NORTHWAY'S GRAND DISPLAY

Their Opening This Year More Successful than any Other Ever Experienced.

The Millinery Department now at its Best—Their Store Daily Crowded With Visitors.

It is inherent in every woman to love pretty clothes and the makings thereof, hence it is nothing remarkable to note that at the present time all the women in our city are flocking to the fall openings to feast their eyes on the most tempting array of new fashions this or any previous season has offered.

Among the chief of these openings is that of the John Northway Co. Wednesday's autumn showing at this well known store included a display of high class goods, which was one of the finest ever shown in Chatham and fully sustained the reputation this store has earned for itself. Northway's have had many charming openings during the past three years, but never anything that equaled Wednesday's showing. The advantages of personally visiting the European fashion centres and securing the very latest novelties is greatly in evidence in all the stock of the Northway Co. Not only in point of style and quality, but the immense showing was a surprise to all. The fair sex of our city must have greatly increased in numbers, for Northway's must be supplying them all with head gear, judging from the immense range of new styles and patterns shown in their millinery department, and the enthusiastic crowds of fair admirers who thronged the showrooms Wednesday all day and evening.

Miss Elsie Wilson, in charge of this department, and who is an authority on millinery matters, informed us that the prevailing shades are verdigris and watercolor green, made in every tint; and wood shades up to the fur browns, pearl, friar and chineilla, poppy and cherry red. Shell and rose pink, turquoise and sky blue, black and white, more than any other colors predominate. The shapes are in many styles of the sixteenth century and many large effect toques tilted on one or both sides, with long sweeping plumes, also birds and breasts; panne velvet also chenille embroidery and square sequin trimming are much in evidence. Antique lace is very large—used, also much stitching and solid sitting, and the overlapping frill effect. Pleasant feathers lead and hardly a hat is seen but what has several brims.

Among the many charming creations a real Duchess of Devonshire was one of the richest noticed. The shape was of black panne velvet, black antique lace encircled the brim caught up on the side with four sweeping black plumes, and on the forehead was a circle of rhinestones. Another attractive design is the new scoop turban. The hat is made of fine black velvet and white silk, trimmed with a huge black feather pom-pom tipped with white; a twin bow of black velvet rests on the hair at the back.

A handsome model is "The Bolero," designed by Paul Virot and Berthe, Paris, a large shape covered with green panne velvet and chenille, double brim, large crown, caught down at back with strass buckles, faced with folds of chenille and velvet, finished off with four Amazon plumes at the side.

In children's wear the range is most extensive and many are the pretty models shown. Some very charming hats and bonnets are made of white silk bear, finished with ribbon and white tips. Beaver is very extensively used and some choice patterns are shown, but as in ladies' wear the range of styles are so varied and charming nothing short of a visit to the showrooms will give you a proper conception of this magnificent display.

Next to the millinery on the second floor, is the mantle, cloak and fur department, which is crowded with all the latest styles and novelties for fall and winter wear.

The main floor of the store was beautifully decorated. The display of new goods here was unusually interesting. Rich silks and satins, all the latest weaves and colorings in new dress goods, with a beautiful collection of the latest trimmings, were artistically arranged and made a magnificent display. The window display was unusually brilliant and a master piece of artistic merit. The Northway Co. are to be congratulated on their excellent opening display and their success is an assured fact.

HAS PASSED

The Time Scheduled for Botha's Much Threatened Invasion of Cape Colony Lapsed.

London, Sept. 26.—A despatch to the Times from Newcastle, Natal, says:—"The moment for a serious invasion of Natal, if such an idea has been in Commandant-General Botha's mind, has passed. Both the Buffalo and Tugela Rivers are in flood, while Gen. Littleton's troops are sufficient to deal with the enemy should he elect to cross the border. It is thought probable that Botha's plan of seeming to threaten Natal was in order to keep the minds of the burghers occupied, and so divert their attention from the expiration of the term of grace allowed by Lord Kitchener's latest proclamation."

NO DEFINITE ACTION.
The correspondence of the Times at Cape Town, says the Chamber of Commerce there has discussed the advisability of placing the entire Cape peninsula under martial law. The members decided that they were ready to submit to the inconvenience which such a step would entail if it were absolutely necessary to the successful ending of the war. They took no definite action, however.

STILL HAVE 20,000 MEN.
Brussels, Sept. 26.—It is stated that Mr. Kruger has received reports from South Africa showing that the rebels in the Cape Colony number 15,000, and that General Botha's force in the Transvaal numbers 5,000 men.

REINDEER AT PRETORIA.
Pretoria, Sept. 26.—Reindeer is virtually here. The outbreak was first noticed about Sept. 4, and the disease has now spread through the Transvaal and the Orange River Colony. Energetic measures have been taken to inoculate all the government and private stock now in the hands of the British, and it is said that the pestilence has already been checked. The stock that is still in the hands of the Boers is expected to suffer heavily. The situation is looked upon by the British as a not unmitigated curse, as it is hoped that by their culling the Boers will not be able to harvest their usual food supplies.

SOUTH BUXTON.

The peach social at St. Andrew's church last Friday was a success, notwithstanding the evening was very cool. The attendance was good; refreshments in abundance. A lively chairman and a fine program made the evening very enjoyable. Rev. Mr. Brammer occupied the chair with much humor and ability, to the delight of the audience. Songs by D. Oliver and Ed. Hea, Miss Riddle and Miss Somerville were of a high order. The addresses by Revs. McLean and Walker were select and good, but the comic reading by Miss Waterman fairly brought down the house. Mr. Abbott gave some good selections on the month organ, which closed with God Save the King. Receipts, $37.50.

Wm. Pratt has purchased a corn binder and Jas. Ross a corn shredder, both of the 11th Con.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Graham have returned from Cleveland.

Our Store Closes At Six

Men who know this store do not need to be told that it has some little ways of its own. We mention it for those who do not know.

In this city of Chatham there is one clothing and furnishing store that closes its doors at six o'clock every evening but Saturday—has done so since its sign was first hung over the door, and expects to while the sign stays there.

Do you approve of a nine or twelve hour working day? Does it strike you as the fair and considerate way to let the salesman have his evenings for recreation and home life as the mechanic has? Are you in sympathy with us on this question.

Theatrical

Manager F. H. Briscoe of the Grand has issued the following announcement in connection with Saturday night's production, which speaks for itself:—Toronto. To patrons of the Grand Opera House beg to announce with pleasure the engagement for Saturday evening, September 28th, of Mr. H. Reeves-Smith, the eminent English comedian, in A Brace of Partridges. This comedy had the success of a large metropolitan run, both in London, England, and New York City.

Mr. Reeves-Smith comes to Chatham from a recently successful run at Toronto. To patrons of the Grand Opera House it can be recommended as the best comedy that has appeared in Canada in recent years.

After the third act of the "Ted Prouty" performance at London, on Tuesday evening, Mr. Richard Golden appeared before the curtain, again in a neat speech complimented the management for the fine opera house erected for the amusement of the theatre-going people of London. To his belief it was the best appointed theatre he had ever entered. Complimenting the very highly recommended production to be played in Chatham of Mr. Reeves-Smith, in A Brace of Partridges. He had witnessed the comedy and could most emphatically state that H. Reeves-Smith to-day was the best exponent of comedy on the stage and the play one of the best on the road. He strongly advised everybody that could witness the performance, knowing that afterwards they would heartily agree with his remarks.

Owing to the fact that this play is booked for Saturday night, arrangements have been made to hold the curtain until nine o'clock, which will enable everybody to do their shopping before the performance opens.

The following telegram was received via the C. P. R. by Manager Briscoe last evening:—

London, Ont., Sept. 20th, 1901.

F. H. Briscoe,

Chatham.

H. Reeves-Smith, with a splendid company in A Brace of Partridges, made one of the most emphatic hits here that London has seen. No better comedy or company has visited Chatham in ten years.

(Signed) J. F. CAIRNS.

The Brownies will be presented at the Grand by local talent on Thursday and Friday, Oct. 3 and 4. Malcolm Douglas, of New York, who will stage it, will arrive here with costumes on Monday next.

The Toronto World says:

"Under most flattering but deserved auspices, 'The Brownies in Fairyland' was given its initial presentation at Massey Hall last night. Needless to say many and proud Toronto parents were included in the 3,000 people present. 'The Brownies in Fairyland' is like one of the most exalted social functions of the season, and one of the best patronized and produced juvenile theatre events ever enjoyed by a select Toronto audience."
