CORRESPONDENT HAD FRENCH FORM OF THIRD DEGREE

Says Experience Was Worse Than Any Tales of United States Police—Kept in Jail For Week

London, Feb. 2.—Lucien Arthur Jones son of Henry Arthur Jones, the playwright, who is now in New York, arrived in London tonight after very unpleasant experiences as a "war correspondent."

Young Jones had for some time been making his headquarters at a town on the continent, which it is unnecessary to mention. He one day requested a traveler on his way to England to carry for him an envelope containing a despatch for publication in the London Daily Chronicle, the New York Times and the Montreal Gazette.

There was nothing in the despatch to which the censorship could object, but the traveler who appears to have been imbued with excessive zeal, lodged information with the police, which resulted in the arrest of Mr. Jones.

He was thrown into jail and kept there for six days in very unpleasant company, and under conditions which to say the least, he remarked, were highly insanitary.

The British consul did all that he could, but Mr. Jones' release was finally obtained only by direct representations from London.

"I lived for some years in Chicago," said Mr. Jones tonight to a correspondent, "and heard a good deal there about the 'third degree.' I was put through a worse experience of that kind than any story of the methods of the American police in making a man incriminate himself which I ever heard or could suggest as being possible. War correspondence is not all beer and skittles, and I am thinking of going back to Chicago."

When the fire bells struck in Salem one morning last week a sleepy chauffeur in the Central Fire Station slid down the pole and at once started to look from stall to stall for his horse. It was a matter of a minute or two before he realized that he now drove an auto chemical.

STEPS IN THE NEWEST DANCES

The "Breakstep" In The New Waltz Canter

Helen Wohlford and J. Harvey Hume

(Mr. Hume and Miss Wohlford are being featured at the Midway Winter Gardens, Chicago, in this series of new dances.)

(By J. Harvey Hume.)

The waltz canter is little more than the "same duck" figure in the one-step or ballroom tango, done to waltz time. With the exception of the pivots, the lady's step is backwards practically all of the time while the gentleman goes forward. However, canter variations are many, including what is known as the "draw" or "break step," the "box turn," the "reverse," and the "half cortex." Making proper allowance for the difference in music, most any one-step variation may be adapted to the canter.

LOCAL WORK OF RED CROSS

The meeting of the Red Cross Society yesterday afternoon was taken up with the discussion of routine business. No matter of any importance was discussed, but the usual reports of contributions and the work of the various committees were presented. Mrs. Murray MacLaren sent a letter to the society thanking it for the contribution of work to her husband's hospital.

Mrs. White reported contributions for the month from Dec. 21. She requested that the following workers should be thanked: Mrs. A. O. Burnham's Circle, Centenary church, per Mrs. Barracough, Mrs. F. B. Ellis, Mrs. James Ganong.

RULES OF HEALTH FOR DYSPEPTICS

DIETING UNNECESSARY

There are two ways by which people who suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia, sour stomach, flatulency, etc., can overcome the trouble. First, as practically all cases of the above are directly or indirectly traceable to acidity and fermentation, they can eliminate from their diet all foods which ferment and form acid, such as all starches and sugar and foods containing them, thus prohibiting bread, potatoes, fruits and most meats. About the only safe foods are gluten breads, spinach and small quantities of white meat of chicken or turkey. This diet is almost a starvation one, but it is sometimes quite effective. The second way, which appeals especially to those who like to eat hearty meals of good foods, is to eat whatever is reasonably digestible, neutralize the acid and stop fermentation by the use of a good anti-acid such as bicarbonate of soda, a teaspoonful of which in a little water immediately after eating or whenever pain is felt, instantly neutralizes the acid, stops the fermentation and permits the stomach to do its work without pain or hindrance. Owing to its simplicity, convenience and effectiveness, this latter plan is now being adopted, instead of the old fashioned, expensive, weakening starvation process. In this connection it is interesting to note that since the widespread use of bicarbonate of soda was established, many druggists have arranged to supply it in 5 gr. tablets, 2 or 3 of which are equivalent to a teaspoonful of the powder form and are much more convenient to carry.

Health Advice

COLDS

In winter months the question of temperature is of greater importance in the dwelling than in the spring or autumn.

During cold weather the importance of the amount of moisture in the air is interesting to note that since the widespread use of bicarbonate of soda was established, many druggists have arranged to supply it in 5 gr. tablets, 2 or 3 of which are equivalent to a teaspoonful of the powder form and are much more convenient to carry.

The result is that during the winter we breathe air which has but a small amount of moisture.

This dryness of the air causes irritation of the mucous membrane of the nose and throat and makes those breathing it more susceptible to colds. It will be found also that the dry air, heated to 72, 74 or even 80 degrees Fahrenheit, will be less comfortable and will appear more chilly than a temperature of 66 or 68 degrees when there is a greater degree of moisture in the air of the room.

Moderate temperatures, slightly inclined to coolness, promote mental and bodily activity and increase resistance to bodily diseases. High temperatures, however, induce lassitude and mental dullness.

Many diseases are falsely supposed to result from temperature conditions, which are not in the least influenced in that way.

Cold, even severe cold, and long exposure to successive cold, rarely causes diseases which begin with a chill. The chill is not the result of lowering the body temperature. On the contrary, the

The Coming Out and The Coming In

Nifty last spring, but—

The "pill box" with veil is chic now temperature of the body rises during the visitation of a chill.

As for "catching cold," persons who begin to snuffle and cough after exposure to low temperatures, even during severe winter weather, are generally those whose resistance has been reduced by living under the depressing influence of high indoor temperatures.

Cool air, that should be a stimulant to them, becomes, in their reduced condition, a shock, and before they can rally, infection seizes upon them.

Good weather indoors, like good weather outdoors, must be somewhat variable weather.

The theory that strictly uniform temperatures are beneficial is a false one.

The exercise given the circulatory system by varying temperatures is healthful. The temperature variations of day and night, of summer and winter, are healthful and should be imitated in arranging indoor temperatures.

Beware of colds. A cold often ends in tuberculosis. Pneumonia, gripe, typhoid and pleurisy are diseases which predispose the body to tuberculosis.

Bad living and working conditions are also among the predisposing causes especially inure air, darkness, dirt and dust.

A bed that sags is a menace to health, for it interferes with the function of organs during sleep. Sleeping in a strained position strains the muscles of the side and back and places abnormal pressure on vital organs. Pains, attributed to other causes, are often due to an uncomfortable position while sleeping.

Appos

"The German advance on Paris, its arrival almost at the gates of Paris, then its swift swerve to the east and even swifter retreat—well, it all reminds me of the hunter." The speaker was Paul Rainey, big game hunter and cinematographer, of New York. He went on:

"A hunter, taking a chew of tobacco, said in a general store:

"Yesterday morning I struck a grizzly's trail. I followed 'er up till sundown. Then I hiked back ter camp."

"Why did you hike back ter camp?" asked the general storekeeper.

"Wal, to tell ye the truth," said the hunter, "het thar trail was a-gettin' altogether too fresh."—New York Tribune.

"It's all very well, Jargo for you to say: Why don't Kitchener an' French do this an' that? But what I say is: It don't do for you an' me t' say anythink what might embarrass either of 'em."—Punch.
