HESEMBLES CANADIA

Col. Dennis Corrects Several False Impressions Regarding the Country.

TRADE OPPORTUNITIES

Great Chances for Young Canadians Who Go There in One Capacity or Another.

Ottawa, Sept. 11.-That popular ideas as to the climate and resources of Siberia, where a Canadian force will shortly be fighting in the cause of the allies are incorrect, was one of a number of interesting statements made in regard to that country by Col. Dennis. head of the C.P.R. department of na-.. 70 tural resources, who is in the capital on government business.

"The climate of Siberia, speaking generally," said the colonel, "is not as severe as that of Manitoba. It rather resembles that of northern Alberta." Col. Dennis, who for some years has studied the economic possibilities of three-year-olds and up, one mile:

Opportunity for Canadians.
Col. Dennis quoted the words of an intelligent Russian business man be-fore the revolution. "We are," said the Russian, "in the condition that your Canada was before British colonization in the northwest, with the additional advantage of being even a richer country."

"This promising country," Col. Dennis observed, "bade fair before the war to be seized by the Germans, whose commercial travelers swarmed thruout the country, pushing German manufactures. American interests have shown activity, and the British merchants have shown some enter-prise. The country so resembles Canada that there is a great opportunity for trade along certain lines. I am much impressed with the opportunities which will be offered to young men who go from Canada to Siberia in one capacity or another, and acquire the knowledge of conditions and some acquaintance with the language."
