LUNenburg.

Aug. 9.—The principal events of this week were the excursion to Liverpool and the garden party at Lindsay's hill.

On Wednesday a garden party in aid of the blind was held at Lindsay's hill, which is situated half a mile from town, and from its summit no prettier view or variety of views can be seen anywhere. The grounds are very beautiful and the trees all so desired, and from its easy access, and surroundings it would appear as if nature had intended it as a place for gatherings of this kind. Chinese lanterns and torches further adorned the grounds and the civilian band discoursed some of its fine selections during the evening. Fancy work, ice creams etc., were sold and when the proceeds were counted up it was found that about $100 was cleared over all expenses. It was an immense success financially and enjoyable.

Three hundred people embarked on the S.S.
Lunenburg accompanied by the civilian band for Liverpool on Thursday last the day was sunny the wind light and the sea smooth, so that the most understand could scarcely find fault with the ripple.
The people of Liverpool closed their shops, decorated the town in holiday style, renewed the excitement with their band, their houses and beautiful garden open, horses and carriages were placed at the disposal of visitors free of charge.
Such hospitality is seldom if ever met with in this

ST. STEPHEN AND CALAIS.

[Progress is for sale in St. Stephen by Master Robert Thibault, and at the book store of U. S. Wall in Calais at O. P. Treast.]

Aug. 9.—Yesterday Mrs. John E. Akers gave in visitors for an evening party at her residence to night, for the entertainment of the Misses Nick-son, of Somerville, Mass., who are visiting Mrs. T.
J. Smith.

A "Cinderella party" was one of the most pleasant parties that has been enjoyed since my last letter.
This party was given by Mr. Walter Bradner, at her charming home on Elm street. Dancing, of course, was the chief amusement. The young lady guests all looked extremely pretty in their light summer toilettes. One was particularly noticeable, and was of coral colored silk and black lace, and was worn by Miss Mary Sullivan, who has recently returned from New York city. Ice, cakes and fruit punch were served throughout the evening, and at half past twelve the guests, one and all, bid reluctant adieu to their kind hosts and departed to their homes.

Miss Kay Washburne gave a Welsh rare bit party on Monday, which was exceedingly pleasant.
One charming incident of the evening was the singing of Miss Helen McNichol, who has a magis-trous contralto voice, and who is also one of our prominent society belles. Among the guests were Mrs. Ralph Wood, Miss Helen Foster, Miss Lizzie McNichol, Messrs. Wellington Wack, Mr. Sherman Bois, Mr. George Downes, and Mr. John S.
Phinney, of St. Paul's, Minn.

Mrs. Charles Swan opened her beautiful home to a number of young lady guests last Friday afternoon. She invited to meet Miss E. King, of Portland, Maine, who is Mrs. Swan's guest. At five o'clock the guests began to arrive, and were received by Mrs. Swan, who looked very elegant in a gown of black ottoman silk, richly trimmed with lace; she was assisted by Miss Edith King, who looked very pretty in a blue and white organdy, and Miss Emma McNichol, who was attired in white and violet. Refreshments consisting of chocolate, chocolate wafers and chocolate bon-bons, in fact, everything was made of chocolate, was served on the broad plate, which was beautifully arranged with easy chairs and tables. Mrs. Swan is a perfect hostess, and left nothing undone that would make her young friends enjoy themselves; and not only the twilight had deepened into darkness did the belle of cups and spoons, and the sound of merry laughter cease. The ladies all enjoyed the party, and Miss Alice Cullen gave a delightful hour of instrumental music. Among the guests were,
The Misses Nellie Hall, Chas. (Lynn), Carrie Lord, Margery Rideout, George McAllister, Mary Mc-Cully, Millie Sawyer, May Jones, Robbins, Collins, Florie Cullen, Mrs. Smith, Joe E. Kim, Mollie Clarke, May Simpson, Alice Boardman, Alice Boardman, May Barnard (New York), Charlotte Young, Nellie Marchie, Carrie Belle Boardman, Dora Rounds, Clara Jordan, Helen Newton and Lucy Eaton.

Some forty young ladies enjoyed a "German" in the Armory hall, Calais, last evening, which presented a most attractive appearance as it was decorated in a most artistic manner with flowers, tropical plants, colored lanterns and bunting, by Mrs.
Henry P. P. Smith, who was assisted by Miss Marchie, Miss Nelson, Miss Copeland, Miss Rounds, and the Misses McNichol. The music was excellent and was furnished by Prof. Dinmore. The Misses McNichol, who are most graceful dancers, led the "German" and introduced many figures that have never been here before. The evening was very pleasant, the ladies all enjoyed it, and were the last, the column, the circle coquette, and a number of favor figures. The young ladies were most prettily gowned, nearly all were in white. As not a young man was invited it can be quite imagined how curious were their feelings as the gay music was heard and they knew that a good time and a delightful evening was in progress without them.

The dramatic recital and musicals given by Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Harriott, in Mrs. E. J. Vroom's parlor last Tuesday evening, was one of the most enjoyable affairs of the kind that has ever been given here. Mr. and Mrs. Harriott are exceedingly talented and accomplished, and most kindly offered to give this concert for the benefit of Christ church.

Mrs. Harriott has a charming manner and a rich sympathetic voice and sang with great taste. Mr.
Harriott has exceptionally fine talent as a violinist and reader, his recitation "Lancelot" was admirable and called forth much praise. Miss Newton, of Calais, kindly assisted Mr. and Mrs. Harriott and gave two piano solos that were most pleasing. There about seventy five people present. Mr. and Mrs. Harriott have been guests of Miss McBride, but left on Monday for their home in Boston, much to the regret of their friends.

The Moon's Influence

Upon the weather is accepted by some as real, by others it is disputed. The moon never attracts corn from the tender, snail-like, Putnam's Palladium Corn Extractor removes the most painful corns in three days. This great remedy makes no sore spots, doesn't hurt, doesn't burn, a man's boot, his
