JURY FINDS

EDMUNSTON, N. B., Aug. 3.—The adjourned July sitting of the County Court was opened here today, Judge Carleton presiding. The case of the King vs. Hubald Michaud was resumed. Michaud, it will be remembered, was committed for trial by Police Magistrate Nadeau, of Edmunston, about two months ago, on a charge of obgistrate Nadeau, of Edmunston, about two months ago, on a charge of obstructing the railroad with intent to endanger life. At the regular sitting of the July court the jury found no bill. This afternoon the witnesses who gave evidence at the preliminary hearing again testified and their evidence as before was very damaging to the defendant. About eighteen witnesses in all were examined this afternoon.

After being out for considerable time the grand jury returned, having found a true bill on the following counts:

1. That the defendant placed obstructions on the railroad with intent to endanger life.

2. That the defendant placed obstructions on the railroad in a manner

NOT DEAD, BUT DRY.
HACKENSACK, N. J., Aug. 2 —
Arthur Zeeger walked into Seiss's Hotel in Hulson street this morning and tel in Hulson street this morning and asked for a drink.

A very decent burial intended for Zeeger took place on Thursday when a coffin bearing his name and supposed to contain his body was lowered into a $12 plot in the New York cemetery by four of his friends. The body of a man was found in the Hackensack River on Tuesday afternoon near the Anderson street Bridge. The next day Albert J. Coeyman said that the dead man was Zeeger. Zeeger was in his employ and disappeared on Sunday. Al Speight, for whom Zeeger worked in Maywood, for whom Zeeger worked in Maywood, said the drowned man was Zeeger. Coroner Curry and Undertaken Rick-ardo fixed up a coffin, bought a plot in the cemetery and provided a coach for the pallbearers.

Upon Zeeger's return today the insurance men halted payment of his policy and the undertaker decided that he is out $100. He says he will not disturb the man who is really dead.
