MR. JOHN GRIEVE NOMINATED BY LIBERALS OF N. MIDDLESEX

Parkhill Gentleman Selected by Large and Enthusiastic Convention at Ailsa Craig Which Is Stirred by Fighting Addresses.

[By Our Own Man.]

Ailsa Craig, Nov. 13. — At a very large convention of North Middlesex, made a stirring speech, He made particular mention of the unanimity of the choice, and presaged a victory for Mr. Grieve with so hearty co-operation from all the delegates. "History is going to repeat itself," said Mr. Ross. "Three years ago you gave me a big majority, in spite of the greatest enthusiasm. The fighting spirit of the Liberals of this riding is up, and there is every indication that the victory achieved by Duncan C. Ross three years ago will be repeated. Strong speeches were delivered by Mr. Ross, M. F., and Mr. A. W. Smith. ex-M. P.

In addition to the sudden-death game between Petrolea and Capitals at London on Saturday, another O. R. F. U. junior game will be played at Hamilton. The Alerts Juniors, who beat Galt decisively in the latter town last Saturday, will engage the Galt team in the return game. It is almost a fore-Saturday, will engage the Galt team in the return game. It is almost a foregone conclusion that the Hamilton team will win the round.

The final will be played a week from Saturday, viz., Nov. 25. It will be a sudden-death affair. If the finalists happen to be the Alerts and Petrolea, the game will probably be played at London or Galt. If the Capitals and the Alerts meet in the finals, Oakville will probably be the scene of the battle.

PARIS PRESENTATION OF WINTER FASHIONS

In Afternoon and Evening Dresses and Accessories

Daintiest styles, featured at very moderate prices-copies of much higher priced gowns. Simple and dainty, to say nothing of the lovely shades in soft messaline silk, tuscan, yellow, pink, grey, etc. One of fashion's pet tricks now is the veiling of one fabric with another, and another characteristic is her fondness for satin finished materials. We are abundantly stocked with every requisite for afternoon and evening wear, and you may, on a moment's notice, have a new dress, coat, wrap, etc—style copies from models designed by the world's most famous artists—in great variety, finished all ready to don. The difficulty nowadays in getting dresses made has done much to encourage wholesale dressmaking, and is, to a great extent, responsible for the very large assortment and variety of styles now carried in our ready-to-wear afternoon and evening dress department. The few garments mentioned are but examples of the scores of styles shown at and about these prices.
