

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH, PORT HOPE. - (Shewing the Church, Schoolhouse and Rectory).

took great interest in the two little Indian boys. On account of Zosie's delicacy of health he was not allowed out to the evening meeting, and Soney had to perform his part alone.

Our next destination was Yarmouth; here we arrived late on Saturday evening and were received beneath the hospitable roof of Mr. and Mrs. E—. As there were children in the house I had to explain about Zosie and offer to put him elsewhere at some lodging, but happily the children of the house had had the measles quite recently, and our kind host and hostess would not hear of the child being sent away. It was a large, well furnished house, standing in a pretty garden, and the boys had a very comfortable room set apart for them, but I thought it better to keep Soney with me and let Zosie sleep alone, at anyrate for a few nights.

Next day, Sunday, I preached morning and evening at Holy Trinity church, and in the afternoon gave a missionary address to a gathering of Sunday school children. I also called with the boys on an invalid lady who for many years had been a kind and active helper of our work. This was the close of our programme as regarded Nova Scotia. Next morning we were to take the train back to Digby and from thence cross the Bay of Fundy to St. John, N.B., on our return trip westward. According to the original plan there were now only Quebec and two or three other places in that vicinity to visit, and then we should be going back to the Sault; but now our return must be delayed six
