MORE TAXES.

TO MECHANICS AND LONGSHOREMEN, Generally.

The City depends on the Taxes collected for its Revenue and which every citizen is called upon to contribute directly or indirectly to a more or lesser degree; therefore, the citizens—the Taxpayers—should get all the protection that can be given them by the City.

It has been brought to my notice that a lot of LABOR—more particularly of the following classes: Longshore work, Carpenter, Mason, Cooper, Painter, Butcher and General Labour, have been distributed to men hailing from the suburbs and outports, thereby depriving the City Taxpayers—who are compelled to pay the taxes—out of his just bread and butter. This is a grave injustice to our Taxpayers and I claim that this element must be taxed for the privileges afforded them.

I stand firmly for every kind of protection—bearing in mind the live wire and all other nuisances—that can be given our citizens.

We must give our citizens the full protection for their money. I ask for ONE VOTE from YOU for YOUR protection and the protection of your fellowman.

PROSPERO FAILED TO CALL ON SOUTHERN TRIP.

Special to Evening Telegram.

TRINITY, Dec. 5, 1921.
Much disappointment is felt and great inconvenience caused to people here and adjacent settlements through S.S. Prospero not calling Saturday on the way to St. John's. Fish and other shipments waiting on the Government wharf had to be doubly handled and carted back to the various stores. About thirty mixed passengers from adjacent settlements and even from Keels, B.B., who after waiting all day were compelled to return to their homes. Is there any real justification for such seemingly wild neglect? If so why were we not advised? Golden Wedding.

Perhaps the first Golden Wedding ever celebrated at Kelligrows, was that of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hainis, "Thornlea," at whose home last evening, there was a very enjoyable time spent in honor of the anniversary of their marriage fifty years ago, Dec. 5, 1871, and although like most others they have had their days of joy and sorrow, sunshine and shadow, prosperity and adversity, there is on all sides evidence that fortune has showered golden blessings upon their pathway. We join with their numerous other friends all over the island in congratulations, and hope that they may have the privilege of celebrating their Diamond Jubilee in 1931.—Com.

London Barely
Escaped Cave-In.

LONDON.—(Associated Press) Nov. 16.—This city has just narrowly escaped a great peril, the possible caving in of Oxford Circus, the shopping center of the West End, says a story circulated by a news agency. The danger of the disaster was known only to contractors and workers underground. They were altering an exit from the Oxford Circus tube station so as to make an entrance into a business building when the contractors discovered a bed of a little unknown tributary of the Thames River which was covered over when Regent Street was made. They also found, to their amazement and consternation that they were meeting the direct "lines of vibration" of the two underground tubes, the Central London and the Bakerloo. The news agency says that they realized that if the excavations continued the whole Oxford Circus might be literally precipitated underground. There were perilous days and laborious nights occupied in underpinning the buildings above ground and overcoming the side pressure which was being felt. In place of the old river bed there was constructed a retaining wall of cement which, it is declared, has made the great shopping center more secure than at any time since the river flowed down the slopes of the present Regent Street.

Black Says He Can Hardly
Realize That All His Troubles
Are Over.

Tanlac has certainly been a revelation to me, for I had no idea that there ever was a medicine made that would get such quick results," said J. W. Black, 275 Smythe Street, Vancouver, B.C.
"I had a hard time of it for a year with stomach trouble, and in spite of all I could do was going down hill steadily. My stomach seemed to be as sour as vinegar and I suffered a great deal from heartburn and dizzy spells. Rheumatism got in my wrists and feet and they would swell up to twice their natural size.
"Tanlac rid me of my troubles so readily that I can hardly realize they are all gone, but it's a fact and I'm a well man now and feel better than I have in many years. Tanlac certainly does the work."
Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

Newfoundland News.

(From the North Sydney Herald.)
Friday, Dec. 2.

FIELD WORKMEN RETURN.

A big batch of Newfoundland workmen who were employed in various departments of the Dominion Steel & Coal Co.'s plant, who were among the 3,000 employees laid off work owing to the general depression, returned to their homes in Newfoundland last night on the steamer Sagona. Not a few of the men were devoid of scarcely their passage money. They said they could not save a penny with the prevailing high cost of living in the southern districts, and to remain there without work meant starvation.

TO LOOK AFTER CRIPPLED SHIP.

On last night's trip of the steamer Sagona to Newfoundland was Mr. H. Young, an engineer connected with the shipping concern of Wood & Carter, Montreal, who is on his way to St. John's in connection with the steamer Glenarnock, a sister ship to the Glenfern, that arrived here several days ago reporting boiler trouble. Both vessels are in the pulp trade, the latter being now at Chicoutimi loading for overseas. The Glenarnock is at present at St. John's, and like her sister ship was en route to Chicoutimi, but encountering the terrible storms that wrought such havoc to shipping on the Atlantic during the last fortnight, she will likely abandon her voyage to the Quebec port and tie up for the winter at St. John's. The Glenarnock's boilers and pumps were damaged, several life-boats smashed, damage to her decks, etc. Besides she was pretty near out of provisions.

(Saturday, Dec. 3)

SIX MEN WILL BE DEPORTED.

Totally unaware of the immigration laws, and not aware of the unprecedented hard times in Cape Breton, as well as elsewhere in Canada, six Newfoundlanders arrived on the steamer Sagona this forenoon, utterly devoid of a dollar. They will go back on the steamer to-night, according to instructions, issued by immigration officer J. J. Dooly. Altogether they were upwards of three hundred men who returned to Newfoundland within the last week, owing to the mines being closed down in the southern districts.

NO TIDINGS OF HERBERT GREEN.

Owing to the demoralization of the telegraphic service on the west coast of Newfoundland, there is no tidings from the steamer Herbert Green, which is now long overdue. However, his anxiety is felt for her safety, as she is known to have put into some harbor for shelter from the terrible storms which swept the whole coast during the past week. On Monday last her owners, Mouton Ltd., sent a cable to her agents at one of the west coast calling places, but as the wires were down the message was not forwarded until yesterday, and a reply may be received to-day. What makes her whereabouts a cause for anxiety here is due to the fact that the chief engineer of the steamer is Mr. W. G. Scott, father of the late George Scott, whose remains arrived home from Boston last Monday morning, and which awaits burial as soon as the steamer arrives here.

NOT A PAYING VENTURE.

The salvaging of the little Newfoundland schooner Linda Parry is not going to be a paying venture for the local men who undertook the work upwards of two weeks ago. When the schooner was driven high up on the sand bank at Mire in the storm that raged at that time, it was felt her bones would remain there. However, the local men entered into an agreement with the insurance underwriters to float the vessel and tow

Police Dog
Captures Thief.

The sagacity of a Belgian police dog belonging to Joseph Cote of Montreal, led to the arrest of Arthur Leblanc, who snatched a purse from a woman as she was walking home one afternoon last week. Hearing the woman's cries, Mr. Cote, who was passing in his automobile accompanied by his dog, sent the animal after the thief, who took refuge behind some bushes. The astute hound first seized the stolen purse and dashed back with it to his master. He then ran back and cornered Leblanc, held him until the arrival of a police officer.
