Majority for No. 1, 12 points.

The weather was cool, but otherwise the day was most favorable, and the firing was very creditable.—Quebec Mercury.

In London recently Lieutenant Colonel Wigginton gave an address on the war between Germany and France. Lord Ranleigh took the chair, and gave some reminiscences of his own of a visit he made to Sedan immediately after the capitulation, whereon and immediately around the battle fields he saw thousands of chassepots which had been thrown away by the French soldiers in their flight. Colonel Wigginton pointed out that near Givonne, the French had a very strong position. They were placed on a road on the side of a declivity up which the Prussians had to climb to get at them, but the French hunted them back with great slaughter. The French general, however, neglected to guard the heights, and the Prussians by making a long detour, got some guns in position, which enabled them to occupy the French and thus they were enabled to capture the position. Before going to Sedan, he could not understand how it was that the 90,000 Frenchmen who found themselves in it on the 31st August did not cut their way out; but when he saw the place he could easily understand it. The fact was, Sedan was in a hollow, and the Prussians having possession of the neighboring heights, could have shelled it and destroyed every one in it.

Description of the Work.

THE PARLOUR ALBUM is doubtless the most extensive ART GALLERY ever published and, by those who have examined the several portions of the work, it has been pronounced the "CLIMAX OF BEAUTY." Each volume contains 27 full page Chromo Lithographs in Oil Colors, 40 full page Steel Engravings, 40 full page engravings on wood and 267 pages of reading matter, descriptive of the illustrations, the whole making each volume about one-half as thick, and same sized pages, as Webster's largest Dictionary. Each volume is complete in itself and will be sold separately, if desired. Sold by Subscription Only.

Vol. I. Is devoted to Wild American Birds.
Vol. II. Contains Wild American Animals.
Vol. III. American Domesticated Birds and Animals.
Vol. IV. Foreign Birds and Animals.
