

NEWS OF THE FILM FAVORITES AT THE LOCAL THEATRES

MATINEE 2:15, 10c, 15c. PATRICIA NIGHT AT 7 and 9 15c, 25c.
PHONE 70 FOR SEAT RESERVATIONS.

TODAY—THE MILLIONAIRE AUTHOR-ACTOR
Geo. M. Cohan in "Hit the Trail Holliday"

The "Billy Sunday" story of the screen

JUDGE WILLIS BROWN'S STORY

Vaudeville, Three Misses Westons, the Dainty Musical Maids.

MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY

Jack Pickford "Mile-a-Minute Kendall"
Louise Huff

Just as swift as the name implies. You're bound to be right when you go to see this thrilling laugh-maker.

MUTT AND JEFF

JAMES MONTGOMERY FLAGG'S

Cartoon Comedy

"Girls You Know"

VAUDEVILLE

The Vesuvian Quintet Classy Singing and Musical Act

THURSDAY, FRIDAY, SATURDAY

FIRST TIME AT POPULAR PRICES

Annette Kellerman

IN THE PICTURE BEAUTIFUL

"A Daughter of the Gods" in 10 parts.

JANE AND KATHARINE LEE and Twenty-One Thousand Others.

NO ADVANCE IN PRICES!

Vaudeville--The Cycling McNutts A Real Big Time Act.

ATTRACTIONS AT THE THEATRES

MAJESTIC

TODAY—Wallace Reid in "Less Than Kin." "Two Tough Tenderloins." Irene Delorey in songs.
MONDAY, TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY—Next Week—Elsie Ferguson in "The Danger Mark."
THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY—Next Week—Constance Talmadge in "Up the Road With Sallie."

PATRICIA

TODAY—Geo. M. Cohan in "Hit the Trail Holliday." "Three Weston Sisters." The Dainty Musical Maids.
MONDAY, TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY—Jack Pickford and Louise Huff in "Mile-a-Minute Kendall." Vaudeville, The Vesuvian Quintet, class singers and musicians, Mutt and Jeff, James Montgomery Flagg's "Girls You Know."
THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY—Annette Kellerman in "A Daughter of the Gods." Vaudeville, The Cycling McNutts, Judge Brown Story.

PATRICIA

George M. Cohan in "Hit the Trail Holliday," at the Patricia today. There are several remarkable Teutonic types in "Hit the Trail Holliday," the Arctcraft picture starring George M. Cohan, which is to be presented at the Patricia Theatre today. These represent the brewery element which figures in the story, and Marshall Nellan, the director, had to do considerable scouting about before he obtained the men he wanted. Some of the men objected to playing German roles, but when they realized that it was necessary in the interests of art to do so, they readily agreed to do anything Mr. Nellan demanded of them.

Jack Pickford and Louise Huff in "Mile-a-Minute Kendall," at the Patricia Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Admirers of Jack Pickford and Louise Huff will gather in force at the Patricia Theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next, when their latest Paramount picture, "Mile-a-Minute Kendall," will have its initial presentation in this city. In this superb picture, which is a famous stage success by Owen Davis, Jack Pickford has one of the finest roles in his career as cinema star. Mutt and Jeff makes the most of it. The story is essentially dramatic, the situations being strong, but relieved by wholesome comedy. In Mr. Pickford's support in this picture is his sister Lottie, who is seen for the first time in a Paramount picture with her illustrious brother.

The Vesuvian Quintet at the Patricia Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Vesuvian Quintet, one of the finest musical and singing acts in vaudeville, coming direct from "Lovers," Toronto, will be the vaudeville attraction at the Patricia Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Special scenery is carried for this act.

Annette Kellerman in "A Daughter of the Gods," showing at the Patricia Theatre next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

William Fox's wonderfully pictured story of "A Daughter of the Gods," with Annette Kellerman posing, acting, swimming and diving, will be shown at the Patricia Theatre next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

An audience, distinguished by President Wilson and party, filled the theatre and not infrequently gave expression of pleasure enjoyed from the beautiful spectacle.

Miss Kellerman, beautiful to behold, and the numerous scenes of the Caribbean Island, where the picture was filmed, divided the admiration of the audience. The director displayed the rare good judgment of having the form of Miss Kellerman exhibited in all its loveliness in at least three-fourths of the ten-reel film.

Admission, too, was accorded the excellent work of William E. Shay, as Omar, the prince; Hal de Forest, as the sultan; Violet Homer, as Zarr, the conspiring favorite of the sultan, and Jane and Katherine Lee, the wonderfully talented children.

The fantasy was additionally attractive by the injection of the human touch to the mythical land of romances, wherein the midjet residents displayed grown-up knowledge by vigorously applauding the remarkable feat of swimming and diving by Miss Kellerman.

ONE OF MISS KELLERMAN'S MOST EFFECTIVE ORIENTAL POSES IN WILLIAM FOX'S MILLION DOLLAR PICTURE BEAUTIFUL, "A DAUGHTER OF THE GODS." Showing at the Patricia Theatre next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

JACK PICKFORD in "Mile-a-Minute Kendall" A Paramount Picture

LOVE STORY BLENDS WITH STUPENDOUS SCENES SHOWN IN "HEARTS OF THE WORLD"

D. W. Griffith's Supreme Achievement in Motion Picture Productions To Be Shown at the Majestic Theatre Soon.

"Hearts of the World," the supreme triumph of D. W. Griffith, to be presented at the Majestic Theatre soon, inaugurates a new era in the realm of the screen drama. Here, with the great war as a background, Mr. Griffith has filmed a simple little love story, old as the ages, yet ever new. "Hearts of the World" has proven the latest sensation in the screen world. Mr. Griffith realized that the public which became enthusiastic over "The Birth of a Nation" and "Intolerance" would expect something big from him in this latest picture, and therefore, instead of trying to outdo himself in staging gigantic battle scenes, he used the great war only as a background for the filming of a simple and attractive story of tremendous human interest.

"Hearts of the World" shows a happy, peaceful life of the people of a small village before the grim horror of war reared its ugly head over the horizon. The causes that led up to the war are shown; the meeting of the English Parliament on the evening of the day when the vote was cast for war; the session of the French Senate voting upon the declaration of war; the session of the cabinet awaiting the fatal hour when the ultimatum to Germany would expire. These scenes come as a picture; then the great drama begins when the German hordes enter France.

In taking the battle pictures for the assistance and co-operation of the British war office. It is the opinion of all who have seen "Hearts of the World" that Mr. Griffith has outdone his own best achievements and has established a new artistic record which it will take years and years for someone else to equal. If, indeed, such a thing is possible. Special augmented orchestra of 25 pieces.

WALLACE REID in "Less Than Kin" A Paramount Picture

At the Majestic today in his most brilliant photoplay. Extra added attraction, a Mack Sennett comedy, "Two Tough Tenderloins."

ELSIE FERGUSON in "The Danger Mark" An Arctcraft Picture

At the Majestic Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the beautiful Arctcraft star, Elsie Ferguson, in the triumph of her career.

MAJESTIC THE THEATRE THE SHOW THE ORCHESTRA

The Greatest Stars in the Greatest Productions

TODAY--The Popular Actor of the Screen

WALLACE REID in his latest and best comedy "Less Than Kin"
Sensational Auto Race. Whirlwind of Lively Comedy. Bright, Breezy and Startling Climax.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday

THE BEAUTIFUL ARCTCRAFT STAR

Elsie Ferguson

W. CHAMBERS' FAMOUS NOVEL

"The DANGER MARK"

THE LOVE OF A WOMAN IS MATCHED AGAINST AN INHERITED CURSE, AND LOVE CONQUERS

Thursday, Friday and Saturday

THE CAPTIVATING COMEDIENNE

CONSTANCE TALMADGE

"Up the Road With Sallie"

Rainstorm, Smallpox, Burglars, Spooks, Laughs Galore and Thrills for Paprika—She Smiles Through It All and So Will You.

The Pick of the Silent Art.
ALL HEADLINE ATTRACTIONS

DOORS OPEN

Afternoon, 1:30; Show, 2:15. Evenings, 6:45; Shows, 7:10 and 9:00.

THE BEST IN LAUGHS—Paramount, Mack Sennett Comedies, Sunning and Lonesome Luke Comedies. All the World's Latest News Weeklies.

Majestic Concert Orchestra Augmented, 10 Pieces—Leadership, Mr. Joseph Tiri

MAJESTIC

Some of the World's Most Famous Attractions Coming to the Majestic.

"The Pick of the Silent Art."

D. W. Griffith's supreme triumph, "Hearts of the World."

Enrico Caruso, the world's most famous tenor in an elaborate production.

Cecil R. de Mille's masterpiece, "We Can't Have Everything."

Elsie Ferguson, in "The Danger Mark."

Constance Talmadge, in "Up the Road With Sallie."

Douglas Fairbanks, in "Bound in Morocco."

Charles Ray, in "A Nine O'Clock Town."

Billy Burke, in "The Pursuit of Polly."

Norma Talmadge, in "The Safety Curtain."

William S. Hart, in "Riddle Gawne."

Cecil R. de Mille's production, "Paths of Glory."

"Beach Nuts" Featuring Toto, the Funniest of All Funny Comedians, at the Majestic Theatre Next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

It is a first-rate fast-moving made for laughing purposes only. Of course, there isn't the sign of a plot on the horizon, but Toto and a bunch of pretty girls put a lot of pep into this feature, which will be a whizz-bang as a mid-summer show's bright spot no matter how strong you play it. At the Majestic Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Beautiful Elsie Ferguson, appearing at the Majestic Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, in "The Danger Mark."

An inherited taste for intoxicants is a handicap that ought to terrify a strong man, but when the victim is a beautiful, wealthy, cultured young woman, it attains to the proportions of a tragedy, unless she succeeds in mastering her passion in time.

This is the situation presented in "The Danger Mark," a pictureization for Paramount of Robert W. Chambers' famous novel, starring beautiful Elsie Ferguson, which is to be shown at the Majestic Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Geraldine Besgrave, the character portrayed by Miss Ferguson, is a young woman of wealth and refinement, who has inherited with her brother, the vast estate of her dissipated grandfather. She is quite unconscious that she also has inherited her ancestor's taste for intoxicants, but her friends suspect it when they learn that she has formed the habit of dipping sugar into cognac and eating it with avidity. She then drinks champagne, and of course, gets intoxicated. Her condition is observed by only one man—the man who loves her and who would give up his life to shelter her from disgrace.

The desire for drink gradually is assuming full control over her when the young woman exerts her will power and banishes the drink demon that threatens to ruin her life and happiness. This is accomplished through the agency of a diamond ring given her by her sweet-heart, the flashing of which recalls to her mind a solemn promise made by her to him, to think of him whenever the desire to drink seizes her. There is an attractive love story, the development of which is prolific of numerous thrills. Miss Ferguson is admirably supported throughout.

Constance Talmadge, in Her Newest Photoplay, "Up the Road With Sallie," Showing at the Majestic Theatre Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

"Up the Road With Sallie," featuring Constance Talmadge, will be the attraction at the Majestic Theatre next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. It was adapted by Julia Crawford Ives

from the successful novel of the same name by Frances Sturtevant, directed by William D. Taylor, and is one of Miss Talmadge's "Select Pictures," in which she is presented by Lewis J. Selznick.

As Sallie Waters, this captivating comedienne has a role, in which her delightful vivacity and charm are given free rein. She inherits five thousand dollars along with other legacies unknown to her; the one who makes best use of his portion of the inheritance is to receive the balance of the estate. Sallie kidnaps her aged and dignified aunt in her automobile, but when a storm comes up, they take refuge in a deserted house. There, however, they discover two young men; Sallie recognizes the ring one of them is wearing as having belonged to her late uncle, and suspects that they are burglars who have broken into this house for refuge. When Sallie flourishes her roll of bills, the young men also suspect her of having come to this out-of-the-way place for a similar purpose.

When the sheriff arrives and quarantines them, each group believes its suspicions confirmed. Finally the owner of the house appears, and their true identities are revealed, making a surprising and unexpected denouement.

Constance Talmadge, in Her Newest Photoplay, "Up the Road With Sallie," Showing at the Majestic Theatre Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

"Up the Road With Sallie," featuring Constance Talmadge, will be the attraction at the Majestic Theatre next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. It was adapted by Julia Crawford Ives

from the successful novel of the same name by Frances Sturtevant, directed by William D. Taylor, and is one of Miss Talmadge's "Select Pictures," in which she is presented by Lewis J. Selznick.

As Sallie Waters, this captivating comedienne has a role, in which her delightful vivacity and charm are given free rein. She inherits five thousand dollars along with other legacies unknown to her; the one who makes best use of his portion of the inheritance is to receive the balance of the estate. Sallie kidnaps her aged and dignified aunt in her automobile, but when a storm comes up, they take refuge in a deserted house. There, however, they discover two young men; Sallie recognizes the ring one of them is wearing as having belonged to her late uncle, and suspects that they are burglars who have broken into this house for refuge. When Sallie flourishes her roll of bills, the young men also suspect her of having come to this out-of-the-way place for a similar purpose.

When the sheriff arrives and quarantines them, each group believes its suspicions confirmed. Finally the owner of the house appears, and their true identities are revealed, making a surprising and unexpected denouement.

Constance Talmadge, in Her Newest Photoplay, "Up the Road With Sallie," Showing at the Majestic Theatre Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

"Up the Road With Sallie," featuring Constance Talmadge, will be the attraction at the Majestic Theatre next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. It was adapted by Julia Crawford Ives

from the successful novel of the same name by Frances Sturtevant, directed by William D. Taylor, and is one of Miss Talmadge's "Select Pictures," in which she is presented by Lewis J. Selznick.

As Sallie Waters, this captivating comedienne has a role, in which her delightful vivacity and charm are given free rein. She inherits five thousand dollars along with other legacies unknown to her; the one who makes best use of his portion of the inheritance is to receive the balance of the estate. Sallie kidnaps her aged and dignified aunt in her automobile, but when a storm comes up, they take refuge in a deserted house. There, however, they discover two young men; Sallie recognizes the ring one of them is wearing as having belonged to her late uncle, and suspects that they are burglars who have broken into this house for refuge. When Sallie flourishes her roll of bills, the young men also suspect her of having come to this out-of-the-way place for a similar purpose.

When the sheriff arrives and quarantines them, each group believes its suspicions confirmed. Finally the owner of the house appears, and their true identities are revealed, making a surprising and unexpected denouement.

Constance Talmadge, in Her Newest Photoplay, "Up the Road With Sallie," Showing at the Majestic Theatre Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

"Up the Road With Sallie," featuring Constance Talmadge, will be the attraction at the Majestic Theatre next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. It was adapted by Julia Crawford Ives

from the successful novel of the same name by Frances Sturtevant, directed by William D. Taylor, and is one of Miss Talmadge's "Select Pictures," in which she is presented by Lewis J. Selznick.

As Sallie Waters, this captivating comedienne has a role, in which her delightful vivacity and charm are given free rein. She inherits five thousand dollars along with other legacies unknown to her; the one who makes best use of his portion of the inheritance is to receive the balance of the estate. Sallie kidnaps her aged and dignified aunt in her automobile, but when a storm comes up, they take refuge in a deserted house. There, however, they discover two young men; Sallie recognizes the ring one of them is wearing as having belonged to her late uncle, and suspects that they are burglars who have broken into this house for refuge. When Sallie flourishes her roll of bills, the young men also suspect her of having come to this out-of-the-way place for a similar purpose.

When the sheriff arrives and quarantines them, each group believes its suspicions confirmed. Finally the owner of the house appears, and their true identities are revealed, making a surprising and unexpected denouement.

Constance Talmadge, in Her Newest Photoplay, "Up the Road With Sallie," Showing at the Majestic Theatre Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

"Up the Road With Sallie," featuring Constance Talmadge, will be the attraction at the Majestic Theatre next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. It was adapted by Julia Crawford Ives

from the successful novel of the same name by Frances Sturtevant, directed by William D. Taylor, and is one of Miss Talmadge's "Select Pictures," in which she is presented by Lewis J. Selznick.

As Sallie Waters, this captivating comedienne has a role, in which her delightful vivacity and charm are given free rein. She inherits five thousand dollars along with other legacies unknown to her; the one who makes best use of his portion of the inheritance is to receive the balance of the estate. Sallie kidnaps her aged and dignified aunt in her automobile, but when a storm comes up, they take refuge in a deserted house. There, however, they discover two young men; Sallie recognizes the ring one of them is wearing as having belonged to her late uncle, and suspects that they are burglars who have broken into this house for refuge. When Sallie flourishes her roll of bills, the young men also suspect her of having come to this out-of-the-way place for a similar purpose.

When the sheriff arrives and quarantines them, each group believes its suspicions confirmed. Finally the owner of the house appears, and their true identities are revealed, making a surprising and unexpected denouement.

Constance Talmadge, in Her Newest Photoplay, "Up the Road With Sallie," Showing at the Majestic Theatre Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

"Up the Road With Sallie," featuring Constance Talmadge, will be the attraction at the Majestic Theatre next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. It was adapted by Julia Crawford Ives

from the successful novel of the same name by Frances Sturtevant, directed by William D. Taylor, and is one of Miss Talmadge's "Select Pictures," in which she is presented by Lewis J. Selznick.

As Sallie Waters, this captivating comedienne has a role, in which her delightful vivacity and charm are given free rein. She inherits five thousand dollars along with other legacies unknown to her; the one who makes best use of his portion of the inheritance is to receive the balance of the estate. Sallie kidnaps her aged and dignified aunt in her automobile, but when a storm comes up, they take refuge in a deserted house. There, however, they discover two young men; Sallie recognizes the ring one of them is wearing as having belonged to her late uncle, and suspects that they are burglars who have broken into this house for refuge. When Sallie flourishes her roll of bills, the young men also suspect her of having come to this out-of-the-way place for a similar purpose.

When the sheriff arrives and quarantines them, each group believes its suspicions confirmed. Finally the owner of the house appears, and their true identities are revealed, making a surprising and unexpected denouement.

Constance Talmadge, in Her Newest Photoplay, "Up the Road With Sallie," Showing at the Majestic Theatre Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

"Up the Road With Sallie," featuring Constance Talmadge, will be the attraction at the Majestic Theatre next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. It was adapted by Julia Crawford Ives

from the successful novel of the same name by Frances Sturtevant, directed by William D. Taylor, and is one of Miss Talmadge's "Select Pictures," in which she is presented by Lewis J. Selznick.

As Sallie Waters, this captivating comedienne has a role, in which her delightful vivacity and charm are given free rein. She inherits five thousand dollars along with other legacies unknown to her; the one who makes best use of his portion of the inheritance is to receive the balance of the estate. Sallie kidnaps her aged and dignified aunt in her automobile, but when a storm comes up, they take refuge in a deserted house. There, however, they discover two young men; Sallie recognizes the ring one of them is wearing as having belonged to her late uncle, and suspects that they are burglars who have broken into this house for refuge. When Sallie flourishes her roll of bills, the young men also suspect her of having come to this out-of-the-way place for a similar purpose.

When the sheriff arrives and quarantines them, each group believes its suspicions confirmed. Finally the owner of the house appears, and their true identities are revealed, making a surprising and unexpected denouement.

Constance Talmadge, in Her Newest Photoplay, "Up the Road With Sallie," Showing at the Majestic Theatre Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

"Up the Road With Sallie," featuring Constance Talmadge, will be the attraction at the Majestic Theatre next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. It was adapted by Julia Crawford Ives

from the successful novel of the same name by Frances Sturtevant, directed by William D. Taylor, and is one of Miss Talmadge's "Select Pictures," in which she is presented by Lewis J. Selznick.

As Sallie Waters, this captivating comedienne has a role, in which her delightful vivacity and charm are given free rein. She inherits five thousand dollars along with other legacies unknown to her; the one who makes best use of his portion of the inheritance is to receive the balance of the estate. Sallie kidnaps her aged and dignified aunt in her automobile, but when a storm comes up, they take refuge in a deserted house. There, however, they discover two young men; Sallie recognizes the ring one of them is wearing as having belonged to her late uncle, and suspects that they are burglars who have broken into this house for refuge. When Sallie flourishes her roll of bills, the young men also suspect her of having come to this out-of-the-way place for a similar purpose.

When the sheriff arrives and quarantines them, each group believes its suspicions confirmed. Finally the owner of the house appears, and their true identities are revealed, making a surprising and unexpected denouement.

Constance Talmadge, in Her Newest Photoplay, "Up the Road With Sallie," Showing at the Majestic Theatre Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

"Up the Road With Sallie," featuring Constance Talmadge, will be the attraction at the Majestic Theatre next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. It was adapted by Julia Crawford Ives

from the successful novel of the same name by Frances Sturtevant, directed by William D. Taylor, and is one of Miss Talmadge's "Select Pictures," in which she is presented by Lewis J. Selznick.

As Sallie Waters, this captivating comedienne has a role, in which her delightful vivacity and charm are given free rein. She inherits five thousand dollars along with other legacies unknown to her; the one who makes best use of his portion of the inheritance is to receive the balance of the estate. Sallie kidnaps her aged and dignified aunt in her automobile, but when a storm comes up, they take refuge in a deserted house. There, however, they discover two young men; Sallie recognizes the ring one of them is wearing as having belonged to her late uncle, and suspects that they are burglars who have broken into this house for refuge. When Sallie flourishes her roll of bills, the young men also suspect her of having come to this out-of-the-way place for a similar purpose.

When the sheriff arrives and quarantines them, each group believes its suspicions confirmed. Finally the owner of the house appears, and their true identities are revealed, making a surprising and unexpected denouement.

Constance Talmadge, in Her Newest Photoplay, "Up the Road With Sallie," Showing at the Majestic Theatre Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

"Up the Road With Sallie," featuring Constance Talmadge, will be the attraction at the Majestic Theatre next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. It was adapted by Julia Crawford Ives

CHEW KING GEORGE'S NAVY PLUG TOBACCO and enjoy its lingering flavor
15¢

JANE AND KATHARINE LEE
Appearing with Annette Kellerman in "A Daughter of the Gods" at the Patricia next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Douglas Fairbanks, the famous screen star and athlete, coming to the Majestic soon in his latest comedy success, "Bound in Morocco."

KEEP YOUR SHOES NEAT

WHITE SHOE DRESSING

For Men's, Women's and Children's Shoes
White Liquid White Cake

THE F. F. DALLEY CORPORATION, LIMITED, HAMILTON, ONT.