NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.
1878.

Now, as heretofore, THE TRIBUNE strives to be first of all and preeminently a news paper.

France a Republic—England and Germany gradually permeated with Republican ideas—Spain awaying in the feeble grasp of a ruler too good for a king and too weak for a Republican, who is unable to govern the great island that blocks the entrance to our Gulf of Mexico, and equally unable to give it up—the German-speaking Western empire to be ruled by a Protestantism, separating from the See of Rome on the day of the day, and the whole Continent pervaded by the intellectual ferment that comes of the conflict between old ideas, philosophic, theological, material, and the advance of physical Science—Russia and Great Britain turning a race for the final gains that shall determine Asiatic supremacy—China seeming ready to abandon her advances and recede her half opened gates—Japan abolishing feudalism and inviting Western civilization to irradiate her shores to enrich her long hidden empire—such are phases of the new world abroad which the mails over all Continents and the wires under all Seas are daily bearing to us. With able and trusted correspondents in the leading capitals, and wherever great changes are in progress, THE TRIBUNE aims, at whatever cost, to lay before its readers the prompt, complete, and popular presentation of these diverse and conflicting movements, through all of which, as it fondly trusts, the toiling masses are everywhere struggling up toward larger recognition and a brighter future.

At home the struggle for freedom seems over. The last slave has long been a citizen; the last opposition to emancipation, enfranchisement, equal civil rights, has finally been annihilated. The North or South, longer disputes the result of the War for the Union; and declare that these results must never be undone; and, with a whole people thus united on the grand platform of All Rights for All, where our bloody struggle, and the latest experiments of the future, have led us, the Republic closes the records of a bitter, hateful Past, and turns peacefully, hopefully, to the less arduous because less vital problems of the Future. To whatever issue the Tribune gives ample space and most important reports. The Tribune proposes, whatever the political leaders may say, whatever officers may do, to fairly set down in its columns, whether this news helps or hinders its own views. Its readers have the right to an honest statement of the facts, and this they always get.

THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE, now more than thirty years old, has endeavored to keep up with the progress of the age in improvement and enterprise. It devotes large shares of its columns to Agriculture as the most essential and general of human pursuits. It employs the ablest and most successful cultivators to set forth in brief, clear essays their practical views of the Farmer's work. It reports public discussions which elucidate that work; gathers from every source agricultural news, the reports of the latest experiments the stories of the latest successes and failures, and whatever may tend to one to better Agr. culture, and to commend it as the first and most important of progressive Art, based on natural science.

THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE appeals also to Teachers, Students, and persons of inquiring minds, by the character of its literary contents, which include reviews of all the works proceeding from the master minds of the old and new World, with liberal extracts from those of especial interest. Imaginative Literature also claims attention, but in a subordinate degree. "Home Interests" are discussed weekly by a lady specially qualified to instruct and interest her own sex, and the younger portion of the other. No column is more eagerly sought or read with greater avidity than that of the "Home Interests of the Day," elucidated by brief comments, so condensed that no reader can deem it diffuse, while given sufficiently in detail to satisfy the wants of the average reader. Selections are regularly made from the extensive correspondence of THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE from every country, and its editorials of more practical value are here reproduced. In short, THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE commends itself to millions by ministering to their intellectual wants in a way that they are met by no other journal, with its reports of the State, County, Country, and other Markets, will, of themselves, save the farmer who regularly reads them far more than his journal's price.

For the family circle of the educated farmer or artisan, THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has no superior, as is proved by the hundreds of thousands who, having read it from childhood, still cherish and enjoy it in the prime and on to the down hill of life. We respectfully urge those who know its worth to command THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE to their friends and neighbors; and we offer it to clubs at a price which barely pay the cost of paper and presswork.

HASTY CONSUMPTION CURED BY FELLOWS HYPOPHOSPHITES.
CARBONAR, NEWFOUNDLAND, Jan. 3, 1871.
Mr. JAMES I. FELLOWS.
DEAR SIR: I came to this country in May, 1869. I took the little medicine, who can just read a picture, of the big boys and girls who study at the desk or shout in the playground; and so onwards up to the veterans who, after all their learning, turn to the children for a teacher's wisdom, and after all their work, sit in the shady corner and play the old games over again in their heads. "GOOD THINGS" hopes, as a periodical, to have its margins well thumbed and dog-eared; and when the hander has thumbed those and made it fit for the library, the volume will try for a fixed place there in good company. The avors of a multitude of assorted "goodies" cannot be put into a prospectus, but in

WILL SPEAK FOR ITSELF.
TERMS.—Yearly Subscription, $2.50. Single Number 25 cents, with Lippincott's Magazine $5.50. Librarians Clubbing rates. Specimen Number mailed, postage paid, to any address, on receipt of 20 cents.

GOOD THINGS

GOOD THINGS will address itself to the young of all ages, from the little beginner, who can just read a picture, to the big boys and girls who study at the desk or shout in the playground; and so onwards up to the veterans who, after all their learning, turn to the children for a teacher's wisdom, and after all their work, sit in the shady corner and play the old games over again in their heads. THE FIRST OF JUVENILE PERIODICALS

Will continue to merit its claim of its title to be the "handsomest illustrated paper in the world." New portraits of eminent men equal to those already given of teacher, statesmen, warriors, and others, are in preparation. Bell's own at home and abroad, social and domestic life scenery this and other lands, events of the day, are among the topics which will be illustrated in the best manner by artists as Darley, Herrick, Beard, Dixon, and others. Each number of the paper will contain seven or more finely executed engravings.

In the literary department, Dr. C. S. Robinson, whose oriental sketches have been an acceptable feature of the paper the present year, will furnish a new series, descriptive of life and customs in the East. On the conclusion of John S. C. Abbott's fascinating "History of William the Conqueror," other historical sketches from the same masterly pen will be forthcoming. S. E. Todd will give us designs of medium-priced houses, and show how to build them cheaply. Contributions may also be expected from Dr. Theodor, L. Cuyler, Howard Crosby, J. G. Craik, G. E. Hamilton, J. E. Henslin, Prof. H. M. Baird and W. C. Wilkinson, Jacob Abbott A. L. Noble, M. S. E. L. Baers, Mrs. A. E. Barr, Mrs. M. F. Miller, Mrs. M. A. Denison, and other popular writers.
