Winnipeg advises say that the Pacific Coast lumbermen are contemplating a further advance in the price of lumber. At the present time rough lumber is higher than it has ever been before. This advance in price is due to the enormous amount of building now being done all over the Canadian Northwest, and is also due to the San Francisco disaster, the Californian builders getting almost their entire lumber supply from British Columbia.

A despatch of the 25th, from Manchester, England, had the following:—The iron moulders to-day informed their employers in the engineering trade of Manchester and Southern Lancashire of their decision to strike, on Monday unless their demand for an immediate advance of fifty cents a week is conceded. The moulders numbered only 1,800 men, but the strike would affect 40,000 skilled workmen and sixty firms. The men declare that the trade is enjoying great prosperity, while wages have not been increased for ten years, during which the conditions of living have greatly altered and the price of food having risen.

A Quebec despatch of the 24th, has the following:—Oscar Larocheville son of E. Larocheville, pilot. St. Michel, Bellechasse fell from the steamer "Champion" near St. Jean, Island of Orleans, this morning and was drowned before the eyes of his wife and young children, who were with him on the steamer on route for St. Michel. It is thought he lost his balance and fell in. An effort was made to rescue the man, but in vain. Deceased was 32 years of age. At New Ireland in Albert County, New Brunswick Miss Mary Ann McAulay, cousin and housekeeper of Rev. Father McAulay, parish priest of that place, was cruelly murdered on Monday of last week. The murdered woman was about fifty-five years of age. Father McAulay was absent from home at the time having gone to Fredericton Road on the previous Friday to attend a mission of his charge at that place. The murderer is undoubtedly Thomas J. Collins, who had been engaged by Father McAulay some weeks previously to work as a servant man. The man is about twenty-one years of age and had previously been a sailor. Collins was arrested near St. George, N. B. on Friday afternoon having tramped all the way from New Ireland, a distance of about a hundred and fifty miles. He was brought to St. John and is now in jail there.

We have received a copy of the sermon pronounced by the late lamented Archbishop O'Brien on the occasion of the funeral of the Rt. Hon. Sir John S. D. Thompson in St. Mary's Cathedral, Halifax, Nova Scotia, on January 3rd, 1895. In compliance with repeated requests, the sermon is now published for the first time in pamphlet form. The discourse is a beautiful and eloquent tribute of a great mind to the smouldering qualities of mind and heart of a friend and kindred spirit, suddenly stricken by the hand of death in the midst of his patriotic labors. The sermon is not an outburst of fulsome eulogy; but the sincere and heartfelt conclusion of the preacher's convictions regarding the characteristics and principles of action that constituted the life of the illustrious dead to the title great. The Most Rev. preacher points out with uncontrovertible logic that Sir John Thompson had, although dying when he had scarcely attained to the summit of middle life, fully proved his claim to greatness. He was great as a jurist, as an orator and statesman; he was intellectually great and morally great. In all his important undertakings in his various spheres of action he always proved himself equal and more than equal to the exigencies of the situation. He served his country faithfully and well and died in her service in the palace of his sovereign. To the sermon is added the Eulogy of Sir Louis Morris and an appendix contains the speeches on the same subject delivered in Parliament at the opening of the session of 1895 by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. Mr. Foster. The whole constitutes a pamphlet of twenty-four pages and sells for twenty-five cents. The pamphlet is published by E. P. Meagher, Limited, Halifax.
