

INDEX

pays old creditors, 239; refuses banquets in Montreal and Quebec, 240; left to pay his own expenses, 240; unanimously re-elected for the third time, 242; not permitted to take oath, 242; new election ordered, 244; unanimously re-elected for the fourth time, 244; ejected from the House, 245; governor orders that he be allowed to take oath, 248; takes the oath, 251; again ejected from the House, 252; again expelled, 252; first mayor of Toronto, 255; designs city arms, 256; helps cholera patients, 256; takes cholera, 257; defeated for second mayoralty term, 257; forms Canadian Alliance Society, 258; retires from journalism, 259; estimate of him as a journalist, 260; again elected for York, 261; obtains select committee on grievances, 263; obtains committee on Welland Canal, 264; appointed director, 264; anticipates official report of canal committee, 265; sued for libel, 265; report of committee on grievances, 270; urges responsible government, 279; visits Quebec, 287; meets Papineau, 288; opposes British restraint on trade, 292; anticipates reciprocity treaty, 292; defeated for the House, 308; claims the election was unfair, 309-14; insulted by Tory press, 317; his replies, 318; visits New York, 320; starts the Constitution, 320; Declaration of Independence of Upper Canada, 329, 330; meetings at Doel's brewery, 330-2; becomes agent of convention committee, 332; addresses nearly 200 public meetings, 333-8; advises run on Bank of Upper Canada, 340; second meeting at Doel's brewery, 346; urges seizing arms and proclaiming provisional government, 349; drafts constitution 355; organizes rebellion, 359; warrant out for his arrest, 360; tries to correct Rolph's mistake, 361; his advice disregarded, 362; starts for the city, 363; again proposes to march on the city, 366; meets Head's flag of truce, 367, 368; urges Lount to march into the city, 371; battle of Montgomery's farm, 379; a ransom offered for, 380; account of his escape, 381 et seq.; addresses Buffalo audience, 411; meets Van Rensselaer, 412; Head seeks his extradition, 414; occupies Navy Island, 415; president of provisional government, 416; arrested at Buffalo, 424; threats of assassination, 428; abandons Van Rensselaer, 428; exonerated by Van Rensselaer, 430; visits New York and Philadelphia, 433; starts Mackenzie's Gazette, 433; no connection with later frontier movements, 439, 444, 446; moves to Rochester, 448; forms Association of Canadian Refugees, 448; tried for breach of neutrality laws, 452; found guilty, 454;