on the people's purse. Neither do you gain anything by making mad dogs respectable and a bad business legitimate. What we want to do is imply and solely to stop this rabid hiting in the streets." (It was a pro-hibitionist who spoke a fanatic.) Then there was silence for a long while. The regulators could find nothing to say. "I have it, I have it !" at length cried one. Then he read: "Be it ordained: That in case any beast shall so rage and rave as to endanger the public safety, his tail shall forthwith be cut off." "Why, that's precisely what we had pefore.

"Yes, but it is enough; it will sup press the evil; no need of our exceedng the law."

"How do you make that out ?" "Why, don't you see, the law doesn't say where the dog's tail shall be cut

"Suppose we cut it off just off !' ack of the ears."

Chapter V.-Extirpation.

This was approved. The thing was ne. The dogs' tails were cut off just back of their ears. That was curtailing the business with a vengeance. It was prohibition. There was no reguation about it.

But this curtailing proved most effective. The mad-dog business was done with forever. Everybody said, Why didn't we think of it before ?" And when the old counsellor died. who had conceived the happy thought, they built a monument over him bearing this inscription :

To the Memory of Tectotalis Prohibitus,

The Sage who Originated the Maxim 'The proper place to curtail a bad business is just back of the ears."

Chapter IV .- Application. The moral is this, the liquor saloons are the mad dogs of our day, raving in every street. Nearly every home is in mourning because of their brutality, and the country is deluge crime and desolation

ALL AND WISE ADVICE.

When Ting-shill, an ex-sensor and at one time a great favorite of the Emperor, but who wis degraded and dismissed from of-ice about three years ago for being too straightforward in his denunciations of the Empress Dowager's intermediling with the prerogatives of the throne, has recently sent to the Emperor a memorial strongly advis-ing his majesty to throw himself and the country upon the protection of Great Britain. The memorialist derivas the pretended friend-ship of Russia, and gives a plain sketch of the whole story of the retrocession of Liao-tung by Japan, bewalls the sed fact that every one in Chins was misled by the pre-tensions of Russia, and winds up by saying that in the friendship of Great Britain alone les the salvation of Chins.-North Chins Daily News.

A LEGAL QUESTION

To the Editor of the Sun:

To the Editor of the Sun: Sir-A few days ago a legal paper was served on our parsh court commissioner, signed by Judge E. Maleod. The return of the service of the document on the P. C. C. was sworn to before the sum individual in the capacity as a commissioner for taking addavits to be read in the supreme court. Will some reader of the Sun say if the sworn return of such service was legal? Yours, etc. A. B. Harcourt, Sept. 15, 1898. This seems to be so case still in litigation. The Sun profers to leave the question to a court of competent jurisdiction -Editor Sun.
