THE ALBERTA CRISIS

Papers Brought Down, But Press Can't See Them.

EDMONTON, Alta., Feb. 23.—(Spe- cial.)—At to-day's session of the legis- lature, the remaining papers in con- nection with the Alberta Crisis Great Waterways Bill were tabled by the premier. The government also tabled Cushing's original specifications for the route which had been turned down.

Cushing's letter, proving that he was not present when the Alberta & Great Waterways plans were adopted by the cabinet, was also tabled.

The press was refused permission to examine the files of the deputy at- torney-general on his resolution. Boyle asked for an adjournment till Friday, when Cushing will speak first.

OBITUARY.

At Medford, Mass.—Prof. Amos Dol- bear, widely known as the inventor of the automatic telephone and telephone ap- plications.

At London, Eng.—Arthur Fraser Wal- ter, at one time chief proprietor of The London Times, and more recently chair- man of the board of directors of the company which purchased the paper.

At Bridgeburg—C. S. Jackson, a resi- dent for 20 years, aged 55.

William Boyle, one of the oldest resi- dents of the city, died yesterday at the home of his daughter, Miss Boyle, 3 Ann-street, at the age of 90 years. He was born in County Antrim, Ireland, in 1820, and came to Canada in 1841, settling in Hamilton, and later living in Durha Bend. He is survived by three daughters and two sons.

Miss S. N. Lawrence, founder of the Kitchener Mission in British Co- lumbia, died yesterday at the residence of Mr. Hughes, 25 St. James' avenue, after an illness of 11 years of creeping paralysis. She was 70 years of age and was the first white woman to visit the natives of British Columbia. In- terment will take place at Colingwood.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier will be one of the principal speakers at the national convention of the Educational Associa- tion of the Roman Catholic Church in Detroit July 4-7.

James D. Thompson, registrar of Frontenac, is critically ill from stom- ach trouble and paralysis. He is an ex-mayor of Kingston.

Donation Parole Officer A. C. Field, formerly brigadier in the Salvation Army, is seriously ill at Ottawa with typhoid.

Ships That Don't

Many a man is waiting for his ship to come in when really it has not yet left port—and many another is expecting one upon which the keel has not yet been laid.

If You are expecting things that don't arrive—your business isn't prospering—and you're down in the mouth generally—ten to one it's your own fault.

Revamp--look into things

If your proposition is right—it's an even bet that your advertising is wrong.

Start your craft on an even keel and call for the ship's doctor.

Archibald Gray, C.P.R. brakeman, is seriously injured.

Archibald Gray had a narrow escape from death at Bolton last yesterday afternoon, when he stumbled and fell under a moving train. He sustained two severe scalp wounds, had his leg broken and part of his foot was crushed.

Gray is a brakeman in the employ of the Canadian Pacific. He ran toward the train to go between the cars to uncouple them, but stumbled in a snowdrift and went underneath. After being attended in Bolton he was brought to Toronto and taken to the Western Hospital. He is 30 years of age and lives in West Toronto.

NEW KIND OF SOPRANO.

Anything that is forgotten in the way of sturdiness by the author of the short story, "The Chosen Instrument" (Every- body's Magazine), will be the leading fea- ture of the new book, "Tower of Ivory," which makes "revelations" concerning the production of a new kind of soprano with a shady past—Musical Courier.

"The Chosen Instrument" is by Samuel Hopkins Adams, and is a very excellent musical story, and contains a very beau- tiful interpretation of the meaning of the final lines of Browning's "Prospect." But this aside, what kind of a voice is "soprano with a shady past"? Was es ist, Mein Herr Blumenberg?

Ordered to Hospital

FOR OPERATION FOR ACUTE IN- DIGESTION—DID NOT GO AND WAS CURED BY

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY LIVER PILLS

A medicine that will save one from a surgical operation must be worth while.

The doctors seem to have made the common mistake of doing the stom- ach when the real source of trouble was with the liver and kidneys. Any- way Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills made a complete cure and here is the record:

Mrs. F. O. Bacon, Baldwin's Mills, Que., writes: "I was very sick and the doctors said I must go to the hos- pital for a surgical operation. I had acute indigestion and the liver and kidneys did not act. I did not want to undergo an operation, so I began the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills and have used them ever since."

"I am feeling well now, and can think of no work for a family of seven. I think there is no equal for acute indigestion and liver and kidney trou- bles such as I had and they nothing else made me well again. There is no medicine I like half so well, for this did wonders for me."

The real serious cases of indigestion almost always have their location in the bowels and can only be reached by making the liver and kidneys active. No medicine regulates the liver, kid- neys and bowels so nicely and so promptly as Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, all druggists, or J. H. Macdonald, 100, Dundas-st. W., Toronto. Do not be satisfied with a substitute or you will be disappointed.

Public Amusements

"Three Twins" Next Week.

"Three Twins," the musical adapta- tion of the time mellowed farce "In- cense," comes to the Princess next Mon- day for a week's engagement. It has the backing of clever complications of the original plot, a jolly impostor mak- ing up as an extra twin, and of the singing and dancing of a capable com- pany. Heading the cast is Clifton Crawford, who keeps the fun in mo- tion through the two acts of the beach at Sea View, and at Dr. Hartman's sanatorium, and the monolog which is introduced into his first act, the abili- ties as an actor outside the role of Tom Stanhope. Brilliant Mayme Ge- ruel, of musical comedy fame, is the Yama girl. The plot, to which the mu- sical plot adheres closely in the first act, narrates the fortunes of twin brothers, one married to a lachrymose woman, the other engaged to a girl who is continually laughing. Incident- ally, she is careless, and the wrong moment drops a picture which serves as the model for the make-up of the adventurous lover. The music, which was contributed by J. M. Hasbina, is bright and tuneful, well suited to the hilarious mood of the piece.

Blanche Bates.

The advent of a Blanche Bates pro- duction is always an occasion of marked importance. It is therefore a matter of especial interest to the intelligent class of theatregoers that Miss Bates, the Bates, foremost among the emotional stars of the day, will be seen in the successful Blanche Bates production "The Fighting Hope," a play of American life by W. J. Hurlbut, at the Royal Alexandra Theatre, for one week be- ginning next Monday night, with mat- inees on Thursday and Saturday. Miss Bates has endeavored herself to the public in such plays as "The Girl of the Golden West," and "The Darling of the Gods," and prior to that in her portrayal of Cho Cho San in "Madame Butterfly." The new play, "The Fighting Hope," is widely different in story and locale. It is modern in every sense of the word, and Miss Bates in it appears for the first time, on the stage in several years, in modern garb.

Charley Grapewin.

Charley Grapewin will appear at the Grand next week in a new play, "Above the Limit," the funniest he has ever had. The principal character is Jimmy Hicks, a poor boy of the slums, with an incessant flow of slang. Jimmy meets a wealthy girl and falls in love with her, but realizing the difference between them, makes up his mind to gain an education. He goes into a business office and during that time Jimmy succeeds in accomplishing his object. He returns to America, a polished gen- tleman, meets the woman who has been the inspiration of all his labors and ambition and presses his suit for her hand. She, realizing the innate strength and manhood of the man, falls in love with him and all ends happily. The play is a strong plot and Jimmy proves himself a hero and diplo- mat on several occasions.

Next Week at Shea's.

One of the most attractive and pleas- ing shows of the season will be seen at Shea's Theatre next week, headed by Eleanor Gordon and company, in one of the best sketches of the year, en- titled "Taps and Taps."

Included in next week's big bill are Willard Simms and company, in "Flin- ders' Furnished Flat," a farce, starring comedienne, Aerial Smith, trapeze artists; Dore Sisters, dainty vocalists; Wilson Bros. in "Nonsenseland"; Kauf- man Bros., tuneful originalities; the Rex Comedy Circus and the kine- scope.

New Majestic Music Hall.

Cliff Gordon, the "German Politician" comedienne, whose almost everybody knows, will be the leading feature of next week's vaudeville bill at the New Majestic Music Hall. His humor is quaint, his stories wholesome and en- tertaining, and his parodies amusing. A feature of his monologue is his "campaign speech," dealing with cur- rent topics and the advancement of civilization, which he said to be ex- tending to the "Taps and Taps." Included in next week's bill are Willard Simms and company, in "Flin- ders' Furnished Flat," a farce, starring comedienne, Aerial Smith, trapeze artists; Dore Sisters, dainty vocalists; Wilson Bros. in "Nonsenseland"; Kauf- man Bros., tuneful originalities; the Rex Comedy Circus and the kine- scope.

Gaiety Extravaganza Company.

Rice and Barton's Big Gaiety Ex- travaganza Company coming to the Gayety next week, is still the record breaker in this line of entertainment. Reported from other cities tell of the wonderful business done by this or- ganization and of its artistic triumph. The company is bigger and better than ever this season and abounds in real novelty. Charles Barton, big, hearty and good natured, as usual—heads the clever list of comedians, and the chorus leaves nothing to be desired.

Harry Montague's Fashion Plates.

Pretty girls, and prettier costumes with a specially selected company of talented artists and comedians is the foundation of the success of Harry Montague's (new) "Fashion Plates" this season. An entirely new company and equipment is offered by this merry bunch of boulevardiers, and when they open at the Star Theatre next week, an innovation is promised. Harry Montague is a playwright and player of great experience and ability, and as a manager he has blossomed forth with the real goods, and will offer a high class show in the roaring comedy "My Uncle." This play is a real "Fashion Plate" offering, teeming with mirth, merriment and originality. Lillian Keeley, the leading lady, has a remarkably charming personality, and is one of the recognized beauties of the burlesque stage.

Portland Cement Directors.

At the annual meeting of the Na- tional Portland Cement Co., Limited, in the Temple Building yesterday, the following were elected directors: H. Hoyle, M.L.A.; R. H. McWilliams; Owen Sound; William Scott; Listowel; J. H. McKay; Woodstock; W. Dyer; St. Thomas; Mr. McKeown, St. Catharines; and William A. Colder, Durham. The last named is the only new director. The directors will elect a president to-day.

President Shaughnessy says that the C.P.R. is "unusually happy" to use Long Sault dam project because of its danger to St. Lawrence navigation.

May Have Big Parade.

A move is on foot to have sympath- izers of the striking street railway em- ployees parade peacefully to the city hall, 130,000 strong, and thereby show the mayor and other officials the gigan- tic proportions of the threatened uprising, should it later be decided to call out these men.

The decision not to have this army of workers engage in the struggle at present, was due to Organizer Clarence G. Pratt of the Street Carriers' Union. He pointed out to Murphy that the time was not opportune.

There are some unions that would not agree to a general sympathetic strike; it is said, because it would in- volve the breaking of hard won trade agreements with employers, who are innocent parties in the present trou- ble.

Six Years for One.

The hand of the law pressed hard to-day on some of the men and boys who have been arrested for rioting. Elwood Carr, alleged to have been a ringleader in a riot in the Kensington district, was sentenced to six years in the county prison, John Kline, who had scarcely understood English, and Ellis Atkins were given two year sen- tences.

That the attacks on trolley cars in the northeastern section were in a number of cases planned by a gang of boys is shown by the ante-mortem statement made last night by one of the youths shot in yesterday's rioting. It is stated that he said that he was employed at a factory. On Monday, he stated, three of the boys of the fac- tory formed themselves into a commit- tee, and went around among the other employees and got boys to the number of 150 to agree to meet and make a com- bined attack on trolley cars and on the men who were running them.

WARRANT FOR PHYSICIAN

Result of Finding of Strychnine in Professor's Remains.

KIRKSHIRE, Mo., Feb. 23.—A warrant charging Dr. C. H. Hull of Monroe City with murdering Prof. J. T. Vaughn by strychnine poisoning was issued to-night at the request of Prosecuting Attorney Baker.

Dr. Hull is in Montgomery City. He was the Vaughn family physician. He was found in the stomach and the liver, ac- cording to a report made to-day by Dr. Vaughn, who was a brother under arma. The Vaughns were married on June 10, 1901. Their home life was believed to be happy.

The result of the analysis comes as an unpleasant truth to Mrs. Vaughn, who has contended from the first that her husband's death was from natural causes, and because of that belief, she asserted, she was greatly opposed to a chemical analysis of the organs. When the efforts of herself and counsel to avert an exam- ination proved unavailing, she obtained a ruling from the court that a toxicologist of her own choosing should take part in the examination.

Mrs. Vaughn was Miss Alma Proctor, daughter of John Proctor, bank direc- tor, and a foremost and wealthy citizen of Monroe City, in an adjoining county. She is a niece of Dr. Thomas Proctor, president of the Monroe City Bank, and one of the wealthiest men of this region. Prof. Vaughn was 52 years old, much the senior of his wife.

Prof. Vaughn had an estate valued at $30,000, and had life insurance of $1000. The Vaughns were married on June 10, 1901. Their home life was believed to be happy.

EDWARDS FEARS INFLUENCE OF QUEBEC

"Will the hon. gentleman rise in al- place and say that this book does not preach the foundation of a French re- public?"

Mr. Roy: It is only a romance.

Dr. Beland asked when this book was made public, and on Dr. Edwards' reply, he said that when the Conservatives were in power.

Dr. Edwards: I don't care whether the Conservatives or Liberals were in power. I object to this being published in Quebec at the public expense.

Dr. Beland asked if Dr. Edwards was aware that Mercier (then premier of Quebec) had got $10,000 for Toronto University when that building was de- stroyed by fire.

Dr. Edwards said he did not know anything about that. He knew, how- ever, that Mercier had talked sedition and treason. He had stated publicly, "The French-Canadians owe nothing to England. They have prospered in spite of England."

Dr. Edwards proceeded to trace Sir Wilfrid Laurier's utterances regarding the independence of Canada, when Dr. Paquet (L'Espresso) asked, "Are the Frenchmen to-day not loyal to the British Empire?"

Not Charging Disloyalty.

Dr. Edwards—"I stated some time ago that I accepted the position assum- ed by Mr. Rivet when he said that the people of Quebec were not disloyal. I have not said one word charging the people of Quebec with disloyalty. I have said nothing which could be construed into that."

He had said the people of Quebec showed more than ordinary intelligence when they elected a government of their political leaders. "I will not allow a member on one side or the other to pervert my language," he added.
