NEW YORK, April 15.—When the inventory of the Lafayette Trust Company, under which name the Jenkins Trust Company of Brooklyn was reorganized, and which in turn had quit business last fall, was filed in the County Clerk's office in Brooklyn on Monday by Receiver Alford, one of the items in the scheduled assets was the following:

"Other assets, including furniture and fixtures, and First National Bank loan adjustment, valued at $108,709."

As soon as this came to the attention of President Huber of the First National of Brooklyn, he issued a statement denying that the First National

FLEET OF FIFTY CRAFT DELAYED BY THE FOG

NEWPORT, R. I., April 15.—A thick fog which surrounded Narragansett Bay today further delayed the fleet of more than fifty craft which has been forced to remain inactive here because of wind and sea conditions. This is the most numerous fleet which has been anchored in or off Newport harbor during the present season. Nearly a score of schooners which have been forced to leave to and off Dutch Island there are eight additional schooners awaiting a lifting of the fog to sail. Most of the craft are without cargo, and are bound for New York.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 15.—Forty-six separate reasons why Duncan R. Cooper and Robin J. Cooper, recently convicted of the murder of former United States Senator E. W. Carmack, should be granted a new trial, are set forth in the motion for a new trial filed in writing today by attorneys for the defendants.

HANDS HOT ROAST TO MODERN LITERATURE

Post Deplores the Magazine and Newspaper Habit—Years for Good Books.

TORONTO, April 15.—Mr. William Wilfrid Campbell, M. A., LL. D., F. R. S. C., is a man of letters and a poet. Last night he said several startling things to the Ontario Library Association. He scolded the association about the reading of magazines instead of books, and he condemned the "problem" novel and George Meredith in rhetorical measures. He likened literary Ontario to a burning library and the librarians as so many literary Neros sitting by and fiddling.

"Do not fiddle while Ontario is burning," he said. "Stem the tide of the debasing influence of modern popular literature. You librarians and newspapermen have bred the monster which is about to destroy you. He who in any walk of life descends to catering to what is called public opinion is dooming himself in the long run."

"Where books were once read, mass-stories and newspapers are taking their place. The average library in its efforts to be popular is deteriorating the library ideal to the public appetite. Too much is being done to provide cheap American magazines for boys and girls and lounging men. The magazine list could be cut down to one-fifth with great advantage. The reading of newspapers and novels has become one of the vices of our age."

"There is too much of the nasty in ordinary fiction. I tell you frankly the community we stand much longer. It is a sign of a terrible moral decadence. Hundreds of such books are on our library shelves today."

Mr. Campbell seemed to urge a return to such works as Sir Walter Scott's, whom he characterized as "the greatest and the sanest of English writers since Shakespeare."

As for George Meredith's works, he described them as "false and pedantic, and exceedingly nasty, literature, and ethical monstrosities."

William De Mores's "Somehow Good" Mr. Campbell said was "altogether bad. Its theme is unfit to be handled in a novel. The book has no excuse for living."

UNITED MINE WORKERS CONVENTION TERMINATED

FERNIE, B. C., April 15.—The United Mine Workers' convention terminated here yesterday. The result was a vote of 1,000 to 1,000 in favor of the threatened break between the local and the international, but this did not occur. Some of the delegates were pretty hot, but Sherman was the important points in the conference. Morgan has gone to Spokane, President Stockert and other operators present at the Homeer meeting, went away last night, and the situation is unchanged, and is not likely to change until the operators move.

POLICEMEN SUSPENDED

PITTSFIELD, Mass., April 15.—When Police Officers John Hines and Dennis Condon reported for duty tonight they were suspended by the city. Hines, H. H. Macintosh, pending an investigation of the charge made against Hines by Condon during the trial of a citizen yesterday, to the effect that Hines offered Condon money to testify falsely in the case. The suit, which was an action for damages against a local manufacturing company for the accidental death of Officer Hines' mother, was closed tonight in favor of the plaintiff, the widow.

NO WOMAN CAN BE STRONG AND HEALTHY UNLESS THE KIDNEYS ARE WELL

When the kidneys are ill, the whole body is ill, for the poisons which the kidneys ought to filter out of the blood are left in the system. Then how important it must be to see to it that this system of sewerage be not clogged up. Those who have never been troubled with kidney trouble know not the misery and suffering which those afflicted undergo.

Doan's Kidney Pills are a specific for all kidney troubles. They begin by healing the delicate membrane of the kidneys and thus make their action regular and natural. They help the kidneys to flush out the acid and poisonous impurities which have collected, thus clearing out the kidneys, bladder and all the urinary passages.

Doan's Kidney Pills are entirely vegetable, and may be safely taken by young and old.

Let Doan's Kidney Pills do for you what they have done for thousands of others, that is, cure you.

Mrs. M. Bryanton, Spring Valley, P. E. I., writes: "I was troubled with my kidneys for two years. They would not let me sleep. I could not cross the floor for the pain. I tried a doctor but he did me no good at all. I sent to my neighbor and got four boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, and I am glad to say that after taking them I have had no more trouble for nearly three years now."

EXTENSIONS TO ONTARIO PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS
Great Improvements Will be Made at Cost of Three Quarters of a Million.

TORONTO, April 15.—The provincial cabinet met yesterday to approve the final draft for plans for the enlargement of the parliament buildings. It was decided to advertise for tenders and commence work as soon as possible. The extension will be on the lines indicated. The central portion of the present building will be extended northward as far as the driveway across the park. The boilerhouse now in operation will be lowered to permit of the carrying out of the new portion of the building. The wing will be built in such a manner as to permit of the additional stories being added if required. It will cost three-quarters of a million.

POLICE WERE WATCHING
When "Railroad Builder" Got $500 From a Hopeful Hoboken Stenographer.

NEW YORK, April 15.—A man who described himself as Fred Pettigill, a bond broker, and who said he had an office at 89 Barclay street, was arrested yesterday for grand larceny after a little $500 transaction in connection with an alleged railroad that was run from New York to Chicago and then on to San Francisco. The complainant is Frank W. Roth of 418 Spring street, West Hoboken, a stenographer out of a job, who was asked to part with the $500 and become general manager of the road.

William Roth, Frank's father, said last night that his son put an advertisement in a New York newspaper on Monday morning asking for employment as a stenographer, and by 10 o'clock that morning he got a reply from Pettigill telling him to go to the Hudson Terminal Building at 30 Church street to talk over a job. The son, who is 27 years old, went over at once, and according to his father, saw Pettigill in an office there. Pettigill told Roth that he could talk more freely out in the hall, so they went out of the office.

The father said that Pettigill told the son that he was interested in the United States Railway Company, which, he said, is building a new railroad direct to San Francisco, through Chicago. Pettigill told Roth, the father said, that he would give $25 a week as secretary, and as soon as the road was completed would make him general manager, which would give him a rakeoff on the business done in the route between New York, Chicago, Buffalo and San Francisco.

"I want to be sure you will stay with the company and not quit before we get the road built," Pettigill is said to have told Roth, "so you will have to buy $1,000 worth of the stock. You can pay $200 down and the other $800 in ten days."

Roth told Pettigill that he would have to get the money out of a bank in Hoboken and said he would meet Pettigill yesterday and hand over $800. He suspected that the job wasn't all that it promised, and when he discussed it with his father the latter told him to go to the police before he paid Pettigill any money.

Roth telephoned Pettigill yesterday to tell him that he was delayed in getting the money, but would meet him in the afternoon and pay up. In the meantime Roth told his story to 20 or 25 Church street, and while detectives watched he paid over a check for $800, for which Pettigill gave him a receipt. The detectives then arrested Pettigill. They said that they found the check in Pettigill's pocket.

He was locked up at police headquarters. At 89 Barclay street it was said last night that Pettigill was not known there.

PARLIAMENT ENDORSES
DR. PUGSLEY--THE MAYES
SCANDAL BURIED AGAIN

OTTAWA, April 15.—Hon. Wm. Pugsley hit back hard at his opponents and traders in the commons today in a masterly reply to the demand of the opposition for an investigation of the charges contained in the notorious Mayes scandal. He was not the first time that a member had thought it his duty to bring charges against a fellow member or a minister of the crown, but when that had been done the member making the charge had stated that he had reason to believe or had been credibly informed that the charges could be substantiated by evidence. But in the present case Dr. Daniel did not dare to say that he was credibly informed that the accusations in the Mayes affidavit could be substantiated. While he held the affidavit in his hands Dr. Daniel had not sufficient faith in the statements made in it to declare that they were true, or that he believed they could be substantiated. The affidavit bore on its face the evidence of falsehood. They had the statements of a man who if they were to take his word, was a self-confessed knave. He did not think they should consider a charge against a fellow member of parliament upon such testimony as that.

Mr. Mayes said he had entered into contract with Mr. McAvity and paid $2,000 to the Minister of Public Works. The Minister of Public Works had immediately contradicted the charge that as Minister he had received money from Mayes. It was true that in October, 1905, he had received money for legal services. Mayes insinuated that it was not for professional services, but for political influence. "We are men of common sense in this house," said Sir Wilfrid, "and does anyone believe that Mr. Mayes would pay $2,000 to any man unless he received some consideration for it? If that money was paid for political services, where were these political services rendered? The contract which was at the bottom of the affair was made openly with the department, consequently there what you will have to do without or what you will have to make me do without. Good-bye. Your brother, WILLIAM L. FREDERICKS, of Lancaster, Couldn't Give Sweetheart a Home.

PHILADELPHIA, April 15.—Because he did not have sufficient money to furnish a home for the girl he loved, and whom he intended to marry, William L. Fredericks, 35 years old, committed suicide yesterday morning at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. P. Kemp, 530 North Market street.

When Mrs. Kemp called her brother for breakfast, he did not respond. She entered the room, and found him stretched upon the bed, dead. He had taken carbolic acid, and then tied a sponge soaked in chloroform, over his mouth.

A letter which he had written before taking the poison gave the reason for his act. This is a copy of the letter: "My Dear Sister: This will almost break your heart. I am sorry—dreadfully sorry. I am almost broken hearted. From appearances you would think that I had nothing to worry me. That is where you are all mistaken. I have all in the world to worry me. You know I want to get married. Well, I cannot. It is not Father's fault. It is all mine. In my trunk you will find the money and the silverware that is yours, and the things that are in the cardboard box are Father's. Give her also the three rings and a pair of each of the tapestry curtains and the vases and pictures."

I doubt very much if Father has the money to come here. When you get the insurance, send her $25 and write her to spend a few days with you when this is over. It doesn't matter could be no possible influence on the part of anybody. It was made by open tender and was awarded to the lowest tenderer, who happened to be Mayes."

Proud of Pugsley

Reference had been made to the Hodgins and Emmerson cases, but the present case was quite different. In any case the member for St. John had made it possible for the government to accept the motion because, having been made on a motion to go into supply, it could not be amended if it was considered necessary. But the last and supreme consideration was that the motion was one of no confidence.

"We are not disposed to vote no confidence in the Minister of Public Works," declared Sir Wilfrid. "We have been proud of the Minister of Public Works, and this evening we were prouder of him than ever." (Liberal cheers.)

Hon. Mr. Fielding wound up the debate in a vigorous speech in which he charged the opposition with bringing forward the motion not for the purpose of investigation but to make political capital. It was not consistent with the dignity and honor of parliament that such motions should be made on frivolous statements. The date was the whole essence of the affidavit, because if it had been stated at 1905 the whole document would have been worthless and would never have been read at an election meeting. The sole object of it was to damage the Minister of Public Works.

The vote on Dr. Daniel's resolution was taken at one o'clock and resulted in a government majority of 40. Dr. Pugsley did not vote, explaining that he was personally concerned in the verdict of the house.

"THEOLOGICAL" QUESTION
DIVINITY OF CHRIST

Presbyterian Candidates for the Ministry Doubt Even Resurrection.

NEW YORK, April 15.—Four candidates for licenses to preach were examined before the Presbytery of New York at its annual meeting in the First Presbyterian church yesterday.

Three of the candidates, members of the senior class of Union Theological Seminary, were turned down; not absolutely, however. They will have an opportunity to confer with a committee of the Presbytery, who will examine them further as to their views on theology, Christ and the sacraments.

One of the three who failed to be sustained was Archibald Black, a brother of the Rev. Dr. Hugh Black, the well-known Edinburgh preacher. The two others who have got to see the mark before the special committee are George E. Pitch and John Steen.

The meeting was described as one of the most extraordinary of candidates. Some of the older members of the Presbytery, preachers of the old school, could scarcely restrain their tears in discussing the answers that the candidates made to some of the fundamental questions. The examinations and discussion took place, of course, in executive session, but many of the ministers talked freely of what occurred.

Candidate Steen, it was said, was the most outspoken in his beliefs. He questioned the miracles and accepted the modern view of the divinity of Christ. He did not believe that Christ arose from the dead in this body. The two other rejected candidates had doubts on this question of the divinity of Christ as advanced by the old school of Presbyterianism.
