SELF-DETERMINATION.

MANILA, Dec. 16. Eleven men, four United States citizens and 7 Filipinos, were killed here last night during a riot within the walled city, between enlisted men of the Philippine Constabulary and Manila police.

WEST WAUNEKE AT BOSTON.

BOSTON, Dec. 16. Oil that would not burn, brought danger and delay to the Shipping Board freighter West Waunakee, which was docked here to-day, twenty-seven days out of Antwerp, after experiences unusual even on the wintry north Atlantic.

steering gear and pumps. The freighter came to port without a splinter of wood left aboard. When the wood was all burned the engine went dead, and pumps had to be manned by hand. The crew took turns at the hand steering gear, strapped to the wheel in pairs, through several storms. At the end they were so worn in mind and body by their experiences, that fist fights broke out aboard, and radio calls were sent for police to board the vessel when she had docked. They found the men demanding their discharge, and in an angry mood, but a row of handcuffs on the chief officer's desk, with threats of irons, had partly subdued them. Captain Richard Herbert, her skipper, said the oil that they could not burn was taken on at London to replenish their supply, after they had given four thousand barrels to assist a steamer that ran short at St. John's, Nfld.

HOLDING OUT HOPE.

GENEVA, Dec. 16. The entire afternoon Session of the Assembly of League of Nations to-day was occupied in holding out hope to Estonia, Lithuania and Latvia, whose applications for admission were rejected by the Committee on admission of nations. These States found advoates in delegates Restripo of Columbia, Schaner of Italy, and Prince Dowiah of Persia.

FRENCH WAR MINISTER RESIGNS.

CADET KILLED CANON.

DUBLIN, Dec. 16. Frank admission that Canon Magner, killed yesterday at Dunmanway, County Cork, was shot by an auxiliary cadet, was made by Dublin Castle to-day. The statement issued by the Castle says that the cadet was one of a lorry party, which was ambushed near Cork Saturday night, and intimates that he became insane as a result of that experience. It confirms the report that this cadet also killed Timothy Crowley, a farmers son. P. S. Brady, Magistrate, who witnessed the tragedy came near suffering a similar fate.

THE BISHOP AND THE CASTLE.

CORK, Dec. 16. The Bishop of Cork, to-day, received the following telegram dated Dublin Castle: "Please accept my deepest sympathy in the appalling tragedy of the death of Canon Magner, and kindly convey to his relatives an expression of my deep sorrow and sincere sympathy. Signed Inspector General Royal Irish Constabulary." To this the Bishop replied: "I should accept sympathy from the Inspector General of the old R.I.C. but the verbal sympathy of an Inspector General, whose men are murdering my people, and have burned my city, I cannot accept, or convey to relatives of murdered Canon Magner."

"MURDERER" USED IN HOUSE.

LONDON, Dec. 16. Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, expressed profound regret in the House of Commons to-day at the death of Canon Magner and Timothy Crowley at Dunmanway. He said that the cadet, who had shot them, was in custody and would be court-martialed in view of the murder of this innocent Priest and this innocent Peasant boy. "is the Chief Secretary prepared to withdraw the cadets altogether?" demanded Joe. S. Devlin. The Chief Secretary replied emphatically that he was not. Devlin retorted "then you are a murderer." This brought cries of withdrawal from the House.

REFUSED INVITATION.

"It's Great to Feel So Fine," States This Moncton Man

Leo Poirier Overcomes Troubles Of Six Years' Standing.

"Well, Sir, it's great to be feeling so fine again and eating three good meals every day after I was just about down and out," said Leo Poirier, 137 Wesley St., Moncton, N.B., well-known employee of the Atlantic Underwear Mills, in relating his experience with Tanlac.

"I was in a bad way for I had been through a lot of trouble during the past six years. My back was weak and lame and ached just about all the time night and day. At times the pains were so bad I couldn't stand straight and it was all I could do to stay on the job. My stomach caused me all sorts of trouble and my appetite was so near gone I had about reached the point where I didn't want to eat. Nothing tasted good and gas bloated me up so bad that I felt miserable all the time. I was weak and run-down and felt unfit for anything. "One of the boys down at the plant recommended Tanlac to me and by the time I finished my third bottle I did not need any more for I couldn't tell I had ever been sick a day in my life. I was eating like a farm hand, my back had stopped hurting and I simply felt fine. That was some time ago and from then until now I have been in as good health as anybody. There is no guessing or thinking about it, Tanlac will do the work that's all there is in it."

Tanlac is sold in St. John's by M. Connors, in Paradise by Mrs. Martin F. Byrne, in Upper Gullies by Heber Andrews, in Portland by H. C. Haines, in St. Joseph, Salmonier, by Mrs. J. Gushue, in Millertown by Exploits Valley Royal Stores, Ltd., in Flat Island by William Samson, in Jamestown by Christian Haines, and in Lewisporte by Uriah Freake.—adv.

never poorer, and distress never was greater than now, and that the Russian Government is willing to give concessions to foreign capitalists, and would endeavor to avoid conflicts with neighboring countries.

DRY DOCKS DESTROYED.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 16. Jahncek dry docks, near the industrial canal several miles below this city, were destroyed, and four steamers were damaged late to-day by fire caused by the breaking of an electric wire, which fell into the Mississippi River creating a short circuit, and igniting oil which had been spilled from a tanker. Damage to docks was estimated to-night at two millions, and to steamers at over two hundred thousand.

ONLY TWO ON BOARD.

LONDON, Dec. 16. A despatch to Lloyd's from Sydney, Australia, says the British steamer Cosmos reports by wireless that she picked up the dismantled United States schooner Inca, with only two members of the crew aboard. The captain's wife and remainder of the crew had left the vessel in a lifeboat. The Cosmos reported that she was towing the Inca to Sydney. Another despatch reports that the Cosmos had picked up the lifeboat with the members of the schooner's crew.

ONE HUNDRED TO EIGHT.

DUBLIN, Dec. 16. Four policemen were killed at Killcommon, when a patrol of eight of them was ambushed by a hundred men.

INCENDIARY PROPAGANDISTS ARRESTED.

LONDON, Dec. 16. In reply to a question in the House of Commons to-day, Premier Lloyd George said that three men had been arrested for the importation of incendiary literature from Norway. One condition of the trading agreement with Soviet Russia was, he said, that there should be no propaganda.

"BLUE" SUNDAY BURLESQUED.

NEW YORK, Dec. 16. Blue Sunday was burlesqued on Broadway and Fifth Avenue to-day in a mournful parade, sponsored by the International Sporting Club, of which many society folk are members. Horses, harnessed with crepe, slowly pulled five floats, in which Puritan characters anticipated life under the proposed blue laws. Bandsmen plodded their weary way at the head of the procession playing, "Gee, but this is a lonesome town," and funeral dirges.

Cradle Superstitions.

In Ireland a poker is placed across the baby's crib in order to keep away the "Little Folk, who steal babies, putting changelings in their places." In Scotland some article of the father's attire placed upon the cradle will keep malicious spirits away. In Shropshire, Eng., it is not considered prudent to leave an infant alone in its cradle until after it has been christened. After that ceremony the fairy folk are powerless to remove the babe. In Derbyshire, Eng., the milk wife takes a spoonful of water, cools a hot iron in it, and gives this water to the baby to drink, "for luck." In some rural districts it is believed to be unlucky to cut a child's nails before it is a year old, as to do so foredooms it to be a thief.
