

Wesleyan Missions to India.

In a recent letter the Rev. W. Butler writes—What a singular coincidence it seems that the English and American Methodist missions to India should both have commenced their labours under afflictive circumstances, in each case connected with the superintending of the mission.

In the Senate, it has been agreed that the debate shall close on Monday next, on which day it is expected Mr. Douglas will speak.

General Intelligence.

Colonial. Domestic. We desire to direct particular attention to the following item, which has been proposed to us for publication.

The idea of the city of Halifax has been proposed to a Bishop presented to the Honorable Lady Isabella, as a religious and moral education, and of Christian faith, hope, and fortitude by which she was animated and sustained at Lucknow; and of their respect and admiration for his heroic and brave defender, Major-General Sir James E. W. Inglis, K.C.B., a native of Halifax.

PROVINCIAL SECRETARY'S OFFICE, Halifax, March 28.—His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor, by the advice of the Executive Council, has been pleased to make the following appointments.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE HON. JAMES B. UNACKE.—The mortal remains of the late distinguished Hon. James Boyle Unacke, were interred in the cemetery of the Protestant Episcopal Church, on Tuesday forenoon according to announcement. The funeral train was of unusual extent, it included 35 carriages, Members of the Bar, both branches of the Legislature, Officers of the Government, Members of the Canadian Irish Society, with mourning badges, and other citizens. The procession suggested thoughts of solemn character. A few years ago the deceased was one of the most popular and distinguished men of the Province;—he was of distinguished manners, but kind and gentlemanly disposition;—an ornament to the legal profession and of the Legislature. Then a sudden and early death cut him off in the prime of his life, leaving behind him a name and public memory to the recollection of his contemporaries and to the admiration of his country, among whose admirers some of the most prominent for many years. Truly, this was a solemnly changing character, and passing events may suggest eloquent teachings of a more enduring state of existence.—Morn. Sun.

United States. Steamship Star of the West, at New York, brings California dates of Feb. 20, 1851, 300,000 people, and 200 passengers. The news is of little interest. A slight improvement in business had taken place. It is again rumored that the Mormons are about to emigrate to Northern Mexico. Several letters received from the States, with the government war department of Peru, and the American Minister demanded satisfaction of the authorities.—In one case—that of barque Dorcas C. Young, a man-of-war, the captain claims as compensation from the government $10,000 damages for detention &c.

Intelligence from the army of Utah is received to January 26. The troops were in good health, and comfortable. Two hundred of the principal of the Utah Indians had been captured, and given assurance of their peaceable intentions. The Cheyennes, most of them, also desire peace with the American Government.
