Wedding at Freshwater

Yesterday, Feb. 22nd, Freshwater was all agog, the tranquility of our little settlement was merely disturbed by the sound of the old church bell, which, in conjunction with jolly house bells, announced to the people that Miss Bessie Parsons, eldest daughter of Mr. Joseph Parsons, and Mr. Richard Joyce, of this place, were about to unite "for better or for worse." Seventeen sleighs performed the duty of bringing the bride, groom, and wedding party to the Church where Rev. A. A. Holmes, with great solemnity, before a large audience, tied the knot. As the bride, clad in cream silk covered by a rich overcoat, entered the Church on the arm of her brother, Mr. J. W. Parsons, she looked very handsome, and drew forth from even the most unsympathetic sincere wishes for her happiness. She was attended by her sister, Miss Tryphena, and by Miss Miriam Joyce, who were attired in pink silk with black picture hats. The groom was ably supported by Mr. Mark Parsons, brother of the bride. The wedding was kept up at the houses of both bride and groom, and all the guests enjoyed themselves to the full. The bride who is highly respected by all who have come in contact with her, received many valuable and useful presents, to the extent of about $200. Her husband, who has lately returned from the States, is also greatly esteemed. All their friends join in wishing them a long and happy union, full of hope, prosperity, and soul-elevating love.—Com.

Indigestion & Dyspepsia

In all its Forms can be Cured.

It is quite a daily occurrence to hear persons say: "Oh, what a feeling of distress I have after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and headache, I feel too tired to do anything, I have no heart to exert myself and at times I care for nothing. I often have a pain in the pit of my stomach, no appetite, my heart beats rapidly on the slightest exertion. I feel just as tired when rising in the morning as when retiring to bed. My sleep is often disturbed, and I often awake with a sense of suffocation and a difficulty of again going to sleep. I have to be careful of what I eat, and my life seems a veritable burden." Now, it seems a shame and a pity for persons to be suffering like that when it is in their power to get cured by taking a Bottle of Dr. Stafford's Prescription A. A sure cure for persons afflicted with stomach troubles. It can be obtained at

T. A. Soiree.

About two hundred people attended the T. A. Soiree last night at their hall. The Society Band furnished the music. Dancing was kept up till 3 o'clock this morning. A repeat was served at midnight by the lady friends of the Club. Amongst those who attended were the Premier Sir E. P. Morris and Mr. P. F. Moore, M. H. A. Mr. L. J. Griffin proposed the toast of our guests which was responded to by the Premier. A vote of thanks was accorded to the ladies. There were about 200 people present and the event was one of the most successful ever held by the Society. Mr. J. Spratt was chairman.

Yesterday's Fire.

An alarm of fire sent in from box 28 called out the Central and East End firemen at 2.45 p.m. yesterday to Livingstone Street. A fire was raging in the house of Mr. Morris, caused by sparks from a defective chimney. The fire ate through the partition and into the house next door, occupied by Mr. Spurrell. A stream from the chemical put out the fire in about four minutes. The damage done by fire was trifling compared with that caused by water and chemical mixture.

The second reading of the Lords' Veto Bill opened in the House of Commons this afternoon. The vote will be taken on Thursday or Friday. Premier Asquith having formally moved the second reading, Austin Chamberlain moved an amendment to the effect that the House would welcome the introduction of a Bill to reform the composition of the House of Lords while maintaining its independence as a second chamber, but declined to proceed with a measure which placed the effective legislative authority in the hands of a single chamber, and offered no safeguard against grave changes being made without the consent of the people. He declared that if the Veto Bill was the Government's last word it could not pass, and appealed for compromise in the spirit of last year's conference.

A despatch from Constantinople says that the Yildiz Kiosk Garrison at the Turkish Capital mutinied today when ordered to Yemen, in Arabia, to crush a native revolt. The despatch added that the mutineers, reinforced by a battery of artillery, were besieged in the Palace barracks by loyal troops, and that a fight was expected at any moment. Grave fears are felt that the mutiny may extend to the entire Turkish garrison.

S.O.E. Dance.

The annual soiree of the S. O. E. held in the British Hall last night, was a great success. The ball room was tastefully decorated with bunting and presented a very fine appearance. At midnight Messrs. Furlong Bros. served up an excellent supper, which was praised by all who partook of it. Dancing was resumed after the repast and kept up with joyful enthusiasm till Aurora gave a blush to the eastern sky. The affair was one of the most successful in the annals of the Society. The floor directors deserve to be complimented on the successful manner in which they carried out the programme. Their names are Messrs. C. E. Hunt, W. A. Long, J. McCoubrey, J. Barter and N. V. Andrews. The music was furnished by Messrs. O'Grady and Gunnerson (2).

In the Assembly.

Pursuant to adjournment the House met at 3 p.m. yesterday.

Petitions were presented by several members in relation to roads, bridges, etc., and just before the sitting closed one was read by Mr. Clift from Alphus Yates and other residents of New Bay, Twillingate District, on the subject of roads and bridges. Petitioners asked for a sum of money for these necessary works, and Mr. Clift personally was aware of the great necessity that existed in this particular locality for them. He strongly recommended the prayer of the petition to the attention of the Government, and asked that the petition be referred to the department empowered to deal with such.

Mr. Clapp gave notice of question re motor ferry in Bonne Bay, and Mr. Clift re chartering of Stella Maris and re details of expenditure of $3,000 voted last year for railways.

The Cold Storage Bill was read a third time and sent to the Legislative Council for its concurrence. Before it passed this stage the Minister of Finance and Customs in defending the Government in connection with the Corkum incident stated that in 1906 a number of British vessels were chartered by Gloucester people and other Americans who purchased cargoes of herring at Curling, Wosley Island and Eirch Cove to be exported for food purposes and received licences in each case. In all ten British vessels were chartered that year by American agents, clearing for Boston and New York, the herring going in them being purchased and frozen on shore, and these cargoes paid duty on entry into the United States. He anticipated that the Rt. Hon. the Leader of the Opposition would agree that these cases related to the Treaty Shore and that this made all the difference. His (Mr. Clift's) answer was that the herring taken away was previously landed on the coast and frozen on scaffolds which was not included in the rights enjoyed by Americans under the Treaty of 1818. Sir Robert Bond did not resign his portfolio in 1909 before two vessels chartered by Sol Jacobs had been cleared from Harbor Breton with herring cargoes for food purposes and had received a licence to purchase same. This was a case similar to Corkum's this year. He wanted to know why they should be blamed for doing what the Bond Government had done two years ago. He contended that the action of the present Government in this instance was in keeping with the spirit of the Bait Act.

Mr. Kent pointed out the great difference between the Corkum incident of this year and circumstances which had occurred in previous seasons. In this case the violation of the laws on the part of the Americans was open and flagrant. Here was an American Captain—Corkum—going through Fortune Bay openly purchasing herring and storing them for export. This certainly was a violation of the Bait Act which Corkum had committed. There was a great deal of difference in the agent of a Gloucester firm hiring a schooner and in an American captain openly purchasing and storing herring on his own behalf for purposes of export. They had there before the House a Bill which it was intended would interfere with the enforcement of the Bait Act or would indicate a policy on the part of the Government not to enforce that Act. This in a great measure justifying Captain Corkum in the stand he had taken.

Capt. Corkum, as everyone was aware, came to St. John's before proceeding to Fortune Bay, stated that he was going there and declared his intention of buying herring there. The fact was that he went there with the avowed intention of purchasing herring, clearing for Gloucester and violating the Treaty, and he did violate the Treaty. His action was altogether different from that of Sol Jacobs and the other captains and agents alluded to by Mr. Clift.

Publication of Debates.

When the Estimates were taken up in Committee of the Whole on Supply in connection with the vote for Legislation, Mr. Kent drew attention to the matter of the Parliamentary Debates and the manner of their publication. He stated that this had been a matter which had been complained of very often in the past, and held that some steps should be taken to improve the system now in vogue. All very earnestly he thought, that the present manner of preparing and publishing the debates of the House was obsolete and eminently unsatisfactory. The fault, in his estimation, was with the system not with those who were carrying it out; their publication last year ran into two or three months after the closing of the House and no one read them. He thought the Internal Economy Commission should arrange to have the debates made useful to the members. In other legislatures the debates going forward to-day were before honorable members a next sitting and a good draft of their remarks were on their desks for perusal. He thought something in the nature of a Hansard would fill the bill. The published debates were now about two weeks behind, and were already ancient history, and he reiterated that a better system should be adopted. He also brought under the notice of the Government the lack of facilities evident in the Opposition Room. There were no telephone or bells, and if a messenger were required, members often had to search the House for them. He hoped the Government would be good enough to attend to this.

The Premier admitted the justice of Mr. Kent's remarks as to the debates which under present conditions were faulty for purpose of reference. A Hansard would be the better means, but this would necessitate the employment of more reporters, while to get the printing, binding, etc., would be costly and increase the grant materially, but he admitted that something must be done to improve the present manner of handling the debates. He also promised to see to it that proper facilities and resources be supplied to the rooms of the members of the Opposition.

After the Committee on Supply rose the House went into Committee on the Esquimaux Deportation Bill, when it was decided that Montagnais In-serious consequences for the people of the Colony. The price of fuel is now a figure which it had never reached before. The wood utilized by the fishermen all around the country for firing, ship and house building, repairs to boats, etc., is being rapidly cut out, and to afford a substitute, at least for fuel, has become a very serious problem. To conserve the timber across that remains to us for the fishermen should be a personal consideration with the representatives of the people, hence the development of peat areas should be undoubtedly encouraged. Cheap peat fuel would enable us at once to dispense with coal and would obviate the destruction of wood for fuel, wood which is such an important factor in the successful prosecution of our fisheries. In this connection he thought that the Railway Contractor should not be allowed to cut as extensively on the public domain as he was reported to be doing, as it would mean the depletion of the fishermen's supply. He thought it absolutely necessary and advisable that the House should be in possession of the reports of the experts who were here, before the Resolutions were passed. He heard that the hon. member for St. George's had the matter of peat as a fuel under consideration, and hoped that the Legislature would have the benefit of his researches.

The Minister of Agriculture then promised that all reports on the peat areas would be placed "before" the Legislature in a day or so, and at the request of Mr. Kent further consideration of the matter was deferred until the reports alluded to are forthcoming.

A Bill was introduced giving effect to the Resolutions, read a first time and ordered to be read a second time to-day.

Early in the sitting the public accounts for last year and Auditor General's report were tabled. As requested by Mr. Clift the returns of expenditure on the public wharf at Point de Grave were furnished; while Mr. Cear was informed that no payments were made Messrs. D. Bishop and G. M. Goddard for signing quarterly poor charges. Other matters on which Opposition members asked information will be answered shortly.

In reply to Mr. Clift's question as to whether a license of occupation of lands near Peter's Arm, Twillingate District, had recently been issued to Dr. A. C. Ames, of Botwood, and for a copy of same.

The Minister of Agriculture stated that the application of Dr. Ames for license of occupation over 865 acres of land in the place named had been approved subject to these conditions:—

(1) The timber upon the area shall be reserved and shall not pass to the licensee until he has shown himself to be entitled to a fee simple grant of the area;

(2) The licensee shall have the right to cut timber on the area (1) for the actual and bona fide clearing of land in order to prepare it for cultivation; (2) for firewood, fencing and building purposes generally, it being understood that all timber cut by the licensee or his assigns shall be used on the area or in connection with its improvement and shall not be sold, and (3) for no other purpose.

(3) The Minister of Agriculture and Mines may at any time during the currency of the license, by notice, in writing, prohibit the licensee or his assigns from cutting timber on the area for any purpose whatever, except for the clearing of land.

The Premier gave notice of the introduction of Resolutions relating to the establishment of schools in thinly populated districts; of Bills to amend the Municipal Act, and an Act regulating motor cars, etc., on public highways.

Obituary.

His many friends in town will read with deep regret of the death at Rochester, Minn., U.S.A., of Mr. C. W. H. Tessier, merchant, of this city. The deceased left St. John's November 22nd last and went to that city where he entered a private sanatorium conducted by Messrs. Mayo Bros. An operation was performed on his throat. For a time it was believed that the operation was successful and that he would recover. On February 19th pneumonia set in and he gradually grew weaker. The end came yesterday morning. His wife and daughter were with him when he passed away. Deceased was a son of the late Peter Tessier, who carried on an extensive fish business and supplying trade in the West End of St. John's for half a century. When the old firm ran its course deceased took over the control of the business and carried it on successfully up to the time that failing health obliged him to seek medical aid abroad. He leaves a widow (nee Miss Rogers) and six sons and four daughters to mourn their great loss. The Telegram extends to them its sincere sympathy in the hour of their great sorrow. The body will be brought on to St. John's for interment.

Backache Suffering

A wonderful medicine is this man's description of DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.

Mr. Fred. Gummer, Lillies, Ont., writes: "I can honestly say that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are a wonderful medicine. For six weeks last fall I could scarcely walk around for pains in the back and legs, and was almost completely unfit for work. Though I tried several medicines I got no better. I saw Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills advertised and bought five boxes. After I had used three boxes, I was greatly improved and by the time I had them all taken felt as well as I ever did. I would advise anyone suffering from kidney disease to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

"We have also used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for bad colds and sore throat and would not be without these medicines for anything."
