

Just Folks.

By EDGAR GUEST.

ON BLUNDERS OF THE HEART.
Lord, let my blunders be the thoughtless kind,
The swift, impulsive deeds of eager hands,
Let me be one who greed misunderstands
And to men's selfish motives oft is blind;
Let me be guilty of a faulty mind
And take the scorn which lack of sense commands.
But in my blunders, countless as the sands,
May no man either hate or cunning find.

May none give oath I wronged him seeking gain
Or cry my failure heavier made his care,
If I must err, then let the loss and pain
Be mine alone to suffer and to bear.
Grant my unwisdom this one touch of grace,
I did not wrong for profit or for place.

Motor Accident on Freshwater Road

Only one of five passengers of a sedan motor car owned by Mr. N. Snow, escaped unscratched, when the car capsized yesterday afternoon, on Freshwater Road. The top portion of the car had to be demolished in order to extricate the occupants, but otherwise the car was not damaged, and was able to proceed under its own power when unrighted. The accident happened as the car, which was proceeding from the west, was taking a curve to the east of Atwell's Bridge, and is said to be due to striking a rut at right angles to the direction in which it was travelling, and threw it over on its side. The driver, Mr. N. Snow, had his head and hand cut with broken glass. His wife appeared to be more seriously hurt and was semi-conscious when removed from the wreck. Later she was examined by a doctor and it was found her condition was due to shock. Mr. Snow's daughter escaped unscratched. Two other occupants of the car, Mr. Frank Jones and his wife, were also injured. Mr. Jones received a cut on the forehead from glass and his wife was shaken up.

Out of your abundance will you not give something that can be sold at the rummage sale in aid of the Girl's Industrial Home, Synod Hall, this evening, Oct. 5th. Phone 1205.—oct5,11

Largely Attended Funeral

The funeral of the late Capt. W. C. Strong took place yesterday afternoon from his daughter's residence, "Clayton House," Waterford Bridge Road, and was attended by a large number of mourners, including members of the Masonic and Sons of England fraternities. The services at the graveside were conducted by Rev. Mr. Goodland, assisted by Revs. Pike and Facey. Interment was at the C. of E. Cemetery.

Presentation at City Hall

At the City Hall, on Wednesday afternoon last, a very pleasing presentation was made to Miss Kathleen O'Connell, who recently severed her connection with the Municipal office staff, and who is shortly to be married to Mr. J. L. Dee, of this city. The gift, which consisted of a handsome silver service and silver, was presented to Miss O'Connell by the City Clerk, Mr. Mahoney, on behalf of the officials.

"Dulcy"

AT THE CASINO THEATRE
TO-NIGHT

Admirers of the Harkins' Players have a rare treat in store for this week as three great plays will be presented. Those who missed seeing "So This is London" and "Spring Cleaning," will have an opportunity doing so. Under the distinguished patronage of His Excellency the Governor, Sir Wm. L. Allardice, the suite, "So This is London" will be put on Thursday and Friday night, and at the ladies' matinee, Saturday, "Spring Cleaning." To-night's play, "Dulcy," is one of the neatest and finest comedies ever put on the stage, and some beautiful gowns are worn by the ladies of the Harkins' Players. On its recent presentation at the Majestic Theatre, Halifax, the Academy Recorder speaks of the play as follows:—

When W. S. Harkins heads a Company in Halifax, people are expecting something good in the theatrical line, and he and his players variably meet expectations in that respect. That is the secret of Harkins' popularity here, and "Dulcy" production which is the Players' offering the Majestic this week, is a further evidence of it.

"Dulcy" is a delightful three-act comedy—just a little different from anything else within the comedy line, and is artistically staged and presented. The title role, that of a young bride, which in the original production was played by that promising English comedienne, Lynn Fontaine, is being done at the Majestic theatre by another clever little English actress, Violet Deane, who has a delightful conception of the "Dulcy" role, and is scoring strongly in it, being splendidly supported by the whole Company. Reserved seats for all performances now on sale at P. V. Chesman's.

At the Star Movie

Here is another gorgeous DeMille romance of married life which dies down to the very bottom of human emotion. The amazing story of a girl who goes from parties and petting at eighteen to marriage and responsibility at twenty-one.

DeMille, supreme master of contrast, shows you the top and bottom of life—from opulent scenes in a millionaire's resort and aboard the world's largest and most magnificent yacht to scenes in a cheap New York apartment and situations that tug at the heart-strings.

A picture, poignant, powerful, tremendous in its scope, superb in its artistry—dressed in all the glowing color and luxury that DeMille can weave like a cloth of gold.

Red La Rocque in
"Feet of Clay"
A Paramount Picture

adapted by Beulah Marie Dix from the gripping novel of the same name by Margaret Tuttle, but vastly amplified and colored to make it more of a film entertainment.

You'll see twenty young goddesses of the sea, riding speed-churned waves on leaping boards behind speed-motor boats.

You'll see jousting matches between beauties mounted on "sea horses."

You'll see an exciting shark-attack that will make you gasp.

And hundreds of other scenes thrillingly realistic and more sumptuously staged than any you have ever before seen on the screen.

"You'll never forget 'Feet of Clay'."
