Last week was a very quiet one, with old friends gone in the trouper, and new comers settling quietly down in their new quarters. Mrs. Daly gave a delightful tea, however, on Wednesday after the football match, not quite so large as the week before but as enjoyable. Her tea table was as usual a thing of beauty, as well as a temptation to the average person to spoil their dinner, and everyone seemed to be well dressed and cheerful.

On Thursday there was another tea at Government house but smaller and still another is fixed for Wednesday next (today).

The friends of Windsor, and indeed a great many others who only know of that town through its misfortunes have been working hard for it, and one of the fruits of their labors is a subscription ball to be held at the commodore's house tonight (Wednesday). Admiral Fisher is giving the house, which is one of the many excellent dances given there in the past, the flagships contribute the band and decorations, and the ladies committee are presenting the refreshments, so that expenses will be kept very small indeed, and nearly the lump sum of the proceeds will be untouched.

On the committee are Lady Fisher, the Hon. Mrs. Montgomery Moore, Mrs. Morrow, Mrs. Townsend and others, and circulars have already been issued to all probable subscribers. The subscription asked is a very small one a dollar seeming as nothing when compared with the prices asked for former charity balls.

A musical and dramatic entertainment, of which the chief movers are Major and Mrs. Connelline, has also been organized for next Friday evening. There is to be a one-act opera and a play, in which well-known amateur talent appears, among which are Professor Curry and Mrs. Geoffrey Morrow. Mrs. Moir, who is new to Halifax dramatic circles, is also taking part, and Captain Duffus, whose experience is invaluable, is acting as stage manager.

The Victoria club for girls in which a great many well known society ladies are interested was opened last week, and most successfully. It has been a great want here, and people should do their best to help it on, for it is one of the newest and most deserving of institutions.

There was a small dinner party given last week at Bellevue, where several people are staying, among them Miss Colbourne, who arrived lately from England.

Football continues to be as fashionable as ever though alas! that it must be said, the attendance of the fair on Wednesday, when ladies had for once to pay for admittance, was sparse indeed when compared with free days.

Still it must be said that there were various other things going on, such as a bicycle party and a tea at Government house. Saturday there were several small tea parties after the match, and there will be general lamentation when the season is over.

A very pleasant bicycle party was given by Mrs. Ritchie at Belmont, with a tea afterwards, and this week there are two others on the cards. The old-fashioned walking party has been quite superseded; the chaperons rejoice in the change. A bicycle chaperon is not so fatigued by the end of the day, and there are other advantages.

The Orpheus club will give their usual series of concerts this winter, and at one of them will give Handel's Messiah, which few people will not be glad of the opportunity of hearing.

An innovation is proposed for the winter in the shape of a small dancing club, which is to meet once a fortnight at the house of one of its members. Supper is to be strictly limited and chaperons are to be kept. Each hostess can invite six guests, besides the ordinary club members, so that there will be an element of variety introduced.

A dancing class on somewhat the same lines has been held among the young people for the past two winters, but the proposed club is of older people, with houses of their own.

TRURO.

[Progress is for sale in Truro by Mr. G. O. Fulton, Mr. D. H. Smith & Co.]

Nov. 3.—The quiet ceremony performed last Wednesday afternoon by Rev. Theo. Cummings at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Lawrence, uniting in marriage Dr. F. S. Yorton and Miss Helene Lawrence, was witnessed by over forty guests, and though quietly observed was still an elaborate function. The spacious parlours dining room and hall were all gay with much floral decoration where the bridal party stood in the embrasure of a deep bay window, a handsome arch of white chrysanthemums and mignonette being erected, and within the alcove a huge bell of white anemones and delicate ferns was suspended. In the dining room there was also a wreath of flowers, whilst palms and potted plants were prettily disposed about. The bride wore a gown of heavy dark white silk simply trimmed with pearl embroidery and chiffon. She was attended by two bridesmaids, Miss Jessie Wallace, of Moncton, N. B., in white silk over blue, ribbon and chiffon trimmings, and Miss Sadie Yorton in a very becoming and charming gown of pale blue crepe de chine over tulle silk of the same shade, trimmings of white moire ribbon and chiffon. The groom was attended by his brother Mr. Will Yorton, C. E. of Parrabore; after the ceremony an elaborate collation was served in the dining room. Mr. and Mrs. Yorton left by Quebec express for the Upper provinces enroute to Chicago. Crowds of mutual friends had assembled at the depot to wish the happy couple bon voyage. The bride wore a going away dress of dark blue broad cloth braided and made with jacket in Russian effect.

One of our newest brides Mrs. Bert Black is receiving her friends this week, assisted by Miss McKay. Miss Shand is dispensing hospitalities in the dining room and it is the Mrs. H. Shand who is also assisting. The bride who is wearing her wedding gown, for the first time, is looking very charming in it. The gown is of cream satin, the richness of which is embellished by some real lace about the neck and sleeves. Miss McKay in a toilette of pink silk with pink chiffon bodice and sleeves, is charming and dainty as usual. This afternoon, the Monday and Tuesday receptions being in the evening, a charming luncheon most people think, the bride is wearing a lovely creation of pink chiffon and silk, and Miss McKay a much belted skirt of black silk with bodice of apple green, and sleeves of black velvet.

Mr. C. A. McCully left on Monday for Yarmouth en route to New York.

Mr. Martin Dickie, Manager of the Merchants bank is home from the far west, where he has been in the interests of his bank for some months. Mr. Dickie's many friends are glad to welcome him home again, and to know that despite the flattering inducements extended to him in far distant Ross, land he chose to return to his native town.

Mrs. F. A. Lawrence gave a very charming afternoon tea last Wednesday.

Nov. 2.—Our little town is feeling the reaction of the vice-regal visit of last week, consequently everything is very quiet in society circles.

There is nothing of importance to report unless it be the supper given in honor of our new premier, Hon. J. B. Emerson, by his fellow citizens at the Hotel Windsor last night. It was well attended by our most prominent citizens. Among the number of those who attended were the Rev. J. R. Campbell, rector of Trinity church, and Mr. Thomas the Methodist minister; Mr. Burgess, the Baptist minister was obliged to send his regrets on account of illness in his family. Sheriff McQueen occupied the chair. Among those asked from other places were Mr. Opp of St. John's, Mr. C. W. Robinson and Mr. Peters of Moncton. The room of the Windsor were very tastefully decorated with flags, and the oyster supper was served in the excellent style for which the Windsor is noted. Speeches were made by the guest of the evening, Hon. J. B. Emerson, Mr. Campbell and Mr. Fowler of the speaker. Mr. Bradford Gilbert replied to the toast of the ladies. A most delightful evening was spent by all. Dorchester is very proud of the new premier, as he is the fourth whose home has been in this place.

Dorchester is looking forward to a performance in Hickman's Hall on Friday evening, to be given by the members of the D. A. D. C. in aid of the fund for the building of a rink. Two ladies will be presented, and music will be furnished by our local talent. An enjoyable evening is anticipated by all, as the D. A. D. C. is known to have some very efficient actors. A full account of the performance will be given in next week's issue.

Mrs. W. D. Douglas of Sheet Harbor is visiting her mother Mrs. Joseph Hickman.

Miss Nellie Davidson is spending a few weeks with her grandmother Mrs. Joseph Hickman, en route to the South where she expects to spend the winter.

The holiday given by Lord Aberdeen to the school was fixed for November 1st. The principal of the superior school Mr. N. W. Brown went to his home in York Co. for that day.

Mrs. N. W. Brown has been quite ill. Her mother, Mrs. Bishop was nursing her. She has gone to her former home in Albert Co. for a change.
