LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE. LONDON, Feb. 4.—The supply of money exceeded the demand today, and discount rates were difficult to maintain. American exchange was steady, at 4.76½, but Paris rates were weaker.

A fair business was transacted on the stock exchange in colonial short-term stock exchange in colonial short-term issues, and the various war loans, but speculative stocks were neglec.ed, with the exception of rubber shares, which rallied with the commodity. The tone was generally cheerful. American securi-ties were steady, despite the American. German situation, and several bond changed hands at unchanged prices.
