

YOUTHS' DEPARTMENT.

MACARONIC LATIN.

A Specimen of it as Written by Dean Swift.

Certain phrases of the style known as Macaronic Latin have had some circulation of late, as "I sabilli hures ago—fortibus es in aro." This stands for: "I say, Billy! here's ago—forty buses in a row."

Dean Swift and his friend, Dr. Sheridan, wrote many such "Latin" squibs, and one of the Dean's reads as follows:

"Mollis abuti,
Has an acuti.
No lasso finis;
Molli divinis.

"O mi de arnis tres
Iam in dis tres;
Cantu disco ver
Meas alo ver!"

This reads in this way:

"Molly's a beauty,
Has an acute eye;
No lass so fine is,
Molly divine is.

"O my dear mistress,
I am in distress;
Can't you discover
Me as a lover?"

Definitions of Pluck.

A London journal asked for a definition of "pluck," and the following are some of the answers received:

Silent endurance coupled with cheerful energy.

The bow from which are shot the arrows of heroism.

Pluck is that spirit in man which fails to understand the meaning of despair.

Fearlessness free from foolhardiness.

The chivalry of nature's knighthood.

That which enables one when fighting against adverse circumstances and knocked down to rise and try another round.

The heart of a lion in the body of a man.

The best remedy for despair.

The force which converts an ordinary man into a hero.

Honest daring without caring.

An iron tonic for invigorating the nerves.

The absence of fear in the presence of danger.

The stuff that heroes are made of.

The courage to do the right thing at the right moment.

Irrepressible stout heartedness.

The indomitable "I will," before which the mountains of fear become molehills.

That which keeps a man up when he's down.

The pulse of enterprise.

The offspring of courage and the mother of success.

Bottled energy, opened by the cork-screw of emergency.

To Prevent the Grip

Or any other similar epidemic, the blood and the whole system should be kept in healthy condition. If you feel worn out or have "that tired feeling" in the morning, do not be guilty of neglect. Give immediate attention to yourself. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla to give strength, purify the blood and prevent disease.

Hood's Pills cure liver ills, jaundice, biliousness, sick headache, constipation.

Be sure it is a mistaken devotion which interferes with the duties of your natural state in life.

It is always better to pass a dozen intended insults without recognition than to take offence at a single unintentional neglect or reflection.

LADIES need have no objection whatever in using Luby's Parisian Hair Renewer, as it will not soil the most delicate head-dress, on the contrary, it is a most favorite toilet dressing, imparting a pleasant perfume and gloss to the hair. No toilet table should be without it. Sold by all chemists.

If you love the people of God, sign the pledge; for drunkenness is the worst enemy the true faith has this day to contend with.

A Happy Orphan. XI

St. John's Asylum, KENTON, KY., Oct. 9, 1890.

In our orphan asylum here there is a 15-year-old child that had been suffering for years from nervousness to such an extent that the oftentimes in the night got up, and with fear depicted on every feature and in a delirious condition, would seek protection among the older people from an imaginary pursuer and could only with great difficulty be again put to bed. Last year Father Koenig while on a visit here happened to observe the child and advised the use of Koenig's Nerve Tonic and kindly furnished us several bottles of it. The first bottle showed a marked improvement and after using the second bottle and up to the present time the child is a happy and contented being. All those suffering from nervousness should seek refuge in Father Koenig's Nerve Tonic.

Last week we had a visit from Mr. J. A. McCarville, of Toronto, who has come to Montreal to establish a branch office of his business. Mr. McCarville is a manufacturers' agent for dry goods, and has his headquarters in this city at the Glenora Building, 1886 Notre Dame street. He represents several of the leading dry goods firms in Europe, as well as many of our best manufacturers in this country. Amongst other European firms that Mr. McCarville represents we might mention that of Alfred Louis, of 15 Mayor street, Manchester, England; also that of Don & Duncan, of Scotland; and the firm of Aubin, Sauvage & Co., of Belgium. We hope that Mr. McCarville will enjoy all the success that his energy and great business qualities so well deserve.

Cercle Ville-Marie.

There was a very large audience present at the Cabinet de Lecture Paroissial Friday night to hear Lieut. Chartrand, of the French army, review the condition and reorganization of France's military forces since 1870. Some humorous details were given of the inner life and habits of the French soldier. The entertainment closed with the one act operetta "A Chely." Senator Tasse presided.

Retreat.

The Archbishop's household, and all the priests connected with the Cathedral, have been on their retreat during the last eight days. The retreat closes on the eve of the Immaculate Conception. In consequence of the retreat there was no reception, as is usual on the first Sunday of the month, at the Archbishop's Palace.

To-day the exercises of the Forty Hours commence at St. Jean de Matha; on Friday, at St. Leonard de Pointe-aux-Lacs; and on Sunday next, at Notre Dame de Bon Conseil.

"The Sunbeam."

Thus speaks The Owl, the Ottawa University magazine, about our little publication for children:—

"THE SUNBEAM, of Montreal, is now in existence for about a year. The number before us is the first we have seen of this journal. Its general appearance prepossesses one in its favor and its contents prove well worth reading. The object of its author is to supply the youth of the country with suitable reading matter and to counteract as much as possible the evil done by the modern novel. We are glad to hear him say that his past efforts have been crowned with abundant success."

C. Y. M. S.

At a special meeting of the Catholic Young Men's Society, held in their hall Friday evening, the following motion was proposed:—

That the society learn with regret of the death of Miss Teresa Sarah McDonald, sister of our beloved officer, Mr. L. F. McDonald, and extend their heartfelt sympathy to the family in their sad bereavement, also that the members attend the funeral in a body and accordingly meet at the hall at 2 p.m. on Sunday, December 4th.
