

St. Andrew's College

“Chestnut Park,” Toronto

A PRESBYTERIAN Residential and Day SCHOOL FOR BOYS

The School has been in full operation for some months. Already there are fifty-six pupils on the roll. Full collegiate work is done. Boys are prepared for matriculation at the Universities and the Royal Military College. A Commercial Department has been introduced, and will be made still more effective next term. There is a Preparatory Form for Junior boys. The Staff is large and efficient. In addition to the Principal there are six masters, of whom four, with the Principal, live in residence. The College is beautifully situated, with large grounds surrounding it, combining the conveniences of the city with the advantages of the country.

The aim is to develop boys morally and physically as well as mentally.

The Autumn Term commences on September 10th, 1900. See Home Study Quarterly. Write for Prospectus and further information to
