John Gape's communications on the Appropriations of the Session of 1840.

DEAR MR. EDITOR.—A few days ago I put my invaluable ring upon my finger, and in my last issue I went to Government House and searched among the Dispatches for one from Lord Russell, explaining his appointment of the late Lord John Russell, and his entire satisfaction that the party had been administered so liberally to the Legislative Council, and that I should find one! I was very much surprised to find one!

(By the way the last session to pass the foolish Fire Law cost the enormous sum of £1275) was held when the Council were obliged to show the House their Pay, and go without Pay themselves. Men, wonder whether Sir John Russell remembers the fact that when he presented the Revenue Bill to the Council in 1838, he said that Pay had not been given to the President and members of Council because no precedent for such provision was found in the Journals of Assembly, and because the Assembly considered that such provision would have been unbecomingly improper. This is a very curious story, but referring to the Journals of the last session, I see that Sir John voted for the Pay, and so did Vox Populi over-Topswayer Wilnot. Now I would like to know what Sir John and Vox Populi too, what it is which has made Council pay proper and expedient in 1840, when it was so inexpedient and improper in 1838. I can only suppose that the Council occupied an independent position but now in 1840, they are swamped and perched, gagged and muzzled, and made dependent upon a Governor, who in his turn has made himself dependent upon the masters in the Assembly, that even against his calm deliberate judgment, he is obliged to provide for the present any body and every body who dare say "be to the Goose." Take this with you, if you had showed disposition to take the long and short of it, you would have come off with a better share of the public spoil than at present information.

Dear respected Mr. Editor,
Yours &c.
JOHN GAPE.

THE CHRONICLE.

SAINT JOHN, JUNE 19, 1840.

THE WEATHER.—For some weeks past the country has been favoured with the most propitious weather that the former could desire—frequent showers of rain and serene sunshine, and the present prospects, that of an early and abundant harvest.

MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT.—Yesterday morning, two persons fell from a stage attached to a new ship building at Mr. Howe's ship yard in Portland. Mr. Rapert, a respectable contractor, was killed on the spot; the other person was seriously and dangerously injured, but faint hopes entertained of his recovery. Mr. Rapert has left an orphan family to lament their irreparable loss.

TRAGEDY.—Among the passengers in the steamer North America, on Monday last, a young man, Mr. Vandenberg, the celebrated English Tragedian, who with his family is making a summer tour through the Province, was unfortunately killed by a fall from the deck of the vessel. Mr. Vandenberg was a native of London, and had been acting in the theatre for many years.

CHEAP BREAD.—The Bakers of this city, we learn, have agreed that the price of Bread, shall, during the present low price of flour, be as follows: 2lb. White loaf, 3d. 4d. 5d. 6d. 7d. 8d. 9d. 10d. 11d. 12d. 13d. 14d. 15d. 16d. 17d. 18d. 19d. 20d. 21d. 22d. 23d. 24d. 25d. 26d. 27d. 28d. 29d. 30d. 31d. 32d. 33d. 34d. 35d. 36d. 37d. 38d. 39d. 40d. 41d. 42d. 43d. 44d. 45d. 46d. 47d. 48d. 49d. 50d. 51d. 52d. 53d. 54d. 55d. 56d. 57d. 58d. 59d. 60d. 61d. 62d. 63d. 64d. 65d. 66d. 67d. 68d. 69d. 70d. 71d. 72d. 73d. 74d. 75d. 76d. 77d. 78d. 79d. 80d. 81d. 82d. 83d. 84d. 85d. 86d. 87d. 88d. 89d. 90d. 91d. 92d. 93d. 94d. 95d. 96d. 97d. 98d. 99d. 100d.

NEW VESSELS.—Towed into harbour on Sunday last, the fine new copper plated ship John, of 700 tons, built at Plymouth, and the John, of 500 tons, built at Newcastle, by Messrs. Lovell & Parker, for Messrs. Crookshank & Walker, and is said to be a very superior vessel.

ON Monday a very fine new ship called the John, of 115 tons, and full rigged, was launched from the ship yard of Messrs. Irving & Brothers, at the Abbeville. She is the property of John McClellan, Esq. of Port Patrick, Scotland.—Herald.

A beautifully modelled, well proportioned, and fully built brig of 320 tons, named the John, built at Newcastle, and launched on Saturday last by Messrs. Crookshank & Walker, is said to be a very superior vessel.

THE BRITISH QUEEN sailed from New York on Monday the 8th, punctually at the appointed hour, having on board, passengers, including children and servants. The officers, crew, and persons belonging to the ship number 110, making in all 282 persons on board. The passage money for the voyage amounts to $20, 17s, 6d. Freight, $3, 7s, 6d. Total $23, 15s, 0d.

CANADA.—The Montreal Herald of the 1st inst. says:—"Although the weather was some what cooler yesterday than it was the preceding days, still it was unusually warm for this season of the year, the thermometer having ranged between 71 and 85 in the shade, from 8 o'clock in the morning till 3 in the afternoon. The accounts from every part of the country give the most cheering accounts of the appearance of the crops. A gentleman who arrived in town from Upper Canada on Wednesday evening, having travelled by land from Toronto to Kingston, reports that the crops in a most flourishing condition for the season of the year.

CANADA. Lieut. General Sir Richard D. Jackson and suite, arrived at Toronto on the 26th ult., by the Commodore Barrie, from Kingston. His Excellency is on a tour of military inspection, and intends to proceed as far west as Amherstburg.

QUEBEC, June 10.—We learn from the Mercury that a fatal accident occurred to Esau E. V. Kane, a promising young officer who was on board on his way to join the Royal Regiment, to which he belonged. The unfortunate gentleman was shot through the head and instantly expired. This occurred about ten days before the vessel arrived at Quebec, and it was found impossible to bring up the body from the weather and the crowded state of the ship; it was therefore interred, as is usually the case, in the bay near the wharf. The melancholy accident has made a deep impression on his fellow passengers.

Toronto papers are to the 2nd inst. We are sorry to learn from them that His Excellency Sir George Arthur had been for some days suffering from severe illness.

The Colonial states that Mr. Simmonds had left with despatches from His Excellency the Governor General, suggesting some alterations in the Union bill. They refer principally to the representation of the County of Lincoln, in Upper Canada, and to that part of the bill which makes provision for the establishment of District Councils in the United Province.

THE ARMY.—The bark Louisa, 27th April from Cork, arrived yesterday, brought seven officers and 190 men of the 66th and 80th Regiments. They proceeded to Montreal this evening in the steamer British America.

The Mercury of Saturday states, that the following officers belonging to the 11th and 15th Regiments have been allowed to remain in Canada, for the causes stated against their respective names:—
11th Regt.—Lieut. A. B. Boyd, Adjutant to a Regiment of Volunteer Militia in Cornwall.
15th Regt.—Captain and Brevet Major Colman, about to retire from the service. Lieut. Ingal, Superintendent Quarter-Master General's Department in the District of Quebec.

Lieut. MacGregor, conducting Volunteers from the 15th Regiment to their corps in Upper Canada. Lieut. Colman, Acting Paymaster to the Volunteer Militia Forces on the Richelieu Frontier.

DEATH OF CAPTAIN LEBER.—On the 8th inst. arrived at New Brunswick the steamer Great Britain. While the Great Britain was lying at the wharf in the village on Saturday, receiving passengers and baggage for London, a trunk was taken aboard by a woman, and left near the ladies' cabin. Soon after, the trunk was moved to a different position by a person on board, who was not the woman, and was exploded, with a report like that of a cannon, blowing the trunk to atoms, and throwing fire in all directions. The explosion was witnessed by a number of persons, and was attended with a severe laceration in the face and some other slight injuries. The fragments of the trunk show that it contained a jug or some vessel of some kind, with a quantity of white resin, turpentine, and oil. At the time of the explosion, the trunk was being hoisted aboard by a block and tackle, and was being lowered into the water.

Price Albert has commenced the goodly work of clearing the palace of the Cananilla and Sbirri of the Whig ministers, who have to the great disgust of the nation, too long usurped the control of Majesty, and so encircled and beset the Royal prerogative by themselves and their satellites, that the highest and noblest in the realm could not, without the greatest difficulty, obtain an audience of their Queen. All is now in progress of improvement; and as my Lady Normanby (culgo, Mrs. Simsbury) says, "our influence is on the decline," this (German gentleman), as she has facetiously designated him, is the Consort, has quite elbowed the order of things—poor Lord Melbourne cannot now make his own announcement to the presence, as he used to do, and fling his half-dried cream hat down upon the white satin faldstiel; his step is arrested in the furnace of their appearance at the jury's Royal pleasure, until it is convenient to receive him. The Bonaparte Pages are reduced—reformed, we ought to say—to the exercise of their official functions, with a hint, perhaps, that it would be more agreeable to restrict the visits of the younger branches of the Lord Chamberlain's family to their appearance at the jury's balls. All this is as it should be; but that which has excited our special wonder, knowing what we know, is that the intriguing German Baroness, and her sceptical confederate Stockman, are in a tottering state of doubtful perplexity—not acquainted with the confidence—half-recognized but very coolly repudiated. The truth is, that Prince Albert, having unravelled the mysterious web with which certain intrigues had contrived to enmesh and annoy the Duchess of Kent, has expressed his detestation of their acts, and at the same time avowed his determination to restore that amiable and beloved lady to her proper station, influence, and suitable residence.—London Argus.

HER MAJESTY'S VISIT TO THE OYERS.—Her Majesty and Prince Albert, accompanied by the Hereditary Prince of Saxony, and attended by a suite of 100 persons, arrived at the Oyers on Saturday evening. The Oyers is a small town in the Province of Prussia, and is situated on the banks of the Oyer river. The Hereditary Prince of Saxony, who is the second son of the King of Saxony, is a young man of 21 years of age, and is a member of the Prussian army. He is said to be a very accomplished officer, and is highly respected by his subjects. The visit of Her Majesty and Prince Albert to the Oyers is a very important one, as it shows the interest which the British monarch and her consort take in the welfare of their subjects in foreign countries.

THE REBUILDING OF NATECH.—Our poor desolated city, begins to teem like a beehive with the clatter of hammers, and the bang of repairs and rebuilding. Something is being done to almost every dwelling which can, by any possibility, be repaired. If the dry weather should continue ten days longer a considerable part of our population who remain in the city at that time, will be so sheltered, that they will be protected from the rain in their dwellings. The rebuilding of Natchez is a very important one, as it shows the interest which the British monarch and her consort take in the welfare of their subjects in foreign countries.

ANOTHER DISASTROUS FLOOD.—Our Southern papers for the last fortnight, have been filled with accounts of disastrous floods, freshets, hurricanes and tornadoes; various, occasionally, with the loss of a steamboat, street fights, assassinations and murders. The last disaster we have to record is a freshet which occurred in the Savannah River, (Geo.) on the 27th ult., which overflowed Augusta and Hamburg, the river having risen fifteen feet in a single night. Both bridges over it were carried away. About three miles of the South Carolina Railroad were overflowed that the cars were stopped. The floods from the streets at Hamburg were flowing about and the inhabitants were fleeing for their lives in canoes, batteaux and rafts.

FROM HAVANA.—The New Orleans Bulletin contains the latest advices from Havana. The citizens are endeavoring to bring about transatlantic steam navigation between the port of Marseilles and the ports of Havana and New Orleans, by the way of Barcelona, Cadiz, Madeira and Martinique.

By the way of Havana, we have advices from Seal of the 6th ult. Everything remained in Calcutta in the same situation as noted by our former advices.

H. M. S. Arcton, Capt. Porter, arrived at Havana on the 12th ult. from Tampico, having on board 860,000 in specie. The British packet Linnet, had arrived with $250,000 in specie.

ENGLISH SUMMARY.
Lord Brougham and Mr. Leader, M. P. are daily expected in Paris, from his Lordship's visit to England. Lord Brougham is stated to be in excellent health and spirits, and is said to have been completely renovated. It is rumored that his Lordship will remain in the French Capital but two or three days, but will hasten to attend to his Parliamentary duties, which are the most active description, and will be attended with corresponding rest in the Lower House by Mr. Leader. The right hon. Edward Ellice is still in Paris, grumbling and threatening his quarrels with the French Government. He is said to have been in Paris for some time, but has not yet returned to England.

THE Spanish General Cordova, died at Lisbon on the 29th of April.

The U. S. ship of war Cyane arrived at London on the 25th of April. On the same day another instalment of 3,000,000 francs, of the Haytian debt, was landed at London. This we believe is the second.

A squadron of three vessels was about sailing from Toulon for the China seas, to look after the French interests during the strife with England.

Mr. Charles Kemble has arrived in Paris on his way to Italy.

A typhus fever has been making great ravages in Brittany, and has raged with peculiar intensity at Saint Brieuc. In the ecclesiastical seminary of that town, fifty of the abbies have been attacked; and one of them have died, the institution has been ordered to be cleared of its inhabitants. The commune of Poulthouven, in Finistère, has also suffered severely from the fever. One former lord six children in less than a month, and in the family of another, the wife is dead, and nine out of fifteen children have been attacked by the disease.

SUSPENSION OF TWO GERMAN SERVANTS.—We understand that two Germans who came to England in the suite of Prince Albert, as valets, have been suspended, by order of his Royal Highness, since their arrival at the Castle. It appears that when the two Germans were shown the apartments that were appointed for them in the Castle they objected to them, stating they were not good enough, and they left the Castle for the purpose of taking up their residence at one of the hotels in the town. They had scarcely departed before they were inquired after by the Prince, who were informed of their intention. His Royal Highness commanded that they both should be instantly suspended from their duties and return to London, a notice to which effect was officially conveyed to them forthwith. We think His Royal Highness showed his good sense in this treatment to his fellow countrymen.—Windsor Journal.

RUSSIA AND CIRCASSIA. The Circassians continue successful in their irregular contest with Russia. They have been victorious in many skirmishes—have taken a number of fortresses of importance—and put the garrisons to the sword and supplied themselves with arms and ammunition. The news of their success has produced surprise and alarm in Russia—and all the Russian troops at Sebastopol, and Odessa, had been ordered to Circassia without delay.

FRANCE. There is nothing of importance from France. The French army at Algiers, defeated the Arabs in an engagement on the 27th of April—and the Royal Dukes of Orleans and Anjou, it is said behaved very well.

Some corn riots had occurred in France, in consequence of the advance in the price of grain, but they were quelled by active police measures, aided by a severe rain storm.
