HAVE DESTROYED 2,000 POUNDS OF BAD MEAT SINCE FIRST OF YEAR
 Branch of Work of Board of Health—More Could Be Done if Funds Available

A branch of the St. John Board of Health work of which little is known, but which is of great importance to the public health is the oversight exercised over meat offered for sale in the city. Some idea of the value of the work is indicated by the fact that, in spite of the fear of the law which has been inspired in the minds of dealers, it has been necessary to destroy more than 2,000 pounds of meat since the first of the year. When this amount is found while the law is being enforced, it is difficult to estimate how much had meat would be offered for sale if there were no regulations enforced.
 There are various factors entering into the sale of bad meat, such as the desire to sell the meat of diseased animals, the sale of meat too old for consumption, and at this time of year the sale of veal from calves under the statutory age.
 Dr. G. G. Melvin, the public health officer, and the inspectors of the board are constantly on watch and make regular visits to the market and stores, if meat which is unfit for consumption is discovered, it is rendered unusable by the simple expedient of pouring kerosene over it. The owners then can still derive a little profit from it by sending it to the fertilizer factory.
 The only thing that prevents the board from carrying on such other work as the regular inspection of milk, for instance, is the lack of funds and equipment. With a more liberal appropriation and a properly fitted laboratory doctor Melvin's knowledge and experience could be made much more profitable to the city and country.

KITCHEN FUND NOW WELL UP TO HALF WAY MARK

Gifts to the Funds Today—Contribution in Observance of Birthday is Unique Feature
 The fund for field kitchens for the 26th Battalion is now pretty well up to the half way mark. Today's contributions brought the total up to $2,848.85, and contributions are coming in more rapidly than ever. This amount is almost enough to purchase two field kitchens of the more expensive type, and more than enough to purchase two of the lighter variety. Expert advice is being sought as to which is the more desirable for field conditions.
 A notable feature of the contributions received today by Mayor Frink was the presence of gifts from the staff of three establishments, the city hall officials, Jones & Schofield, and G. E. Barbour Co., Ltd. The contributions are as follows: City Hall officials, Adam F. MacIntyre, Duncan C. Lingley, Thomas F. Morrison, George McKimsey, A. G. McMillin, J. S. Cooper, James J. Cooke, David R. Willet, Edmund W. Chase, Josephine T. Wetmore, Herbert E. Washington, Charles A. Roney, B. B. Burley, William J. Cotter, A. W. Sharp, John H. Gault, F. A. Duffy, A. F. GRIP TAKEN.
 In the few moments in which he was engaged in purchasing a ticket for Fredericton on Saturday, a man named Colwell lost his wallet in the tug Melville. He had set it down behind him, and when he had bought his ticket it was gone. ON BRIDAL TOUR; RUN OVER MOOSE

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Rising of St. John Have Startling Experience
 A Woodstock despatch to the Times says:—Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Rising, of St. John, who are on their honeymoon trip, had rather a startling experience late last night near Upper Gagetown. They were driving along in their automobile when a very large moose appeared on the road. Vincent McGrath was at the wheel and slowed down and the big animal went into the woods. He then opened up to get by, but the moose suddenly appeared and was knocked down, the auto going over him. The occupants of the car were thrown from their seats, but were not hurt. It was a miraculous escape from serious injury. At the time the big car had seven persons aboard.
 "Mr. and Mrs. Rising will leave here this morning for Edmundston."

BENJAMIN LAMBORD DEAD IN NEW JERSEY

Wife Was Miss Hamm of St. John—Promising Career Cut Short
 Sad news came in a telegram to Wellington M. Hamm this morning, telling of the sudden death of his son-in-law, Benjamin Lambord at Hopatcon, N. J. Mr. Lambord's home was in Hamilton Place, New York. He was a musician and pianist of more than ordinary ability, and had gone to Hopatcon in connection with a musical event there. He was only about thirty-four years of age, and leaves, besides his widow, to whom he was married ten years ago this month, one daughter, aged nine years. Mr. Lambord was a music publisher as well as a fine musician.
 The news came as a great shock, for Mr. and Mrs. Lambord and their daughter had planned to come to St. John on June 21 to spend a month with her parents. It was their custom to visit this city in summer. A promising career is now cut short, and deep sympathy is felt for the bereaved.

OF FIRST IMPORTANCE

Board of Trade to Take up Matter of St. John and Transcontinental Railway

The St. John Board of Trade is to meet tonight to consider the relations of this port toward the Transcontinental Railway. No important subject ever engaged the attention of the board. As matters stand at present, the government has begun the operation of the Transcontinental Line and yet St. John is not only without adequate rail connections and port terminals, but has no government grain elevator. The situation is one that demands prompt and positive attention on the part of the people of this city.
