Synopsis of Canadian North-West Land Regulations.

THE sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. Applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or sub-Agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any Dominion Lands Agency (but not Sub-Agency) on certain conditions.

Duties—Six months residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres, on certain conditions. A habitable house is required except where residence is performed in the vicinity.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section alongside his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre.

Duties—Six months residence in each of three years after earning homestead patent; also 50 acres extra cultivation. Pre-emption patent may be obtained as soon as homestead patent, on certain conditions.

As settler who has exhausted his homestead right may take a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months out of three years, cultivate 50 acres and erect a house worth $300.

The art of cultivation is subject to reduction in case of rough, scrubby or stony land. Live stock may be substituted for cultivation under certain conditions.

W. W. COREY, C.M.G., Deputy of the Minister of the Interior

"Did little Johnny enjoy the train of cars his uncle gave him for Christmas?"
"He hasn't had a chance to play with it yet. He'll have to wait until his father gets tired of it."

MEASLES

(Issued by the Department of Public Health, Nova Scotia.)

This common disease is not usually accorded the attention which it should receive. It is a very serious disease, one which accounts for many deaths in our Province, and which is frequently followed by disabling after effects.

No age is exempt from measles, although children are more susceptible to it than adults. Contrary to the belief generally held, it is more apt to be fatal in children than in grown people, and it is therefore important that children should be protected from the infection with especial care.

The most infectious period of the disease is that which precedes the eruption. The early symptoms are suggestive merely of an ordinary "cold." Consequently when measles is prevalent in a community any case of "cold" (except in a person who has already had measles) should be regarded with suspicion, and dealt with as a possible case of measles until the diagnosis is certain. Otherwise, the spread of the disease may be expected.

After the appearance of the rash, the infectiveness is less marked, but there is still danger of its being communicated for a period of five or six days.

The first symptoms of the disease may appear seven days after exposure to infection, but usually after a somewhat longer period. If a fortnight elapses after exposure, it is unlikely that the disease will develop.

It is now generally considered that the infection of measles is rarely, if ever, conveyed through the medium of clothing, etc. Contact with one who is actually suffering from the disease, especially before the rash appears, is much the most likely means of infection.

In order to prevent the spread of measles, therefore, an early diagnosis is of the utmost importance. Every patient should be isolated and should be kept isolated for at least five days after the rash appears. Those belonging to the household who have previously had the disease need not be restricted, but, as there is a slight possibility of a second attack, they should be kept under the physicians observation. Those who have not previously had measles, and who have been exposed to the infection, need not be restricted for seven days after the exposure, but should therefore be isolated for at least ten days and kept under the observation of the doctor.

In order to avoid the dangerous pulmonary complications which account for practically all deaths from measles, it is most important that the room in which a patient suffering from this disease is being treated should be large and carefully ventilated.

"Nora," said the mistress to the new servant, "we always want our meals promptly on the hour."
"Yes, mum, An' if I miss th' first hour shall I wait for th' next?"

Mi-o-na Has Reached a Gold Standard, Says Harry Ellis, of Fergus, For Stomach Trouble

Harry Ellis, of Fergus, Ont., says: I believe that Mi-o-na for the cure of stomach trouble, is worth its weight in gold. It cured me from a stomach difficulty that seemed to puzzle all other prescriptions and remedies. I was unable to eat, the food would ferment and form gas and make a serious pressure on my heart. There were terrible pains in the pit of my stomach. I became weak, drowsy, discouraged and later I got nervous and could not sleep or rest. This disease makes one feel like not wanting to see any human being and produces melancholy and foreboding. I was told to try Mi-o-na, and when I commenced on the first box I had hardly any faith in it, but the first two days' treatment made the pain in my stomach cease, and to make a long story short, the upset of my using Mi-o-na was that it cured me wholly, and now I can eat what I like and when I am hungry. I am an advocate of the use of Mi-o-na.

J. D. Clark sells Mi-o-na Tablets the dyspepsia remedy that is making such surprising cures throughout Canada for 50 cents a box, guarantees them to cure, or money back.
