"Making A Man"

A Millionaire suddenly stranded in New York without a cent or a friend—that's Jack Holt in this picture.

Slipping into the depths, fighting his way up, and winning—it's the most dramatic role of his career.

Peter B. Kyne, author of "While Satan Sleeps," wrote the story.

Business Honesty

Most of us take singular delight in telling how somebody tried to beat us in a business deal; tried to "bing" us; so to speak. And we tell with greater delight how we prevented the stinging; how we "showed him up." There is dishonesty in business. There are dishonest business men but they are rare exceptions and with more education, more thinking, they are becoming rarer. Business is essentially and fundamentally honest you are honest.

Big business men, and little business men who are growing to be big business men, are honest. If they had no morals and no ethics the wise ones would be honest anyway. For this age of competition has made service more important than ever before. The man who delivers up to the bill is the man who sets the business. And you can't deliver up to the bill unless you are honest.

"I bought and paid for two dozen glass decanters that were advertised at $6 a dozen f.o.b., and when they were delivered they were empty," said the client.

"Well, what did you expect?" asked the renowned lawyer.
"Full of booze. What else does f.o.b. mean?"

Eva Novak A Blonde

She Supports Jack Holt in New Picture, "Making a Man"

Not that Jack Holt isn't, as partial to blondes as he is to brunettes. But it is a fact that Eva Novak, who plays the feminine lead in "Making A Man," Mr. Holt's current starring vehicle for Paramount which comes to the Opera House Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday, is the first blonde to appear opposite Paramount's "fight" Daniels, Sylvia Breamer and Fritzie Brunette, all of a complexion described by the last young woman's name, were seen opposite Mr. Holt in his three latest pictures.

THEY TELL THEIR NEIGHBORS

Women Tell Each Other How They Were Helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Woodbridge, Ont.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles. I would have headaches, backaches, pains between my shoulders and under my shoulder-blades and dragging down feelings on each side. I was sometimes unable to do my work and felt very badly. My mother-in-law told me about the Vegetable Compound and I got some right away. It has done me more good than any other medicine I ever took and I recommend it to my neighbors. You are quite welcome to use this letter as a testimonial if you think it will help some poor sufferer."—Mrs. EDGAR SIMMONS, R. R. 2, Woodbridge, Ont.

In nearly every neighborhood in every town and city in this country there are women who have been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the treatment of ailments peculiar to their sex, and they take pleasure in passing the good word along to other women. Therefore, if you are troubled in this way, why not give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial. This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from roots and herbs, has for forty years proved its value in such cases. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
