

for progress, practical development and freedom and stability of Government? but we are debtors: in a great sense - to those great Norse and British stock of early voyages and discoveries - who ~~was~~ laid the foundation of discovery and adventure - on which our later conquests were ~~built~~ erected.
- Such as may be the material success of modern Canada - there was a chivalry and poetry of the earlier life of this continent which should not ~~be~~ be forgotten.

And when we - honour - Shattara Mountstephen, and - the young - present day giants of western progress. we should, if we are a truly great and grateful people - keep a niche in our hearts memory - for - Champlain & LaSalle; Marquette, Le Verendrye and Radisson.

W.C.

Dear Sir,
I care this hasty & scrawl but this, with my article is what you want, for your check - Sincerely,
W.L. Mackenzie King