

SPORT NEWS GLEANED FROM WORLD'S CENTRES

ST. JOHN MAKES BID FOR BIG ICE MEET

Decides to Apply for International—Decision Sunday in New York.

When "Joe" Page tells the annual meeting of the International Skating Union in New York next Sunday that St. John is desirous of having the international championship speed skating meet here this winter, he will come with the assurance that St. John would be ready to take over the management, and give St. John another boost in sport. This decision, which will come as welcome news to officials, was reached at a conference yesterday afternoon between representatives of the New Brunswick Skating Association and the St. John Skating Association in the office of the N. B. Publishing Co. Ltd. R. S. Sims presided. There was a good attendance of men prominent in the life of the city.

The importance of yesterday's decision in securing a meet for St. John can hardly be over-estimated as it strengthens considerably Mr. Page's hands in getting a meet. He will be able to show the international union officials that St. John is a unit in wanting the meet and that many protestations of regard by American officials for St. John as a speed skating centre, make the chances good for St. John's wishes being met.

D. J. Corr, secretary of the St. John Association, told the meeting he had been assured there would not be any world's championship meet in North America this year, but that strong efforts would be made to bring Olaus Thurnberg, Olympic champion, over to compete at the various meets. Thurnberg's presence, undoubtedly, would stir up great interest just as did the skills here years ago of Nelson and Hagen. Thurnberg is a clerk in a store in Helsingfors. He is short and stocky, somewhat along Charlie Gorman's lines.

If St. John gets the meet it is hoped to hold it between Jan. 20 and Feb. 8, Judge Landis, head of organized baseball, and several prominent sport editors will be in Canada about that time and likely would come here.

St. John has had both the Canadian and International outdoor as well as the International indoor. The Canadian was conducted by the Y. M. C. I. in 1922, the International by the Rotary Y. M. C. I. in 1923, and the International indoor last winter by the St. John A. S. A. At all three meets, a high standard was set both in attendance and performances.

At the 1923 meet, Charlie Jewtraw, now a student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, was chased to the phenomenal time of 19 and 4-1/2 seconds for the 220 event by Charlie Gorman, now U. S. national and international champion. Later on in the meet Jewtraw equalled Gorman's then world record of 37 and 2-1/2 seconds for the 440, while the same day Richard Donovan skated within one second of the mile record. At these bigger meets, the skaters are nervous to do their best, particularly at the international meet, which St. John is asking for this year.

If St. John lands the International, it will be of tremendous interest here as there will be a St. John boy defending his title. Gorman won that town last year in sensational style and his friends are confident he will go better this year if given a fair chance. He should be given the best training possible and begin at once to enable him worthily to uphold the honor of his native city against a cream of skaters from the United States and Canada and the Olympic champion, Thurnberg.

The holding of a meet here annually is rapidly developing into a mighty valuable business asset for the city of St. John and therefore the decisions of the International Union this Sunday will be awaited here with particular interest.

DURAND AND GREEN WIN.

Montreal, Nov. 10.—Clovie (Kid) Durand, Montreal, flyweight champion of Canada, was awarded the judges' decision over Wee Willie Woods, New York, holder of the flyweight title of Scotland, in a ten-round bout here this evening. The men were weighed: Durand, 113 1/2; Woods, 112.

Solly Green, Montreal, was awarded the decision over Sid Keppen, of New York, in another round affair.

Thirty-three varieties of Cheviote are made in England.

ALEMITE
lubricant

You can fill your Alemite Compressor in a jiffy if you use Alemite Lubricant because it comes in auto-loading containers. Buy a can today!

Alemite Sales & Service Co., Ltd. Cor. Union and Peel.

Injures Hand While Training

PAUL BERLENBACH

New York, Nov. 11.—The 12-round match slated between Paul Berlenbach, the New York light-heavyweight, and Tony Marullo, of New Orleans, at Madison Square Garden Friday night, was called off today after an injury Berlenbach sustained to his left hand while training.

Berlenbach went before the State Athletic Commission's physician for an examination to determine the extent of his mishap but in the meantime Promoter Tex Rickard announced cancellation of the fight. Efforts were being made to obtain another opponent for Marullo.

GETTING READY FOR ARENA BOUTS

Fruzzetti and McIntyre are Training Hard—Interest in Preliminary.

The arrival of Jimmy Fruzzetti, New England lightweight champion, in the city yesterday has reawakened interest in the programme to be staged at the arena on Friday evening. Jimmy is booked to box 10 rounds with Johnny McIntyre in the main bout. Since leaving here early in the fall Jimmy participated in a number of bouts and was awarded decisions in all. One of his most notable achievements was winning the lightweight title. He looks to be in the pink of condition and is confident that he will make good when he meets McIntyre. Both boxers are training faithfully and expect to step into the ring in the pink of condition.

The debut of Louis Donovan, professional ranks is also creating considerable interest. As an amateur he won signal honors and many are confident that he will make a mark among the "money men." He is a hard hitting youngster with a hard wallop in both hands and if he follows his usual style should cause his opponent, Mickey Morris, all kinds of trouble.

EXPECT A GREAT BOUT IN BOSTON

Fans Await the Meeting of Eddie Shevlin and Bob Lowery.

Boston, Nov. 12.—Eddie Shevlin of Roxbury faces the most dangerous puncher in the ranks of the welterweights today when he faces Bob Lowery, champion of Scotland, at Mechanics Building next Friday night. It's the bout local fans have been demanding ever since Lowery fought his way to the top step by step by meeting all the classy boys of his weight in this vicinity.

That Lowery is capable of defeating Shevlin has been clearly demonstrated. In his bout with Nate Siegel, Lowery punished him as he did Siegel, never returned to the ring. Siegel admitted that Lowery was one of the fiercest punchers he ever stacked up against.

The fans always get a thrill when a puncher stacks up against a clever ring general. That is the prospect which looms up for the ringers in this bout. Shevlin will be called upon to exhibit all his ring craft to take the measure of Lowery.

The recent Lonsdale seven round knockout scored by Lowery against Scoops White of Worcester has put the former into the good graces of the fans and they are predicting that he will knock out the Dartmouth boxing instructor.

Shevlin, however, is enjoying a new lease of life in the ring as demonstrated by his victories over Eddie Burnbrook, Young Tansey and Jimmy Jones.

Fin Prelim Card

One of the best preliminary cards of the season will surround the main attraction.

"Scoops" White of Worcester will clash with Jack Thomas, Canadian welterweight champion. Both boys are prime fighters, with "Hub" fans and should give the boys plenty of thrills.

NORMAL SCHOOL HERE SATURDAY

The Rugby team of the Provincial Normal School has sent word that it will be here on Saturday afternoon to play against the St. John High School team. The game will be played on the grounds in the Sand Cove Road and it is expected that a large crowd will be present to see the teams in action. It has been nearly ten years since the Provincial Normal School Rugby team played in St. John before.

CARLETON CURLERS ELECT OFFICERS

At the annual meeting of the Carleton Curling Club, held last night it was decided to increase the annual dues from $10 to $15 for active members, and to $10 for non-curling members. Plans were discussed for the coming curling season, which "if they materialize, 1924-25 will be one of the best seasons for a good many years.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Dr. J. P. Pennington; vice-president, H. B. Crouse; secretary-treasurer, P. L. Webb; managing committee, M. P. Mooney, E. R. Taylor, James Scott, match committee, C. Driscoll, F. S. Tilton, Morris, H. B. Crouse; ice committee, M. P. Mooney, and chaplain, James Scott.

BELGIAN CHAMPION IS PLAYING WELL

Horemans Expected to Shine in Next World's Billiard Tournament.

New York, Nov. 12.—The billiard stars already have started to prepare for the world's championship tournament, which will be held in Chicago in February or March. The work of one player will be watched closely this season, as his sensational performances ever since last June have improved his championship chances. The player is Edouard Horemans, Belgian champion of Belgium. He has been playing brilliantly for the last four months, and if he continues to show the same form until the time for the tournament is here, he is almost certain to enter on even terms with the present champion, William F. Hoppe.

Horemans, following his failure against Hoppe in the challenge match here last spring, has devoted all of his time to ballroom and instead went to South America, where he played continuously from last June until his return here in September. His work in all of his exhibitions has been of such a nature as to force the experts to follow his play more closely than ever before.

When Horemans first visited this country he came with a remarkable reputation, boasting many high runs and high average, but the glamour fell from his work as a result of his weak showing in championing matches. At an exhibition player he rates with any in billiards, but it now is the belief of a number of billiard authorities that Horemans has lost his touch. His style of billiards, that he is faithful with the styles of the various American stars and that he has changed his game to meet theirs.

Another foreign entry will bear watching this season in the person of Erich Hagelacher, the German champion. Hagelacher, though in play through the tournament here a year ago. Since then he has recovered completely from his illness and only recently announced that he believed his game was better than ever. He was of such a class as to give him good chance of winning. Hagelacher returned to Germany last summer, but was gone less than six weeks. He was back here before September. He has been taking part in exhibition matches since. It is seldom in any of his games of late that he has failed to register a run of at least 100, and a number have been over the 200 mark. Hagelacher has challenged Horemans to an exhibition match but has had no word from the Belgian.

Hoppe Has Busy Schedule.

Hoppe does not intend to be caught napping. He has so arranged his schedule that he expects to be at the top of his form for the tournament. He has been playing three cushions almost exclusively since last June, but now he is planning to switch to billiards, and for his first test he has arranged to meet Young Jake Schaefer in two 3,200-point exhibition matches in California. It cannot be said that Hoppe selected any easy opposition for Schaefer, for he is one of the best billiard players of the present day. He is the only man who has been able to dethrone Hoppe in recent years.

Hoppe will leave for Los Angeles on Nov. 15 and will open his first match there against Schaefer on Nov. 25. He then will move to San Francisco and oppose Schaefer in the second match, which will open on Dec. 2 and end on the night of Dec. 5. Following this engagement Hoppe will arrange to play a three-day exhibition in Seattle on Dec. 8, 9 and 10. This will wind up his stay on the Coast and he then will start East. His first stop will be in Cleveland, where he will entertain for two days. Then he will move to Pittsburgh for a brief engagement, spend one day in Buffalo, and then return to New York. He plans to arrive here a few days before Christmas.

Welker Cochran, the Coast star, who finished in a tie with Hoppe in the tournament last year, only to lose on the play-off, has been showing good form this year, according to reports from California, and is likely to cause trouble. It was Cochran who put out Hoppe in a sensational exhibition last year. His only reverse was at the hands of Hagelacher, and this setback deprived him of his chance to win the world's title. Cochran, encouraged by his success of last year, is playing with more confidence. Always rated a fine exhibition player, and good at times in competition, all that he needs, according to the experts, is to play more consistently. One day he is likely to run out a 400-point game in three innings, then the next he is forced to take twenty or twenty-five.

Schaefer has been active all season. He has been preparing for the coming test with Hoppe since last August. Schaefer lost in a challenge match with Hoppe in Chicago last January, but still believes he is Hoppe's master. He has issued the challenge to Hoppe for an exhibition on the Coast, which Hoppe accepted. It should prove to be a real sport, for both are splendid competitive players. It also will serve to give billiard followers a fine chance to size up the class of billiards that these two stars are playing this season. The billiard public has had little chance thus far to judge this.

SUGGEST BOXING SCHOOL FOR GIRLS

Request of Pupils May be Tried Out in New York.

New York, Nov. 12.—"Lay-deez an' genl'men. The fy-nal-bout, between Battling Besie, the Bronx bantam, an' Maullin' Mildred, the pride of Told Aven-o. In this corner, lay-deez an' genl'men, Battlin' Besie, the Bronx bantam—stand up, Bess, ya dumber, an' bow. In this corner Maullin' Mildred, the pride of Told Aven-o. Both members of the club. I thank you."

Not yet, perhaps, but eventually, should the innovation which is shortly to be introduced at public school No. 12, the Bronx, develop along the lines indicated by experiences of the past. In public school No. 12, which is at Frisby avenue and Overing street, the bigger boys are about to receive instruction in what hitherto has been called by certain pugilist sport writers, "the many art of self-defense."

This is being done, and the principal, John F. Condon, was careful to point out yesterday, at the request of the girls themselves, and of their parents. Only girls who wish to learn to box, and whose parents wish them to receive such instruction, are to be admitted to the classes which Mr. Condon originated some time ago for the benefit of the older boys.

Nor will there be any contests between the female pupils of public school No. 12, the Bronx, or, at least, not until the epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants has grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science displayed by the combatants had grieved him heavily. The boys are taught the fight, the straight left and the right, and the straight right and the left. Mr. Condon, who speaks of boxing as "the gentle art," inaugurated his plan of boxing instruction for the older boys after an epidemic of playground scraps, in which the lack of science