Liquor Inspector Cannot Interfere

Injunction Restraining Officials from Interfering With Storing of Liquor Sustained

The injunction restraining the Attorney-General and the Chief Liquor Inspector from interfering with the storing of liquor for export trade in bonded warehouses established in this city by the W. E. McIntyre and J. J. Bradley, wholesale liquor firms of Montreal, was sustained by Mr. Justice Gauthier in the Chancery Division of the Supreme Court yesterday afternoon.

He ordered that the injunction previously granted by the court be continued until the next sitting of the court, which will not be until the middle of July.

The argument in the petition of the Attorney-General and the Chief Liquor Inspector that the injunction be rescinded or varied, was begun by W. B. Wallace, K. C., on behalf of the Attorney-General, and by W. M. Macdonald, K. C., on behalf of the Chief Liquor Inspector, on the opening of the court at 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

The Bradley Company was represented by Dr. F. R. Taylor, K. C., and William G. Pugsley, Jr., K. C., of Ottawa; while the McIntyre Company was represented by Dr. J. B. M. Baxter, K. C.; M. G. Teed, K. C., and J. D. P. Lewis.

Affidavits Presented.

Affidavits were presented by Dr. Wallace, giving statements of the C. B. Lockhart, Collector of Customs, Sub-Liquor Inspector Crawford, and Chief Inspector Hawthorne in connection with the matter. The latter said there had been no request to him to inspect and approve the sites chosen for warehouse purposes.

Regarding the granting of the injunction, Dr. Wallace contended that the attorney-general in his official capacity could not be enjoined, that he was not a necessary and proper party to the suit as there had been nothing in the affidavits presented by the liquor companies to show he was attempting to do anything in the matter. It was also contended that notice of action must be given to the inspector and that no injunction should issue as the question was simply hypothetical and there was no issue to be tried.

He said the right to establish a bonded warehouse was not denied by the province to the Dominion, but the province was not forced to accept any condition precedent.

J. P. D. Lewis read an affidavit in reply, and Dr. Baxter, M. G. Teed and Dr. Taylor argued the case of the liquor interests in the afternoon.

Some minor changes made in the injunction at the request of Dr. Wallace were unopposed by his opponents.

Powerless to Interfere.

As a result of yesterday's hearing the prohibition authorities remain powerless to interfere in any manner with the storing of liquor in bonded warehouses for export trade. The removal of the liquor stored in several C. P. R. cars in the city awaiting the decision of the court will in all probability be proceeded with at once and the bonded warehouses secured by the liquor companies will soon be filled to capacity with an array of liquors suited to the enormous demand anticipated by the wholesalers.

It is said that the decision of the court in July will be a matter of little moment to the liquor dealers. It is during the month of June that they propose to reap the golden harvest, as Ontario, Nova Scotia and the Western Provinces will all be dry by July, and it will be illegal to export liquor to those areas then.

Enumerators Had Wonderful Time

Thirty-Six Are on the Job Securing 1921 Federal Census—Task is Difficult.

Thirty-six enumerators set out yesterday morning on the task of securing the 1921 federal census of the city. Each man has been assigned a special territory and will only report to the Census Commissioner, W. S. Clawson, at the census headquarters on the corner of Union and Smythe streets, when he has completed his task.

Chance to Help

Citizens of the city may help in many ways to make the difficult task facing the enumerators an easy one. The last time the census was taken many expressed surprise that the city's population was not rated larger than it was, but this may be accounted for to some extent by the fact that all those who work in the city, but whose homes are situated in Robesonia, Hampton, or other out-of-town points, are classed as citizens of those points and not of St. John.

On the other hand, it is feared that in this census many citizens who are bona fide residents of the city may not be so enumerated in view of the fact that they are spending the summer in country homes. The enumerators wish it to be known, however, that if they hand their names into the city, they will not have to bother with the census taker. Those who may do this are all who, while living in the country at the present time, have their permanent residence in the city.

Those in the Country

A man and his family who sublet their city house for the summer and move to the country, should advise the enumerators of this fact, and they will be enrolled as citizens of St. John. All will naturally join in assisting to make the population of the city as large as possible.

Another way in which the citizens may help in this respect is by advising the enumerators of members of the city who, while making their homes in the city, are at present abroad or located in some other part of the country.

N.B. Power Co. Makes Splendid Offer

Ready to Adopt Standard's Suggestion to Help Unemployed.

The suggestion in the editorial columns of The Standard yesterday that two or three shifts of men be employed on the Brussels street paving job to furnish work for the unemployed, is being received with favor by all who are interested in a solution of the unemployment problem, when in the Standard endeavored to get in touch with the contractors having the work in charge to urge the workmen of the suggestion upon their consideration, but the manager was out of the city and his view could not be had. There is a feeling among those who are following up The Standard's suggestion that the contractors will adopt it.

Power Co. Favors Scheme

General Manager Thomson, of the New Brunswick Power Co., which will have to employ and help many men on the Brussels street work, when interviewed, expressed himself as most favorable to the suggestion of The Standard, and said his company would gladly put on one or two extra shifts, whatever the contractors agreed upon, so as to furnish work for more of the unemployed. Furthermore, Manager Thomson has promised The Standard that the company will make Brussels street as light as day, in so far as electric brilliancy can do it, for the night shift without any expense to the city or the contractors. Manager Thomson says he is ready to enter into this agreement on a moment's notice and hopes others will join with The Standard in a united effort to put the suggestion into effect.

Five Deacons Were Elected

Interesting Service in Ludlow Street Baptist Church West St. John Last Evening.

An interesting event took place at Ludlow Street Baptist Church last evening when five deacons were elected at one of the most representative gatherings held in the church for many years. According to the constitution, seven deacons are to carry on the work of the church. Five having passed away within the past ten years John F. Ring and Everett J. Ring were the remaining two.

A short devotion service took place before the election. Rev. Isaac Brindley conducted this service.

Deacons John F. Ring, Renwick J. Anderson and Roy C. McKinney acted as scrutineers.

The ballot, which was a secret one, resulted in the election of the following:

Edgar W. Christopher, William Fulton, George T. Ring, R. Hunter Parsons, Renwick J. Anderson. The two first named are elected for two years, Mr. Parsons and Mr. Anderson for two years.

During the evening, plans were perfected for the entertainment of the Southern Association of the Baptist Church which meets at the Ludlow Street Church the last of June. About fifty delegates are expected to attend this gathering.

MONEY UNDER FALSE PRETEXTS

Joseph T. Elliott was arrested on a warrant yesterday afternoon by the detective department, charging him with obtaining money under false pretences, by passing bogus checks. One drunk was arrested in the evening, and one protectionist had recourse to the city's dormitory.

Monsieur Herbert of Boutouche, and Monsieur Demont of Caracou, N. B. who were attending a ceremony at Holy Heart Seminary, Halifax, and who spent a few hours here, left this morning for their homes. While in the city they were guests at the Palace.

HARBOR REVENUE OFF.

The harbor revenue for May will amount to about $7,000, or only about half of the amount collected in May, 1920. The falling off is due to the fact that last May fourteen or fifteen ocean liners entered at the port, while last month there were comparatively few steamers here.

Minnie Ferris On Charge of Theft

Is Alleged to Have Robbed Halifax Church of England Institute.

Detective Atkins of the Halifax police department returned to this city on the late express last night. He had in his custody Minnie Ferris, the young girl arrested here for a theft alleged to have been committed by her in Halifax some few days ago.

Early Morning Entrance.

According to the officer's story, Miss Ferris, sometime known as "Billie" may also have to face the charge of forgery when brought before the Nova Scotia courts. She was formerly employed with the Church of England Institute on Barrington street, but resigned her position some three weeks ago. A few days later the till of the institute was found rifled of some $4, all the petty cash being taken out in favor of a number of different women.

Nothing seemed to have disappeared at the time but the cash, but a week later, the head of the institute was surprised to be informed by the bank that his account had been overdrawn by over $150. On looking up his check book, he found that some five or six checks had been torn from the back of the book.

Getting in touch with the bank, he found over a half a dozen checks made out to city residents, and different young ladies had been accepted by merchants in the city in payment for furs, and cashed at the banks. The description of the girl who had passed the check under different alias answered to Miss Ferris and it was soon found that she had left Halifax for St. John, whereupon she was ordered held for the Halifax police. The girl, who is possessed of a pretty countenance and attractive figure, protests her innocence.

Overdrawn Accounts.

Nothing seemed to have disappeared at the time but the cash, but a week later, the head of the institute was surprised to be informed by the bank that his account had been overdrawn by over $150. On looking up his check book, he found that some five or six checks had been torn from the back of the book.
