Uncle Walt THE POET PHILOSOPHER.

The tightwad has a pile of wealth in safety salted down; he's gathered in the sands by stealth, from every end of town. He's loaded down with bonds and stocks, and mortgages and deeds; and when he

THE TOWN takes his daily walks, some victim's bosom bleeds. The man TIGHTWAD who gets within his mesh, no mercy need implore; he'll always have his pound of flesh, and look around for more.

To add a dollar to his stack, he'd risk his granite head; he'd turn the widow from her shack, the sick man from his bed, he'd rather gnaw at hanks and stones, or grovel in a den, than have a pile of shining bones that's wrung from needy men. When you have lost your wad of dough, and all your plans are wrecked, you then may to the poorhouse go, and keep your self-respect. But if you torture folks in debt, through all your grinding years, and rake in dollars moist with sweat and blood, and women's tears, you'll learn to hate yourself some day, when death is drawing nigh; and when they file your bones away, no soul will leave a sigh.

Rejoicings at Whitbourne.

Dear Sir.—Perhaps a few notes relative to the "sayings, doings and looks" of men and things at Whitbourne may find a place in your valued columns and be interesting to your many readers.

Whitbourne for the past two days has laid aside its working garb, and donned its holiday attire in order to do honour to our Sailor King George the Fifth.

The trains on Wednesday night brought a large number of former residents, as well as others to do honour to the occasion. Among the visitors we noticed Mr. E. Duder and C. Butt, of the Locomotive Shops, R. N. Co., Mr. A. Findlater, of the firm of T. & M. Winter, also of Jack Ellis, the rising young taxidermist of St. John's. Mr. Ellis is a Whitbourne boy and nothing pleases him better than a visit to his birthplace, he is spending a few days here enjoying the splendid trout fishing there is to be had here.

The town was awake very early on the morning of the Coronation and every one busy decorating for the occasion, and very quickly flags of all descriptions were very much in evidence from one end of the settlement to the other. The front of the railway station was very tastefully decorated, two very beautiful pictures of the King and Queen occupying the centre of the decorations. The work was done under the supervision of Mr. Saunders and reflects great credit to his artistic taste.

The trains coming and going all day gaily decorated with bunting adding beauty and pleasure to the scene. At night the windows of every house in the town were illuminated. The beautiful residence of Sir R. Bond looked very conspicuous with the lights shining from every window, the lights being mirrored in the lake before the house gave to the scene the appearance of fairland. Last but not certainly not least was a very pleasing display of fireworks which were given by the L. O. A. of this place before the door of their lodge. This brought to an end one of the most pleasant and enjoyable days in the experience of the place. The brethren of the L. O. A. taking this method of honouring the day and showing their loyalty to Our Gracious Sovereign King George the Fifth.

And now Coronation Day has come and gone and no doubt the event will find a place in history. While Britain's King sits enthroned in the hearts of his subjects and while we sing "God Save the King" we remember that never in the world's history has a monarch ascended the British Throne at a more auspicious time.

With America making proposals that we trust will make for unending peace between the two greatest nations of the earth, and at peace with all other nations, and occupying a place in the hearts of the people such as perhaps no other King has held before we believe Our King has a glorious future before him, and we sing "Send him victorious happy and glorious, long to reign over us, God Save the King."

Yours truly,
SPECTATOR.

Escaped Prisoner Captured Saturday

Six of the police force were out after the two escaped prisoners all day Saturday and Saturday night they were Sergts. Noseworthy and Byrne, Const. Tobin, O'Neill, Lee and Hutchings. The three former were armed with revolvers. At 9 p.m. Consts. O'Neill and Lee came upon the two prisoners in a wood near Mount Casbel, and after an exciting chase captured them. One of the prisoners had been doing two years for the theft of money from Mannels station Evans, who is a fleet runner, made his escape. Const. O'Neill and Lee Bursey handcuffed him and took him to the Penitentiary. After doing so the officers returned to search for Evans and were after him all Saturday night and yesterday.

Police Arrest Boy.

Saturday night a number of unruly boys "raised Cain" around New Gower Street in the neighbourhood of Mr. H. Tapper's store, and the police captured one of the crowd who refused to give his name. They then took the boy, who is only 14 years old, to the station, and on the way he kicked out and gave the officers much trouble. At the station he gave his name and of those who were with him, when Supt. Grimes permitted him to go home. "Boys will be boys," but of late their conduct on the street has savored too much of rowdism, which the police intend to prevent. Football kicking, stone-throwing and horse play is indulged in, while the worst kind of language is used; the windows of residences are broken and citizens are fast losing patience with this kind of thing. Boys need to be taken to the streets to indulge in games for there are plenty of places in the suburbs for such.

The Prospero Here. Coronation Day on Shipboard.

The S. S. Prospero, Capt. A. Keen, arrived here from the Northward at 5 p.m. Saturday. The ship had fine weather and made a good run North, making all her ports of call. After arriving at Engite, Sunday evening week last they encountered dense fog which lasted for several days, and heavy ice was met with from St. Anthony to Harbor Deep in White Bay, it was off the shore a short distance and most of the harbors were filled with it. There was no ice in the Straits and the ship had a clear run to Battle Harbour where she arrived at 11 a.m. on Monday last, leaving for the South at 1 p.m. The ship had fog with a N. E. wind and rain on the run South. She brought a small cargo and her passengers were:—

Messrs. Jackson, Prieaux, White, Cramm, Daws, Ludlow, Tilley, Cole, Franklin, Miffen, Donnelly, Montgomery, Drs. Greive and Wakefield; Revs. J. Nolan, Coppin, Young, Stephenson, Kirby, Facey, Bennett, Gardner, Sawdon, Britnell; Messdames Ackerman, Wakefield, Gillett, Roberts, Scervour, Ryan, James; Misses Davis, Franklin, Miffen, Gower and 26 in steerage.

To preserve matting covering any floor and keep it perfectly sanitary, go over it first with a damp cloth, let dry thoroughly, and then give it a thin coat of clear varnish.

While the R. M. S. Mongolian was speeding this way from Liverpool the King's Coronation, and despite the fact that they were on a transatlantic they observed it in a most hearty and enjoyable manner. Sports for old and young were held, as the weather was very fine, and prizes were given by the passengers to the successful ones in the sports. Miss Goodridge gracefully presenting them. A very amusing feature was a wrestling match between a deck boy and the ship's bugler for a medal donated by Mr. Otto Oppelt. Chief Steward Macintosh and his aides provided a sumptuous dinner for all on board and the health of Their Majesties was heartily drunk. At 11 a.m. Friday Divine service was held on the ship. Rev. M. S. Ware officiating, assisted by Rev. Chas. Woolcombe, brother of Capt. Woolcombe of H. M. S. Brilliant. An eloquent address was given and the ceremonies closed by his heartily singing "God Save the King." At night a very enjoyable concert was given, with Mr. J. W. Alexander in the chair, and this also was thoroughly enjoyed.

The air of a room may be wonderfully freshened by putting a few drops of oil of lavender into a bowl of boiling water and letting it stand until the water is quite cold.
