what butchers' meats there were on sale; prices were steady.

Not for several months have dressed hogs been so scarce as at present. The butchers have been paying good prices, and they are surprised that the farmers don't market more hogs, as they claim that it pays better to sell dressed hogs at $9 per cwt than at $6.25 per cwt for live hogs.
