

FORGOTTEN ST. JOHN MEN DROWNED IN LAKE ONTARIO

TORONTO, Ont., July 25.—The launch Dalvine, containing ten young men from Toronto Junction, was capsized 200 yards west of High Park entrance about 2 o'clock this morning. Only one of the occupants, Geo. Shields, aged 20, of 45 Vanhorne street, is alive. A dead body, identified as Walter Dunin, aged 20, of Quebec avenue, was found on the shore half a mile west of the launch this morning with the launch, and floating beside it a coat that has been identified as belonging to Joseph Irwin, aged 20, of 88 Quebec avenue. The other eight who were in the boat at the time it capsized were John Irvine, aged 20, 75 Glendennan avenue; Frank Kyle, aged 18, Union street; Leonard Daly, 49 Ontario street; Frank Daly, 46 Ontario street; Dawson Nelrings; Gordon Leroche and Reginald Mullin. All are drowned.

About the time the accident is believed to have taken place there was a furious thunderstorm in the city. Lightning that lasted until half-past three. John Irvine's body was found late this afternoon, but all the others are missing.

Geo. Shields of 45 Vanhorne street had a terrible experience. He was stretched on the bed at his home when he was awakened by a noise. "Surely they were not drowned," was his greeting to the reporter. "I did not know until my arrival home that any of my companions were missing."

"How did the accident occur?" he was asked.

"Well, we had all been at the island and stonyard return home in the yacht Dalvine after midnight. About 1.30 o'clock we neared Sunnyside, our place of landing, when the storm came on. I think something then went wrong with the engine. As though we were about 200 yards opposite the west gate of High Park, when, without any warning, the yacht capsized. We were all thrown into the water and I grabbed the boat. I don't know at all, although I thought my strength would give out and I would have to go. I think I was in the water for about nine hours. When I got to the shore my body was so sore and I felt so tired that I lay on the ground for I don't know how long. Then I got up and crawled home."

"But did you not see any signs of your companions when you awoke?"

"No, I thought they had all gone home. I saw no human being."

"How many were in the boat?"

"Ten," he replied, and then gave the names as above.

"Did you not see any of them after the boat capsized?"

"No, only that they were all thrown into the water."

"Did you see any of them struggling in the water?"

"No, I did not see any of them. Shields appears to have been badly shaken up. He trembles violently, and at times awakens from his sleep and cries out incoherently. Large patches of skin have been torn from his body, his arms and legs. It is expected he will be well in a couple of weeks, but in the meantime he must remain perfectly quiet. His mind is in a great excitement. "He was never in a boat before," he said, "and to think that he, above all others, should be saved. He is 20 years of age and is employed in the C. P. R. shops."

Joseph Irwin son of Councillor William Irwin was one of the Junction's most popular lacrosse players. He was but 20 years of age and was engaged in the contracting business, with his father. Early this morning his coat was found on the beach at this beach his friends to believe that he must have made some separate efforts to save himself and perhaps some of his friends. The pockets of his coat were found to contain lacrosse cards by means of which the coat was identified. On learning this information, Councillor Gregg of Gregg's lawyer, drove to the scene of the accident and upon being told that one of the boys' bodies had been brought to the morgue he went there and identified the body as that of Walter Dunin.

Gordon Leroche, of 143 Vyne street, was a piano maker, who formerly worked for the Helntzman Co. at the Junction factory. He was the trainer of the Junior 11 Shamrocks.

Frank Kyle lived on Vyne street and was a C. P. R. watchman. He and his brother lived with a married sister at 49 Ontario street. They have another brother living with the same sister.

Reginald Mullin, aged 21, was a painter and lived on Glendennan avenue. He has two little sisters.

John Irvine was not 20 years of age, and worked at the Fairbanks shops.

"Most of those in the party were C. P. R. boys," his mother added. "My son was on strike just now, but he and the Daly-boys worked together."

Dawson Nelrings was a forger, residence unknown, who worked as a switchman on the C. P. R.

Shortly before 2 a. m. Policeman Lewis was walking along the Lake Shore, when he heard a party out in the lake singing. He listened for about five minutes and then heard the noise which sounded like cries of distress. It was quite dark and when the noise ceased he paid no attention to the cries. He was thinking the launch had headed for Humber River.

When he reached the police station at 4 o'clock he reported the matter to Sergeant Robinson, who immediately detailed Policeman Robinson to patrol the party found at the beach a search of the lake shore John J. Dickson, who works at the rolling mills, and Alfred Presley, night watchman at Toronto boat works, were on the scene. Reached at the ship was the launch Dalvine, an 18 footer, which contained the body of Dunin. The policeman had the remains removed to the city morgue. Patrolling the beach a search party found a coat floating near the entrance to Humber River, in the pockets of which were two picture post cards containing pictures of two young men in miniature style and two chipped

CONSOLIDATION YET

CHESBY, N. B., July 25.—There is considerable interest taken in the meeting that is to be held in the house Monday evening next. Friends of consolidation are far numerous now than they were the meeting was held some time ago. It is considered that consolidation does not want to see anything done that will prevent so important a school in the near future. In order that the people may better understand what a consolidated school is, a number of illustrations showing the interior of the Riverside school at Kingston school at in their manual training, and departments and in the school. It has been grouped together printed upon one sheet. One gentleman who saw the attractive sheet, exclaimed: "And do you mean that the people of Chesby don't go to school like that?"

The ratepayers on Monday night under their former decision and temporary alterations to their building, such a school as in the illustration may be possible.

There are some cases of black flies in the family of Ernest Clark. In Ipswich, Mr. Clark has been very much annoyed by them. His wife and children are confined to the house. One of the young sons of Chester Vink is ill with the measles. Frank, who injured his hand severely, is now employed of M. R. A., St. John, who has been severely, somewhat improved. He speaks of going to the general Public Hospital a few days, and his treatment there by nurses and doctors. Several warnings are issued by the alderman department urging farmers to beware of poisoned plants where cattle graze, yet these are so common that people pay but little attention to them. That they exist seems proved by the fact that one of Sarah Henderson's most valuable was found dead in the pasture every symptom of herb poison.

FAREWELL TO TORONTO

Toronto World has the following reference to the fact that it was a farewell sermon was made by Rev. Freeman in St. John's Baptist church Sunday night. Mr. Freeman has ministered of the church for the past years. He has resigned and sailed England on Thursday. His departure is not yet in sight. His Sunday pulpits will be filled in the morning by Jesse Gibson, and in the evening by Rev. Mr. Hooper.

Mr. Freeman will, on his arrival in the old land, preach in the Robt-Hall Memorial church, Leicester, about a month. He came to Toronto from St. John.

A fair sized congregation, although the office was by no means full. His was the first three verses of the chapter of St. John.

It is not your heart be troubled; ye who believe also in me. My Father's house are many mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you.

And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and receive you to myself, that where I am there you be also."

Preparation for the eternal home was the theme, and during his discourse Freeman referred touchingly to the going away of the late John Totten, an one who was so straight, so honest, so simple, so true.

The conclusion of the sermon meant the conclusion of the friends gathered and him to bid him God speed.

DR. WILLIAM BAYARD.

A Sun reporter who visited Dr. Bayard yesterday was "ushered" into his office where the aged physician was engaged in writing. He appeared very bright and keenly alive to the subjects discussed.

Although he has almost given up the active practice of his profession, Dr. Bayard still retains a number of his patients, and only a few weeks ago performed an operation, being assisted by a fellow practitioner who administered the anaesthetic.

Dr. Bayard's right hand is still as supple as ever, but the left member is slightly paralyzed, and he will in future give up operations as he says a surgeon needs the use of both hands.

Dr. Bayard is still able to walk about, although he seldom is seen on the street, and does not need a cane or any other assistance. Apart from the slight paralysis in his hand Dr. Bayard says he is feeling in the best of health, and it is the hope of all that he will live many years in the city where his good works are so well known and appreciated.

While the meeting will indeed be a happy one, a shade of sadness will be felt by all, owing to the fact that two of the older members of the family have passed on before. Adam Scott of Murray road having reached the advanced stage of 89 years, and James Scott of Bale Verte being eighty-four.

The senior Mr. Scott came to this country from Scotland with the elder members of the family when he was a boy from the North Shore to Point de Bute was to a considerable extent only a blazed path through the woods, and timber must be cleared away before their first home, a log house could be built. As the younger portions of the family were born in this country it may be said they have grown up with the country, and as three sisters sit together and talk of the log house and the present generation listen with intense interest to incidents in the history of the older inhabitants. The happy hours are at present being spent at the home of W. J. Trueman of Point de Bute.

DALHOUSIE, July 24.—Baxter and Mann have about finished laying the Bank of Canada, and went to the registry office on Wednesday last, only to find that the mortgage had never been registered. When the news of the arrest became all who had business with Brown began to investigate. Up to the present a number of other forged mortgage certificates have turned up, aggregating in all several thousand dollars. A prominent hardware merchant endorsed a joint note for one hundred dollars as an accommodation for Brown. When the latter presented it at the bank it was raised to twenty-two hundred, and on the payment of a hundred dollars later on a new note for one hundred dollars was endorsed by the hardware merchant only to be raised to twenty-one hundred.

The name of a member of the Dominion parliament was also forged to two notes each for five hundred and discounted by Brown, one at the Royal Bank of Canada, the other at the Bank of Montreal. It is also feared other forged notes are being raised on the forged mortgages, and reports are coming in of money given to Brown to invest, for which no return was made.

It is expected that the forgeries has not yet been determined, but he appears to have been playing the game for at least two years and raised between twelve and fifteen thousand dollars. He is a native of a respectable family, who feel the situation keenly. It is supposed he was gambling in stocks. He was admitted to the bar in 1905 and had taken two years in arts at McGill, winning exhibitions and honors in mathematics.

Tomorrow the preliminary examination will be held before Stipendiary MacDonald at the police court.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., July 25.—The arrest of Edwin O. Brown, aged 33, barrister, of this city, has caused a tremendous sensation, which is increasing with fresh developments. He appeared before the police court yesterday on the charge of forging a certificate of registration of mortgage for which he received twelve hundred dollars, which it is alleged he deposited to his own account.

The lady who gave him the money to invest on a mortgage a year ago became suspicious, and went to the registry office on Wednesday last, only to find that the mortgage had never been registered. When the news of the arrest became all who had business with Brown began to investigate. Up to the present a number of other forged mortgage certificates have turned up, aggregating in all several thousand dollars.
