PARABLE OF THE SOWER .-Mark iv. 1-20.

1.2.—The place was probably near Betheaids, where there is deep water water within a few yards of the shore, while multitude of hearers could place hemselves so as to see the Saviour in the boat. There is no such natural durch along the other coast by Gengesareth. These were not the first parables He had spoken; He now set imself to teach systematically by this method, and they for the most part needed a key to unlock their meaning. A parable has been said to be like the pillar of fire and cloud, which turned bright side to the Israelites and a dark one to the Egyptians. Some of His parables were purposely intended to confuse and perplex the cavillers and objectors, but to illustrate the buth and make it clearer for His disciples through His own explanation (ver. 11-12). He took this course we bearn from St. Matthew, because the Jews had shown themselves determin. ed not to be convinced (Matt xiii.

Ver. 3-8.—The distinction between our country with enclosed, well-cultinated fields, and an agriculture with all the appliances of modern science, he to be remembered.

Ver. 10-13. -It was given to the disout, for the simple reason that they were believers, while the Jews had re-Lences of the truth of His claims (Matt. mii. 15). "They had seen the greatest macles, yet, as though they had not seen ed; and they had heard the doctrines of Christ, and were as though they had not heard them—they not only paid no attention to understand them fully, but, as far as they knew them, they had rejected them. Their case, therefore had become hopeless, and they were now by a righteous decision, grounded upon a principle of the moral government of God, deprived of the advantages they had abused—at least in part—and preparatory to their total dereliction."- Watson.

In ver. 13, Jesus expresses surprise at the slowness of apprehension of His and will be hard in texture. If the at. The results of His own ministry were in quantity. so similar to those which He described, that the analogy should at once have suggested itself to their mind. How often do we lay ourselves open to simihr rebukes? But to their ignorance we owe that beautiful explanation of this parable which is recorded. The explanation (ver. 14-20) describes in graphic terms four classes of hearers of the word. 1 Unimpressionable hearers. These are represented by the wayside. The good seed falls on such ground without sinking into it. Satan sends his messengers, like the birds of the air, to pick it up, and of course it of earth. The soil is apparently good, but not to get it to grow to maturity. They bud and blossom freely, but the blossoms soon fade, the leaves drop off, and no fruit is ever realized. Some of them by proving that they have no hearers. These are represented by the and spiritless. thorny ground. It is noteworthy that St. Mark adds "the lusts of other things" to the hindrances mentioned by St. Matthew. What he means is an inordinate desire for this world's goods. Worldly ambitions, worldly pleasures, worldly fashions, etc., are thorns which choke the good seed in many a heart where it had begun to grow and give promise of future fruit. A. Fruitful hearers. These are represented by the good ground. But they are not all fruitful alike; the degree of fruitfulness depends upon natural capacity, opportunity, and various cirsumstances. But all can be fruitful in some degree. We are responsible for the state of our hearts, as to which kind of ground they represent. It and, if it is not, it may be made so. To make it so is the work of the Holy Spirit, if we will only yield to His in uence. - Abridged from Sunday-school Magazine.

POISON IN SILK.

The occupation of dressmaking is by no means so innocuous as is generally supposed. A dressmaker just admitted into the Leeds dispensary, in England, was found to have a distinct blue line on her gums, with simultaneous symptoms such as a furred ton gue, inflamma tion of the lips, and general debilityall signs pointing to the probability of poisoning by lead. The doctor in attendance en her for some time failed to discover the source, and was beginming to think the blue line had been caused in some other way, when he accidentally learned from a merchant that silken thread, being sold by weight and not by length, is sometimes adulterated with sugar of lead. He then questioned the patient, and she informed him that it had been a common Practice with her, when at work, to hold silk as well as other kinds of thread, in her mouth, and that she had done this the more readily with silk, masmuch as it often had a sweet taste. This characteristic is a sure indication of the presence of lead and all thread possessing it should either be rejected or used with caution. It will be found

PLASTER OF PARIS.

Plaster of Paris, applied to a potato field, produces remarkable results. The vines should be dusted with it as soon as they are about three inches high, at the rate of about 150 pounds to the acre. That it is beneficial is conceded by all potatoe growers who have made the experiment. In composition it is only the natural gypsum calcined, that is, deprived of its water by being intensely beated in kilns. A writer in the Home and Farm gives the following regarding it : "Its actions as a manure are threefold. It attracts and retains ammoria from the atmosphere; it renders soluble the manurial element in the soil, and acts directly, more or less, as a food for vegetation. It is a fertilizer that is very beneficial to all crops, and is particularly effective upon loamy, light and sandy lands; whereas clayer, and stiff, sticky, black soils are not so much benefited by its applica-

A writer in the Gardner's Chronicle makes the suggestion that division lines between town residences, which are now often merely a low hedge, might as well be made of currants, gooseberries, or raspberries, as of fruitless thorns or evergreens. A wire stretched at two or three feet above the surface would mark the exact division between meum and teum, and in the case of raspberries would serve for both sides to attach the tips of their canes to, so as to be neatly held up. With due attention to pruning out immediately after fruiting, tying up the shoots for next year's bearing, and to the equal necessity of hoeing and mulching, such a division hedge could be made to look quite neat, as well as ought to be good ground in every case, to afford a liberal supply of homegrown, well-grown and enjoyable ber-

"Sudden Colds."-At the commencement of a cold, take a teaspoonful of Perry Davis' Pain-Killer in a little milk and sugar, and the cure is more sudden than the cold.

Disease and death often approach in the shape of slight ailments. When, therefore, you are suffering from indisposition of any description, purify your system with one or two doses of Dr. Herrick's Sugar Vegetable Pills, that never fail to restore health and strength.

Since vitality or nervous strength is engendered most speedily by the use of Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites, it is the remedy calculated not only to mitigate the violence of wasting diseases, and induce a rapid recovery, but also to protect such as use it from being attacked by epidemic maladies.

Dr. Lloyd, of Ohio, surgeon in the army during the war, from exposure contracted consumption. He says in a letter addressed to Messrs. J. N. PARALYSIS. — Pisarit co, St. John Co., N. B., Sept. 2, 1880. 1 had last winter an attack of Diphtheria, and got cold before I had completely recovered from its effects, which resulted in Paralysis that left me unable to stand or walk, and for six or seven weeks I had to be carried into my store in a chair, and was unable to move without assistance, and without any signs of improvement until I commeneed the use of Graham's Pain Eradicator. It soon caused a decided improvement and in two weeks of use was quite well and able to attend to my business as usual, and have since remained well-

A REMARKABLE CASE.—Mrs. Issac Foster, Aylesfard, N. S., says: "I had for fifteen years suffered with distressing Pain in my Stomach causing Faintness and spitting of Blood, for which I had medical treatment and tried the most popular remedies with-out benefit until about nine years ago when a friend gave me a dose of Graham's Pain Eradicator which soon relieved me, and by the use of two or three bottles was so completely cured that I felt no return of it for seven years, when, from taking a severe cold I was again attacked with, but wareadily cured by again using the Pain Eradicator."

DYSPERSIA OF THIRTY YEARS' STANDING .- From J. T. Bowen, of East Autora, N.Y. "I was troubled tried several medicines advertised for the cure of this distressing complaint without deriving any benefit from them. About a year ago I commenced taking the "Peruvian Syrup," and after using altogether twelve bottles I find myself entirely cured. I consider my case one of the worst I ever heard of. and I take pleasure in recommending the "Peruvian Syrup" to all dyspeptics, believing that it will be sure to cure them." All druggists sell it.

OPINIONS DIFFER.

THE OPINIONS of men differ on various things. Now take, for instance, their opinion of FELLOWS' LEEMING'S ESSENCE the great remedy for Lame Horses). One man says that it cured a Spavin that had been on his horses for a number of years; another one informs us that he had a horse that had a Ringbone, and he took him to town thinking that he would income him for what was price that he would dispose of him for whatever price he would bring; but meeting a friend on his way he was pe suaded to try as a last resort a bottle of FELLOWS' LEEMING'S ESSENCE. Before the bottle was half used the Ringbone had nearly dis-appeared, and after a while his neigh-bors did not know it was the same horse. We could keep on telling the various opinions of different men in all parts of Canada as to the great cures effected by this great remedy. Some would tell you of Sprains cured; others of curbs removed. You would also find them telling you of cures of Swellings, Splints and Stiff Joints. Horses that were not worth their keep would be sold for hundre is of dollars after using FELLOWS' LEEMING'S ESSENCE You would find that opinions would not differ about you getting the genuine article. SPAVIN CURED.

St. John, N. B., January 6th, 1880. DEAR SIRS: In regard to your favor of a few days ago, I would say; About one year ago a horse owned by me contracted a large Bone Spavin, for the cure of which I tried a number of the liniments and lotions advertised to cure the same, without any effect, and he became very lame. A friend of mine recommended me to try FEL-

LOWS' LEEMING'S ESSENCE. I acted upon his advice, and now I am happy to say the lameness has ceared and the Spavin disappeared. I now consider him entirely cured, and would cheerfully recommend FEL-LOWS' LEEMING'S ESSENCE as the best romedy in the market for all the laneness that horses

PURELY VECETABLE.

These Pills are not offered to the public as a novelty or a universal panacea for "all the ills which flesh is heir to;" they have been extensively used, and their virtues are well known to many who will be glad to learn that the proprietor has made arrangements to continue the manufacture on a scale equal to the increasing demand. The Pills are all made under his East Autora, N.Y. The oft-repeated assertions that in bilious disorders and the various diseases of the Liver, there is no remedy but by the use of Mercury, in Blue Pills or some other form, have been proved false by ample testimony from those who have used these purely Vegetable Pills. It is true, however, to remedy a derangement of the bilious secretion you must have something to act directly and powerfully at times upon the Liver; but it is not true that Mercury is the only agent capable of producing this specification. The simple combination of Vegetable principles in these Pills produces the same positive action upon the Liver as Colomel, and will correct the derangement of that organ just as surely, without the risk of any unpleasant or injurious consequences; at the same time they have an alterative and tonic effect, which is the secret of their great The circumstances under which the formula
