LONDON, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 23.
CLEANING TIME.

Theoretically, cleaning time should extend from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31. Dirt should never be allowed to accumulate. Every day should be a cleaning day. But that is not practicable. So the careful housekeeper has her periodic cleaning times. And the greatest of these is in the spring months, after winter ice has gone, and a milder air and a sunnier sky leave no excuse for storm doors and double windows. During the winter nature covers all impurities with a snow-white veil; but as spring-time melts the veil away the foul spots are all revealed. Ash heaps and garbage heaps stand out in all their ugliness. Not only unsightly, but unhealthy; for as dirt accumulates germs develop, and diseases follow.

The health department of the city will send around its inspectors in a few days. Be ready for them. Clean up the house, and do not confine the cleaning to the living rooms. Turn the light into the cellars and closets, and follow with the broom and scrubbing brush. Empty the drawers and boxes; destroy all that is useless. If you find some things that are no longer useful to you, remember that there are people not far from you whose needs are greater than yours. What is useless to you may be of value to them.

And while your house is undergoing the cleaning operations, do not forget the backyard. The lawn you will look after without any prompting, because every passerby can see it. But only your nearest neighbors see the backyard. Gather up the rubbish; bury in the kindly earth everything that can fertilize it, even if you grow nothing but grass. Then let the garbage collector carry off all that remains on the surface.

Every few weeks someone starts a call to "swat the fly," because hygienists tell us he is not only a nuisance but a carrier of disease. It should not be necessary to punish this little familiar insect for our own faults. Banish the filth, and then there will be no trouble about the flies. They increase and multiply simply because we provide them with breeding ground and food. In fact, the fly is a useful fellow in his way. He is Nature's garbage collector. Where filth exists she sends the fly to get rid of it. And the more filth, the more flies. It is not the fly's fault that in trying to dispose of your garbage for you he occasionally carries disease along with him. Keep clean, and he will no longer be seen, for there will be no place for him to live.

Keep clean, and your house will look prettier, and smell sweeter, and be a better place to live in. Keep clean, and your cellar and outhouses and backyards will not be disease producers. Keep clean, and you will have healthier bodies and happier homes.

In conclusion, clean up.
"A LAW UNTO ITSELF."
This committee is a law unto itself," said Chairman Ferguson, of the Ontario Public Accounts Committee, in refusing to permit questions to be put to a witness.

Mr. Ferguson would have been still nearer the truth if he had said that he and his party colleagues on the committee made the laws to suit themselves. It had been already confirmed by the Prime Minister in the Legislature that the witness, Mr. George E. Taylor, contributed to the Government's election fund, while he held a Government contract. Even on this subject the committee shut off inquiry. Mr. Proudfoot persisted, and asked Mr. Taylor whether an attempt had been made to induce him to retract certain charges against a cabinet minister. To this he refused to reply, the chairman not only sustaining the refusal, but ruling the question out of order.

There was a suggestion in Mr. Proudfoot's line of examination that the financial claim of Mr. Taylor's firm upon the Government had been referred by the latter to arbitration because Mr. Taylor knew something to the discredit of a member of the Government. It would be thought that supporters of the Government on the Public Accounts Committee would encourage Mr. Taylor to reply to all questions in order to dissipate any such suspicion, if it were groundless. But they joined in the conspiracy of silence, and applied the gag, after the example of their Ottawa congeners.

The public will draw inferences for itself.
MR. BECK AND MR. CHURCH.
We have been curious to see how the Toronto Telegram would hold the balance between its heroes, Adam Beck and Thomas Church.
Mr. Church said that Mr. Beck at a meeting of the Toronto Board of Control threatened to resign from the Government and take the stump against the proposal of the city of Toronto to buy the Toronto Electric Light and Toronto Street Railway plants. Mr. Beck replied he made no such statement. Mr. Church retorts that Mr. Beck made the statement and said other things even stronger and warmer. Here is how the Telegram tries to reconcile the contradictions:

"The lesson of the incident is clear, and principally teaches that appeals relating to great public issues should never be offered at private meetings. Nobody imagines that Hon. Adam Beck erred knowingly when he declared that he did not say that which Controller Church says Mr. Beck said. The best proof that Mr. Beck said what Controller Church says Mr. Beck said, or something equally as strong, is that John O'Neill joined in a heroic resolution. That resolution made its supporters look ridiculous unless the city understood that the resolution was a response to the demands of a man (Mr. Beck), who has earned the right to make demands on every friend to public rights in the city of Toronto. Messrs. O'Neill, Church and Foster were put in the position of valiantly going forth to battle at the demand of Adam Beck. They were shot full of holes in battle for Adam Beck and buried as spies without a chance to be honored as a valiant man and true who had led a forlorn hope at Adam Beck's behest and suffered defeat fighting for the cause which Adam Beck has made his own."

Mr. Beck comes out of this second best. If, as the Telegram contends, Mr. Church correctly reported what Mr. Beck said, then Mr. Beck's denial is not entitled to credit. The Telegram tries to let its provincial hero down lightly by adding that "nobody imagines that Hon. Adam Beck erred knowingly" in making the denial; but this is too simple altogether. The fact is that Mr. Beck said some things in private which he would not have said in public, because he had no intention of suiting the action to the word.

THE BELGIAN STRIKE.
The Liberal party in Belgium has played a useful role as a moderating influence between the Conservatives and Socialists. It is largely recruited from the middle classes and the professions, but while anti-Socialist, it is democratic, and has sympathized with the object of the Socialist-Labor strike. From the Liberal leader, the Government has accepted a compromise proposal, which may end the strike at once, with assurance of at least a partial victory for the strikers. The Government has agreed to take up the franchise question, and to introduce reforms before the next election. The Socialist deputies will recommend to the rank and file to accept the suggestion, and the strike will probably end this week.

This is the first efficient use of the weapon of the general strike by the proletariat of any country. It was an impressive demonstration of the solidarity of the working classes of Belgium, and their capacity for organization and self-restraint. Their discipline and good order kept for them the moral support of other classes favorable to electoral reform. Evidently the complete democratization of the franchise cannot be long delayed. And when it comes it will not have the revolutionary effects feared by the party now in power. The experience of other countries under manhood suffrage is not such as to terrify any legitimate interest.

Mr. Hanna passed the hat for election funds. This much is known. But how did he spend the money?
The Japanese-California embroilment is another reminder that if war clouds roll over this continent, they will come out of the Pacific, not the Atlantic.

The Ontario public accounts committee should turn the light on dark corners. But what use is a dark lantern if the side is to be kept closed?
Closure would not have been introduced in the British House of Commons if a general election would have sufficed to remove the Parnellite obstruction.

This is characteristic impudence in Mr. Crothers' claim that the Ottawa Government has a mandate to go on with the naval bill. What sort of mandate has it from Quebec? There twenty of its followers were elected by opposing naval expenditure in any form.

A contemporary suggests that students who are not competent to enter Toronto University should be admitted to the Western. The effect of this would be the lowering of the standard of the Western, relative to Toronto. The best is not too good for the Western.

Our local contemporary complains of a personal attack on Mr. Beck in a Toronto dispatch to this journal, referring to Mr. Beck's difficulties in Toronto. The most biting comments upon Mr. Beck in that city come from his party associates. Mr. Beck himself spares no one who crosses his path—witness his personal attacks upon prominent citizens during the last municipal election here. As for the Free Press, it waged a contemptible and malignant warfare upon highly respected members of the city council, at Mr. Beck's bidding. It has been always capable of this conduct without a prompter, however.

ADVISING THE COURT.
[Chicago Record-Herald.]
A colored man was brought before a police judge charged with stealing chickens. He pleaded guilty and received sentence, when the judge asked:

GILLET'S LYE
EATS DIRT
CLEANS DISINFECTS

ed him how it was he managed to lift those chickens right under the window of the owner's house when there was a dog in the yard.
"It wouldn't be of no use, judge," said the man, "to try to splurge dis-ting to you all. If you was to try it you like as not would get yer hide full of shot an' git no chickens, neither. If you want to engage in any rascality, judge, yo' bettah stick to de bench, whar yo' am familiar."

TOO IMPULSIVE.
[Chicago Record-Herald.]
"I admire everything that is beautiful," he said.
"You mustn't say such things to me," she replied. "We have only known each other a little while."

WANTED—A DRAMA.
[Canadian Colliers.]
"We have yet to see the drama of the Canadian backwoods—it has only been presented in such plays as 'The Wolf,' conjured up to suit the banal imagination of Broadway. We have yet to see the story of the plains told with more vital realism than that supplied by the presence of 'near' cowboys; we have yet even to see a theatrical version of democratic Ontario—a picture of the conditions that all know, and not a 'by-gone' monstrosity like 'Way Down East.'"

WHERE CHARLES READE LIVED AND WORKED.
[London Evening Standard.]
The house in King's Cross where Charles Reade spent fourteen of the happiest years of his life is now to be let furnished. Here he wrote "Foul Play," "The Wandering Jew," and other works, of which the most famous, perhaps, was "Drink," an adaptation of Zola's novel, which brought him £20,000.

BRIGHT OF HIM.
[London Opinion.]
"Why didn't you send your man to mend my electric bell?" "He did go, madam; but, as he rang three times and got no answer, he concluded that there was nobody at home."

A CANADIAN IN LONDON.
[London Chronicle.]
It was not the brightly polished boots of the Londoner that most impressed an old Canadian whom I took to see the sights of the metropolis some time ago. It was his first sight of us, and he was most struck by our general helplessness. He pointed out his meaning by telling me that in the town he came from the lawyer thought no shame to carry a sack of flour through the street, and that he had seen spending his leisure by painting, his house, or the person engaged with spade and pick, like any navvy. And now my Canadian found he had arrived in a country where a man could not even carry his own portmanteau to the station. Of course I defended our British point of view and discourse of "right convention," but it could not avoid feeling that Canadian sentiment is healthier than our own in these things.

THE END OF WAR.
[Ottawa Citizen.]
The end of war is approaching. It is no vague idealism, but a practical statement of fact. The Dreadnought will soon take its place with the extinct mammoth—both colossal reminders of ages of brute strength outgrown. There are forces at work to-day that make such prophecy inevitable. Science will soon make war impossible, while human nature will make it unthinkable.

CALLED FOR BLOOD.
[Chicago Tribune.]
"Sandy looks as if he had been fighting."
"He has been fighting; a fellow said something in his presence about muscular and happers," and Sandy saluted him."

"Haven't you got sense enough to know that men are not arrested for grafting? He was arrested for being caught at it."

A MOLLYCODDLE.
[Florida Times-Union.]
"Rastus, whar's your idea of a molly-coddle?"
"Well, boss, a niggah what carries a safety razor is one."

"CHARLEY'S AUNT."
[London Daily News.]
Mr. William Sydney Penley, of Grand Parade, St. Leonards, Sussex, the famous comedian and actor, has "Charley's Aunt," left estate of the gross value of £15,642, of which the net personality has been sworn at £10,958. Mr. Penley was generally credited with having made a fortune from "Charley's Aunt," and his estate proves to be not so large as was commonly believed. The amounts left by other notable actors of Penley's time are as follows:
Sir Henry Irving..... £20,527
Wilson Barrett..... 30,862
William Terriss..... 18,257
J. L. Toole..... 79,984

JOHNSON MULCTED $1,000.
Fined for Smuggling into the U. S. a $2,000 Necklace.
Chicago, April 23.—Jack Johnson, negro pugilist, was fined $1,000 by Judge Carpenter in the United States district court today after charges of smuggling a $2,000 necklace had been dropped and the heavy-weight had pleaded "nolo contendere" to charges of concealing from federal officials the fact that he had the jewelry in his possession. The necklace was declared forfeited to the Government, and probably will be sold at auction. The action winds up the lesser of two cases, which federal authorities have against Johnson. He is still to come to trial on an indictment charging violation of the Mann law.

HEAD OF BANKERS BEFORE COMMITTEE
President Wilkie Says Emergency Circulation Should Be For a Year.
RESERVE NOT A WASTE
Recommend That Part of It Should Be Laid Aside to Cover Depreciation.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ottawa, April 23.—R. D. Wilkie, president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, and also of the Imperial Bank, gave testimony before the banking and currency committee this morning. He explained to the committee that he did not appear officially on behalf of the Bankers' Association. The outset Mr. Wilkie referred to the great development of banking, and to the increasing demands of the west for more facilities. Emergency circulation was largely the result of that demand. "Our notes have been in the land," he said, "until at this season of the year we are obliged to issue Government notes and anything else we can get our hands upon because our circulation is dangerously near to the limit." If emergency circulation were extended to twelve months in the future, Mr. Wilkie, they could do away with the necessity of a gold reserve.

Expand Emergency.
"We cannot do anything about what Canada will do ten years hence," declared Mr. Wilkie. "The country is expanding so rapidly. The emergency currency is sufficient for the time being, if it were extended to twelve months in the year. It is, however, necessary to have a basis of circulation in excess of that at present authorized or else everything will come to a stop."
Mr. Nickle asked whether or not the gold reserve held against circulation was an economic waste. Mr. Wilkie said it was not, for though it was lying idle the notes representing it were earning money. It was impossible to earn both "if you take away any part of the reserve," he said, "you destroy, so to speak, part of the House. The reserve is, therefore, a particular purpose in the institution. The first losses a bank makes are reserves. The thicker the hide, the longer it takes to penetrate."

Wise Banking Recommended.
Wise banking, said Mr. Wilkie, kept constant, and that from time to time a certain amount of the surplus should cover depreciation. For instance, certain securities, such as British consols, were subject to depreciation.
Mr. Aikman asked what the circulation of Canadian banks in other lands was not detrimental to Canada, and an unfair way to treat privileges through the bank.
Mr. Wilkie stated that any injury incurred through reduced circulation was more than offset by the fact that outside circulation opened up the trade routes and established trade connections. "It is very important," he declared, "that Canada should look abroad and extend its trade channels."

Auto for Sir James From Followers In Legislature
[Special to The Advertiser.]
Toronto, April 23.—The closing day of the session was marked by the presentation of a handsome automobile to Sir James Whitney. The formal presentation took place in the members' smoking-room of the House, and afterwards the Prime Minister and his family were present for a trial spin. The automobile is a token from the Conservative members, and has been secured by voluntary subscription. Chief Whip Dr. R. F. Preston was master of ceremony. Sir James replied with some feeling, and expressed his appreciation of the feeling that of the gift manifested.

Berlin Feels Nervous Over Scutari's Fall
[Canadian Press.]
Berlin, April 23.—The fall of Scutari has caused the greatest anxiety in political circles here, which fear that it ultimately involve the peace of Europe.

It is semi-officially announced to-day that the capture of the Turkish fortress cannot in the slightest degree alter the decision of the European powers to incorporate Scutari in the future state of Albania. There is, however, little expectation here either that the Montenegrins will withdraw peacefully from Scutari, or that the republic of the powers will stand in an attempt to oust them forcibly, either by means of an international expedition, or by Austria and Italy acting as the mandataries of Europe.

Little Damage in City.
While there was a large amount of damage done throughout the county by the lightning, there was little damage to city property from this source. Most of the damage and inconvenience in the city was caused by the wind and rain-fall.

The need of storm sewers was brought forcibly to notice. The city engineer received complaints today from a number of private householders whose cellars had been filled by the surplus surface water that the present sewers were unable to carry away.

Officials of the local observatory state that the rainfall was only .064 inches, a small amount in consideration of the intensity of the storm.
The fire brigade was not called out to fight any fires caused by the storm.
Severe in Biddulph.
Throughout the county much damage was done by the lightning, and a large number of barns and other buildings were destroyed.

Offensive Breath Caused Usually By Catarrh
A Simple Remedy Discovered That Cures Without Drugs.

The Canadian people suffer more from Catarrh than from any other disease. It undermines more constitutions and creates more sickness than all other diseases combined. It is, therefore, very dangerous.
"You can't successfully treat Catarrh by internal dosing—you must in some way send a purifying, healing agent through the breathing organs, so that the germs can be reached. This you do every time you inhale Catarrh-zone. It's rich essences and healing balsams are breathed all through the nose, throat and lungs, and effectively destroy every trace of Catarrh. This is a proven fact."
I endorse Catarrh-zone because I know of six bad cases of Catarrh, including my own, that it has cured. It is a sensible remedy because it is capable of going where the disease is. I believe it cures quicker than other sources of the disease that anything else I know of. I had headaches, bad breath, and much stomach trouble associated with my Catarrh, but they have disappeared since using Catarrh-zone, which keeps me free from colds, headaches, Catarrh and all winter ills."

Rainbow Flour
the 24 karat flour

Just as the metal refiner repeatedly skims off the dross from the molten gold, so we remove, by repeated bolting, the fibre, embryo germ and other dross of the wheat that enters into the making of Rainbow Flour.

Were Karat marks given to flour, Rainbow would win the verdict "24 Karat." And it is the only flour that would be entitled to such distinction. For in its milling, the less desirable elements are most painstakingly removed.

We utilize only the choicest portion of the wheat berry. There is not a trace of fibre in Rainbow Flour—not a trace of dirt or germ—nothing remains but the pure starch and gluten.

What bread it makes! Snow-white and flaky—a mouth-melting delight!

Test some and you'll agree it's the one 24 Karat Flour.

ELECTRIC STORM BURNS BARNS IN LONDON'S VICINITY
Scarcely Any Damage Within City Limits—No Fires Result.
Buildings in Surrounding Country Suffer—Farmers Lose Heavily.

The electrical storm in this section of Ontario on Tuesday night and early this morning was pronounced the worst in recent years by a large number of the residents of London and the County of Middlesex.
The storm, or rather the series of storms, commenced about 8 o'clock Tuesday evening and continued until almost daybreak. Many were unable to sleep because of the intensity of the thunder, lightning and rain. There appeared to be five distinct storms at intervals of about two hours.

While there was a large amount of damage done throughout the county by the lightning, there was little damage to city property from this source. Most of the damage and inconvenience in the city was caused by the wind and rain-fall.
The need of storm sewers was brought forcibly to notice. The city engineer received complaints today from a number of private householders whose cellars had been filled by the surplus surface water that the present sewers were unable to carry away.

OPPOSE KAISER'S BILL
Government of Alsace-Lorraine Censured for Supporting Military Measure.
[Canadian Press.]
Strasbourg, Germany, April 23.—The Government of the Provinces of Alsace-Lorraine was censured last night by the second chamber of the Reichstag for instructing its representatives in the federal council of the German Empire to vote for the military bills, increasing the German army, which the members of the Diet declared to be contrary to the wishes of the population of Alsace-Lorraine. The motion was adopted by a majority of 47 against 5.

An official statement by the victory of the provinces, declaring that the military measures were of a purely defensive character, to enable the German Empire, which had not the remotest aggressive intention, to ward off any attacks with the full force of the German nation, was read, without producing any effect on the legislators.

PROOF FOR Sanol Remedies
The Sanol Manufacturing Company of Canada, Limited, Winnipeg.
Jan. 25, 1913.
Dear Sirs.—It is just one year ago that we put in the first stock of SANOL and SANOL'S ANTI-DIABETES CURE, and we wish to state that we have been amazed at the remarkable sale of these remedies. We have had many repeat orders and have sold over $1,000 worth of these remedies. In spite of all these sales, we have yet to hear of one dissatisfied customer, while many have come back to tell us of the wonderful cures resulting from the medicine.

Another striking feature of this business is that so many customers come in stating that SANOL has cured their intimate friends, and they wished to try it for themselves. Wishing you continued success, we are yours truly,
