FRIDAY'S FIGHT WAS ON FIELDS DRENCHED BY RAIN

Wonder Was That British Accomplished so Much

PRaise FOR CANADIANS

Reuter's Correspondent Says They Played a Gallant Part—One Railway Damaged Forty-Eight Times by Enemy Shells and as Many Times Repaired

London, Oct. 27.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency)—Reuter's correspondent at British headquarters in France telegraphed yesterday:—
"For the purpose of illustrating the intensified fighting area in the advance, I may mention that during one night a short length light railway was damaged by shell fire forty-eight times, and was forty-eight times repaired. This railway was maintained in running order for bringing up the heavy ammunition. The gunners too, accomplished marvels in getting forward the guns through mud frequently axle-deep. Practically all our guns had to be moved forward, and although this seemed to be an almost superhuman task, nevertheless, by six o'clock last evening, the final howitzer battery was in position and ready for action."
"Despite the ill-luck of the weather the combat is by no means one-sided, and the enemy will find that any attempt made to counter-attack in mass formation will be very costly, since the advantage of the ground is largely in our favor, and the enemy is bound to come under a tremendous concentrated fire, so soon as he tries to deploy for advance."

Telegraphing last evening, Reuter's correspondent says: "Today's battle has been fought on flooded fields; in a driving rain, pitiless in its intensity. Therefore, it is a marvel that the troops have accomplished so much. The sum total of the day's results is a series of most important tactical gains, although we should have done much more under more favorable heavens."
"In the region of Poeldershoex Chateau, the advance was a dashing performance. The place was a regimental headquarters, which garrisoned 800. We took sixty prisoners from the remaining defenders, including the adjutant."
"At mid-day enemy airmen discerned our troops upon the spur of Bellevue Ridge, a vantage point for which there was much fighting previously. If this spur is finally held the day will be well marked by at least one conspicuous gain."
"Other places on the battle front are impossible, and the floods are reported to be holding up the advance. The enemy is pretty densely massed all along the front."
"By an attack on the left front the French carried several concrete defences with exceedingly light casualties, owing probably in part, to the erratic nature of the enemy barrage. The enemy was aware of the approaching heavy attack, because his aeroplanes were flying low over our positions half an hour before the attack was launched, and five minutes before the heavy fire opened."
"All along the front the Canadians played a gallant part in today's fight."

THE FALL WEATHER HARD ON LITTLE ONES

Canadian fall weather is extremely hard on little ones. One day it is warm and bright and the next cold and cold. These sudden changes bring on colds, cramps and colic, and unless baby's little stomach is kept right the result may be serious. There is nothing to equal Baby's Own Tablets in keeping the little ones well. They sweeten the stomach, regulate the bowels, break up colds and make baby thrive. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

EX-SOLDIERS SUCCESS AS PARIS POLICEMEN

Paris, Sept. 30.—(Correspondence)—Some of the soldier-policemen, veterans of the Marne, of the Yser and of Verdun, have made their appearance in the streets of Paris, after having done their share at making war, and they are showing themselves quite capable of doing their bit in the keeping of peace.
All are more or less decorated with the war cross, military medal or other ribbons. All of them wear upon their sleeves the record of the time they have served at the front, and the ribbons and medals seem to have a great calming influence upon turbulent spirits.
Cabmen, taxi-cab-drivers, chauffeurs generally, even street peddlers, the sworn enemies of everything in uniform, treat their orders with deference.
F. F. McLeod, vice-president of the Fidelity Trust Company and treasurer of Tremont Temple, died at Bay State Hospital after a brief illness. He was born fifty years ago in Kings county, N. B.

Should You Be Exempt?

Every facility is afforded those who have reasonable ground for applying for exemption under the Military Service Act. Each man's case will be considered by a local, civil board, sitting in the locality where he lives, and will be decided as is desirable in the national interest.
The idea behind the Military Service Act is to call up first only those whose absence from civilian occupations will cause least disturbance to the country's economic and social life. One hundred thousand reinforcements—no more—are to be raised under the Act.

Cases of Exemption

Over 1,250 civil tribunals have been organized throughout Canada, known as Exemption Tribunals. These boards are comprised of 2 members, one appointed by the county judge and one by a joint committee of Parliament. It will be seen that these tribunals are non-military and independent. The members are men closely acquainted with conditions in the places where they sit and will be able to give each case sympathetic attention.

National Interest Will Govern Exemptions

Consideration will be given to applications for exemption received from men engaged in the production or manufacture of commodities necessary to the conduct of the war and the support of those at home and cases in which real hardship would be caused by the withdrawal. Not all men who register these claims will be exempted, but such claims will receive careful consideration. National interest must govern.

Promptness is Essential

Prompt application for exemption is strongly urged upon all who, being included in the first class, believe they deserve exemption. But first visit a Medical Board and find out if any further action is required. Unless the Medical examination places you in Category A., you will have no immediate obligation for service.

Issued by The Military Service Council.
