MR. JAMES I. FELLOWS Dear Sir! I have just finished the bright and last bottle of your sustainable Syrup of the Hypophosphites. To this use I ascribe an endless of comfort, of many years in my head and chest, and of endless of particularly also, return of appetite, buoyancy of spirits, exercise of flesh and strength to the person (85) daily doing with a degree of pleasure unknown to me for a long time. The good I have experienced from it is beyond description, and I advise all persons afflicted with pulmonary ailments not to delay for its taking it. Feeling sincerely grateful for your Hypophosphites, I would never be in ser more.

Yours truly, GEO. C. FOUT.

PROSPECTUS FOR 1873—SIXTH YEAR.

"THE ALDINE,"

An Illustrated Monthly Journal, universally admitted to be the handsomest Periodical in the world. A Representative and Champion of American Taste.

Not for Sale in Book or News Stores.

THE ALDINE, while issued with all the regularity, has none of the transitory or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant repository of pure, high-toned literature, and a rehearsing of pictures, the novel specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value of the whole THE ALDINE will be not a square inch richer it has been from the first—at the end.

While other publications of like cost depend for success upon the taste and varying moods of a single individual, THE ALDINE is an unique and original conception, in form and temperament—absolutely without competition in the field of periodical literature, and can only be properly appreciated when a proper conception of a complete volume cannot disappoint the reader in the least degree, but in any other shape or number of volumes far less interest is read and than there are the elements, looked!

ART DEPARTMENT.

Notwithstanding the increase in the price of subscription (not fall, when THE ALDINE assumed its present form), and notwithstanding its artistic character, the edition was more than doubled during the past year, proving that the American public appreciate, and will support a meritorious work in the domain of Art. The publishers, desirous to justify the ready confidence thus bestowed, have resolved themselves to the utmost to develope and improve the work in the line of its original design for the future, as embodied by the monthly issue, will exhibit, in the light versa the most tangible friends of THE ALDINE.

The publishers are now negotiating for engravings from many of the most eminent artists of America.

In addition, THE ALDINE will present examples of the best foreign masters, selected with a view to the highest artistic success, and greatest general interest; specimens which have become familiar, through photographs, or copies of any kind.

The quarterly chromo plates, for 1873, will reproduce four of the most favorite pictures of the year, appropriate to the four seasons. To us plates, appended to the issue for January, April, July and October, would be found among the finest gems of a year's collection.

The popular feature of a copiously illustrated "editorial" number will be continued.

To present such a valuable epitome of the art world at a cost so trifling, will command the subscription of a host to every section of the country, but, on the conditions and obligation of the ALDINE as a permanent, is proportional to the numerical increase of its issue. The publishers respectfully solicit the co-operation desired.

PREMIUM CHROMOS FOR 1873.

Every subscriber to THE ALDINE, who pays in advance for the year 1873, will receive, without additional charge, a pair of beautiful chromos, after J. F. Kensett, of the English pattern, known as "Catskill." "The Village Belle," and "Cascade the Bloom," are 21 x 28 inches—are printed with 20 different plates, and in the highest style of the art—and ideal in subject. The name is not to be put for per year in the art world, and is to be delivered to all subscribers to keep THE ALDINE out of the hands of parties who in every department, the chromo will be found strong evidence of the superiority that is to be attained in the future period rule. Every subscriber will receive a certificate over the signature of the publishers, guaranteeing that the chromos shall be equal to the original paintings, and entitled the agent or the money will be refunded. The distribution of pictures of this grade free to the subscribers is a new departure in the art history of America, considering the unprecedented success with the subscribers of its native publishers' unexcelled mechanical appliances. A specimen of these chromos, see first-class number of THE ALDINE.

THE LITERARY DEPARTMENT

will continue under the care of Mr. RICHARD HENRY STODDARD, assisted by the best writers and poets of the day, who will strive to have the literature of THE ALDINE in keeping with its artistic attractions.

TERMS.—If you cannot, in advance, with all Chromos, remit $5, THE ALDINE will, hereafter, be obtainable only by subscription. There will be no exception to this rule, and subscriptions must be sent to the publishers direct. Or, if to the local agent, subscriptions will be received only by the $5 here, and the receipt of the publishers is given. Nothing but the genuine signature of JAMES SUTTON & Co.

AGENTS WANTED.

Any person, whether in or out of business, as local or travelling agent, will receive liberal and prompt information by applying to
