ROYALIST MORS "MENACE MARINES WHO LANDED IN GREECE Roumanian Defense Is Stronger and Counter Blow Is Coming

ALLIES' SAILORS THREATENED BY MOB IN ATHENS

Royalists Show Bitter Feeling and Bloodshed is Narrowly Avoided.

CARRY AMERICAN FLAG

Protest Made in Front of Legation Against Landing of Marines.

London, Oct. 17.—A despatch to Reuters' Telegram Co. from Athens says: "The situation appears to be dangerous. There has been a royalist demonstration in the streets. Admiral Du Fouret, commander of the entire allied fleet in the Mediterranean, was himself threatened by a mob of sailors who were driven back by the British troops."

A procession of some 4,000 malcontents headed by the Greek and American flags stopped outside the American legation protesting against the landing of foreign marines and demanding the protection of the American minister, who was absent.

The demonstrators then surrounded the legation, singing the Greek national anthem.

Recent Marines' Landing.

An Athens despatch under yesterday's date received today, says: "Marines from the ships of the entire fleet landed at Piraeus and have occupied the railway station at Piraeus and several buildings in Athens. Immediately this became known the streets of Athens swarmed with Greeks frantically cheering King Constantine and chanting the Greek national anthem. Great crowds marched through the streets, crowds gathering in the neighborhood of the post office square."

The war minister, General Dracos, ordered Greek troops and marines to surround every approach to the square in order to prevent any clash between Greek soldiers and the French, who occupied that section of the city. A complete cordon about the French and taking all precautions to avoid any incident or accident capable of starting a riot.

On Brink of Trouble.

It is impossible to predict whether trouble can be prevented through the night. The Greek Government is fully alive to the fact that Greece's fate hangs on the prevention of further measures on the part of the French commander.

Earlier in the day a review by King Constantine of the Greek navy which was in possession of by the entire fleet was made the occasion of an immense royalist demonstration, crowds parading the streets hauling life-line portraits of the sovereign and wildly cheering for the monarch.

King Gathers Courage.

Admiral Dampiano, minister of marine, read an order of the day praising the loyalty of the sailing and complimenting them on their conduct under most trying circumstances.

After the ceremony the king said: "I am confident that the Greek fleet will remain loyal to the crown."

Nicholls Weds Toronto Girl The He Has a Wife Living

Rochester, Oct. 17.—George Fredrick Edward Nicholls, 30 years of age, was arrested here today on a charge of bigamy. Nicholls confessed, it is said, to marrying Miss Anna Sadie Brown, 19 years old, of Toronto in Buffalo on Oct. 6, altho his second wife, formerly Miss Jennie Miller of Victoria, is living in that city. His first wife is dead.

Prayers for U. S. President To Be Left Out of Service

St. Louis, Oct. 17.—The house of deputies of the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church today voted to eliminate the special prayers for the president of the United States from the morning and evening prayer service and to substitute for them a prayer for the safety and preservation of the nation. The same prayer will be used in both services.

CAPT. HICKS DISMISSED.

London, Oct. 17.—Capt. Bays Hicks of the Medicals has been dismissed from the service by sentence of a general court-martial.

GERMANS LAUNCH FRESH OFFENSIVE

Mass Large Forces in Southern Tip of Bukovina.

GREAT BATTLE BEGINS

Teutons Adopt Audacious Plan—Russians Begin Counter-Move.

Petrograd, Oct. 17, via London, Oct. 17.—The whole of Gen. Herzl's front, from the district of Kovel to Romania, presents an almost continuous battle line with large Russian and Austro-German forces constantly engaged in attacks and counter-attacks. The intention of recapturing the Bukovina had been supplemented, since Romania's entry into the war, by a more audacious plan—a move at the extreme southern flank by the Austro-Germans in the direction of separating the Russian armies from their new allies.

To this end the Austro-Germans have concentrated heavy forces at the southern tip of Bukovina, where the southern flank of the Russians joins the northern flank of the Romanians, and have begun an advance south of Dorna Watra, accompanying this with a vigorous attack slightly further north in the region of Korsunzevo and Kiribaba, and a parallel movement against the Romanians in Transylvania.

Thus far the drive of the Teutonic allies against the Romanians has been more successful than that against the Russians, for while the former are retiring toward their own frontier the Russians have not, as far as is known, been compelled to give way before the powerful offensive directed against them.

The Austro-German movement is still in its early stages and a truce has been expected on this part of the front. Already the Russians have begun counter manoeuvres, as is attested by the number of prisoners taken in the Kiribaba region, where the Russian army has been victorious.

REMARKABLE PHOTOGRAPHS OF THE CAPTURE OF THE VILLAGE OF MORVAL

Remarkable photographs taken of the advance upon and capture of Morval, a week ago. The first shows trench troops throwing stones to dislodge Germans from a line of trenches. The second picture shows the Village of Morval after its capture. The third is a view of German prisoners returning from Morval carrying British wounded. The fourth section of British reserves moving up to attack, and the lower picture shows British soldiers in a trench just before advancing on the ruined village.

ROUMANIANS KEEP REPULSING ENEMY

Teutons Penetrate Gymes Pass—Advance Stops at Agas.

GAINS SOME GROUND

Slavs Succeeds in Driving Teutons Back at Many Points.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.

London, Oct. 17.—More successes for the Roumanians, who have driven the Teutons back at many places on the Transylvanian frontier, are announced in dispatches from Bucharest. While the Germans and Austrians have been unable to make any headway and have even lost ground in the region south of Hermannstadt, from which their main effort was launched, forces of Germans have worked around towards the northeast, have entered Gymes Pass, and have driven the Roumanians back in the Trutius valley as far as Agas. At this point the Roumanian high command has heavily reinforced the defending army and battle is being given to the enemy. This incursion thru Gymes Pass is aimed at a railway running north, and it has for its object the severance of the Roumanian second army from the main body and its repulse towards Russia.

The results of the Teutonic advance in the Bukovina region are also being watched with interest. The Teutons have advanced towards Odessa, 250 miles away to the east. But a movement in that direction has been reported.

FIGHT BIG BATTLES BEFORE LEMBERG

Russians Attack Teutons in Volhynia and Southeastern Galicia.

BEAT FOE IN SOUTH

Slavs Promptly Check German Offensive in Region of Dorna Watra.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.

London, Oct. 17.—Heavy battles continue to rage between Russians and Teutons in Volhynia and on the Narayuvka River in southeastern Galicia. The Russians made many attacks in Galicia from morning till night, and it was in this region that the Germans claim their guard battalions made 1900 prisoners by following the Russians into their trenches.

The Russian attacks in Volhynia are being made between Posony and Svinitsky, west of Dubno, and between Zaturze and Kivdin, in some places the Russians attacked as often as ten times.

The Austrians only claim that the blow north of Zaturze was not strong enough to shatter the defenders.

The Russian version of the fighting is that Teutonic troops are heavily counter-attacking the Russians five miles north of Halcz, and that an artillery engagement of fierce intensity is prevailing. In the repulsing of the Teutons the Russian troops are being driven back to the Dnieper.

The battle of the Naryuvka, in the Halicz sector, has assumed the proportions of the previous great efforts against the southern gateway to Lemberg. Von Bothmer's lines are being held with the most intense artillery fire of weeks. Attack after attack is being hurled against them.

It is apparent that the Russian commanders are throwing their full strength in the field to obtain an early decision over the enemy, but in what constitutes the fiercest fighting seen in the eastern front since the early days of summer, the Teutons are prevailing and their defences are formidable.

"LET'S BEAT LAST YEAR"

Last year, three days $538,000
This year, first day $164,000

"We are out to beat last year's record," say the workers in the British Red Cross appeal.

"Our objective is the same as last year, $250,000. This time the need is three times greater. If we can, we should make it three-quarters of a million, but let's beat last year's record, anyway."

The whole province is watching Toronto. What we do Ontario will do. It's up to Toronto to hold its place as leader.

Every town in the empire believes Toronto to be the most open-hearted city in the world. The people must keep the city's head high. Giving is the big game today.

ROUMANIANS STOP FOE AT MOUNTAIN PASSES

Allies Crush Attempt of Von Falkenhayn To Smash Thru Barriers to Plains Below.

By ARTHUR S. DRAPER.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.

London, Oct. 17.—The Roumanians are standing firm in the mountain passes of Transylvania. At every point on the eastern and southern frontiers Falkenhayn's attempts to smash thru into the ally's land have been crushed by the vigorous resistance of King Ferdinand's troops.

In the region of Dorna Watra and Kiribaba, in Bukovina, the Roumanians also have succeeded in checking the Teuton offensive against the Carpathian border defences.

By halting the advance of the enemy through the Transylvanian front the Roumanians and Russians have put themselves in position to strike back and relieve the pressure on the Teutons in Roumania. If the expected counter-blow carries with it sufficient power to thrust the enemy back to his former position, it is extremely probable that Hindenburg would abandon his efforts against Roumania until another year.

Goes Better Than Hoped.

The crisis is not passed yet. The invaders still maintain their grip on Roumanian territory south of the Torzburg Pass and occupy the strategic positions at other points on the border. But the battle is going better for Roumania than had been expected, and developments are awaited here with confidence that King Ferdinand's soldiers will rally at the critical moment and break the menace of the Teutons.

Transylvanian passes today have their usual ferocity, probably because the Teutons' assistance of the Roumanians the day before had the effect of weakening the spirit of the attackers. In the Dniep, Trutius, Otus and Otul valleys the enemy's waves beat in vain against the wall of defenders. In the Carpatian front, at the centre of the eastern front, Falkenhayn's columns were driven back beyond the frontier line with heavy losses.

Force Teutons Back.

In the Buzza Valley the Roumanians also did more than check the onrush of the enemy. Exposed to a grilling

U.S. STATEMENT ON SUB'S VISIT STILL AWAITED

Viscount Grey Expects Washington to Clear Up Several Points.

OBJECT TO WARSHIPS

"Emphatic Request" That They Keep Away From Coast Acted Upon.

London, Oct. 17.—The British Government will not make any official representation to the U. S. concerning the German submarine U-53 pending an announcement of its attitude by the American Government," said Viscount Grey, foreign secretary, today.

In reply to a question concerning the attitude of the U. S. to British patrol ships, Viscount Grey said that the U. S. admitted that British ships were not exceeding their rights under international law, but that the American Government could not be expected to accept the presence of the U. S. in the waters of the British Empire, or the presence of the U. S. in the waters of the British Empire, or the presence of the U. S. in the waters of the British Empire.

U. S. Attitude to be known by the foreign secretary's continuing to do what he can to prevent the United States from entering its waters or in regard to her own ports and securing information from newspapers. We do not know whether it is true that American warships are out of the submarine's way, but it is a matter for the American Government only and we are not in a position to say anything more. We also assume it will announce its attitude in due course.

GREATEST PICTURE SUCCESS ON STAGE

Regent Packed to Capacity By People, Who Witnessed Tragedy With Silent Horror.

NO ADVERSE CRITICISM

Toronto's Elite Commended Portrayal of Great Tragedy in History.

People planning to see the Somme pictures are advised to buy tickets for the evening's exhibition during the morning to prevent standing in line or delay from other causes in gaining admittance.

Another and higher record in attendance was set yesterday when crowds, which in the aggregate outnumbered Monday's attendance of approximately 12,000 people, attended the Regent Theatre and witnessed the Battle of the Somme official motion pictures being exhibited at that playhouse for the week under the auspices of The Toronto Daily World.

During most of the day the seating capacity of the theatre was taxed, while long lines of people awaited admission. Continuous run of the pictures was made, even the half hour's respite from 6.30 to 7 o'clock being eliminated because of the large throng of people in front of the theatre.

Last night the line of people extended from the doors of the theatre to Bay Street and from that corner to King Street.

The crowds jostled and surged while they waited good-naturedly to see the pictures. Expressions of resignation to a long wait, but a determination that could not be swerved, were pictured on the faces of those in line.

No easy task was presented to members of the management, doorman, ushers, policemen and other theatre attaches to keep the people from crowding thru the doors. It required cajoling, persuasion and oftentimes curt orders on their part to maintain order. "Don't crowd," "Easy, now easy," "One at a time, please," "This way," were heard.

WAR SUMMARY THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

BRITISH activities in France, as recorded by Sir Douglas Haig, were mostly confined yesterday to the bombardment of the German positions north of Arras, at Neuville St. Vaast, Wytschaete and northeast of Ypres. Considerable artillery activity prevailed on both sides, south of the Ancre. The non-communicality of Gen. Haig concerning the Somme offensive suggests that preparations are actively proceeding for further advances. The French record that on the whole Somme front both sides engaged in a bombardment, and the fire sometimes reached a pitch of great violence. Infantry fighting broke out east of Belloy-en-Santerre, when the Germans launched two fresh attacks yesterday. These, like the preceding ones of Monday and Monday night, failed to shake the French defence.

The German official account of the Somme operations since Oct. 12, in which the assertions are made about violent attacks of the allies, with their objectives Bapaume and Peronne, being foiled, with all the accompanying frills, does not coincide with the official communications of the British and the French, or the reports of Frederick Palmer and other correspondents at the front. These show that the past week has been quieter than usual. The object of the great general staff is probably to manufacture courage in Germany and prepare for admission of retreat if the allies continue their offensive. The fact that a withdrawal should be made only after a heroic resistance, and only after the failure of many attacks, would be used as an argument to convince the credulous Germans that the allies had suffered losses out of all proportion to their gains, and that only an army of ghosts would reach the Rhine.

While not yet absolutely free from danger, the situation in Roumania appears to be still more favorable to the allies. The Germans have apparently failed on the southern front, and they have been halted east of Gymes Pass, the only dangerous spot on the northwestern front of Transylvania. When it was seen that the German thrust thru the Torzburg Pass
