

THE BOSTON BRAVES HAVE NOTHING ON HAMILTON; JACK WHITE'S TEAM ALSO BEAT THE ATHLETICS

Why, Even Rube Deneau's Tailenders Made the Mackmen Go Into Extra Innings To Win.

EVEN THE DIRECTORS WILL PULL A "BOO" SOMETIMES

London Club Has Made a Few Mistakes That Have Proved Costly—Bierbauer Should Make Good With Lincoln—George Dunlap Suspended.

[BY BERT PERRY.]

The London Canadian League teams have never been noted for making bonehead plays, but the directors have been off some stunts that might be classed under that heading. One of the first of these was selling Harry Brant to the Peterboro club for one dollar ($1.00) just because Brant happened to have a couple of bad days. Last season Brant was drafted by the Chattanooga club of the Southern League, Peterboro realizing the nice little sum of $499 on the investment. Brant played with Fort Wayne all summer and now has been recalled to Chattanooga because of his good work.

Another of these "bonehead plays" was letting the option to purchase Tecumseh Park for $10,000 expire. The London club held this option for some time, then, when the time limit was up, let it expire. Tecumseh Park was dirt cheap at that price and the London directors realized it to their sorrow later on.

And then, what might be termed the last but not least of these faux pas, so to speak, was pulling this past season when Connie Mack asked the club to put a price on Bobby Heck. The local directors preferred Mack to name the price and would rather have dickered with the Philadelphia club than stated a definite sum for which Heck could be purchased. The result was that Mack passed Heck up altogether, after getting more information about him, and now the best the London club has been offered for the star southpaw is a trade with a Class A club. This is not written with the intention of knocking or criticizing the London owners in any way. To err is human and we all make mistakes. The London club has been unfortunate in making a few that proved costly.

Louis Bierbauer will be missed when the baseball season of 1915 comes around, and the London club will have difficulty in finding a good player to fill his place. Louis was not a brilliant first baseman but he could be depended upon. The same is true of his hitting. He was one of the best men on the club in a pinch, as his batting average will show. He was always hard working and at times the only man on the team who showed any "pep." Bierbauer has been with the club for four seasons. He is the only player that played on the club that Jo Jo Egan gathered together, to survive two seasons. Louis was popular with the fans. He will hit just as good in a Class A league as he did in the Canadian League, and it is not doubt that his fielding and base running will be nearly as good. When he leaves for the Nebraska city he will carry with him the good wishes of a host of London and other Canadian League fans.

It is likely that all the local O.H.A. and Intercollegiate hockey games this coming winter will be played in East London in the Jubilee rink. A committee of local hockey men visited the rink Wednesday afternoon and spent some hours there looking it over and planning improvements. So pleased were they with the proposition that it is practically certain that the east end arena will be the scene of all the big hockey battles this season. The Jubilee rink will accommodate a much larger crowd than any other rink in the city, and with the improvements planned it is estimated that 2,000 people can be seated comfortably and with a full view of the game. The ice space is larger than any other local rink and this should make for faster and better hockey. The local hockey club officials together with the Western University officials will go into the matter deeply at a meeting to be called for some night next week.

Stanley Dougan, the pitcher that Rube Deneau signed up for London late in the season of 1913 and released after a few days trial, has just been drafted by the Cincinnati Reds. Dougan is an Ohio boy who learned to pitch while attending Ohio Northern University. He comes from McConnellsville, Ohio, and is known to two or three of the London players who played here this past season. Dougan was with the Columbus A. A. team early in the spring, but was later released to Winnipeg of the Northern Association. He pitched great ball for the Manitoba club and was the leading pitcher in the league. Now he has landed in the big show.

George Dunlap, the former London shopboy, who was sent to the Omaha club of the Western League, after getting a trial with both the Cleveland American and Cleveland American Association League teams, is under suspension at the present time. Dunlap refused to take the Omaha club seriously. He was hurt shortly after reporting there and was out of the team for a couple of weeks. He did not get into condition after recovering and was suspended. Then he jumped the club and is said to be dickered with the Federals.

From Bat Boy to World's Series Hero--That's Gowdy

Tried out by Manager McGraw, of the Giants, found wanting and sent to the International League, only to be yanked back to first company when George Stallings took charge of the Braves last season, is the record of Hank (Henry) Gowdy, the big batting noise in this year's world's series games between the Boston and the Athletics. And to think of it! Only a few years ago Gowdy was the bat boy for the Columbus American Association. He was then a kid, a dreamer of some day becoming a big league star, but even in his most rosy dreams it is doubtful if he ever imagined himself being the hero of the world's championship fight. Hank probably limited his dreams to picturing the days when he would be a member of a major league club—and let it go at that.

When Gowdy—he should be called Rowdy Gowdy because of the rough way he wields the bat—came to the Giants he was a first baseman. He was too big and clumsy to navigate around the first sack, so the little Napoleon started remodeling him into a batsman. John had too many catches and didn't have time to await Gowdy's development, so he soon elected him to the membership of the Order of the Can.

Gowdy's wonderful batting in Monday's game and also the opening affair in Philadelphia will probably go down in baseball history as the best ever. At any rate his stick work on Monday is the best in the annals of the world's series games. Two two-baggers and a home run, all of which figured in the run-getting, is his record for the occasion. He makes Homerun Baker's showing with the stick against the Giant's look tame in comparison.

Hank's parents went all the way from their home in Columbus, Ohio, to see Monday's game. It was against Hank's expressed wish, too. He wrote them that he would be nervous if he knew they were in the stand—they "sneaked" into the game—that's how they put it—and when their red-haired son cracked out the hits that enabled his side to score their third straight victory, they were the proudest parents on earth.

Mr. Gowdy is a real fan. He once played professional ball in Cincinnati. He and Mrs. Gowdy refer to Hank as "the boy."

"He's a home boy," says Mrs. Gowdy. "When he's at home he helps me with the dishes and is such a comfort. Now don't you tell him we're here to see him play. We're going to tell him today after the game."

"13" a Lucky Number For Braves Apparently

A New York fan believes popular superstitions work out with a reverse English. This is the way the fan figured it for the Braves: James E. Gaiffney—13 letters in the name. Johnny Evers—Bought by Gaiffney January 13th and played first game with Boston April 14th, 13 weeks later. Club started to climb during 13th week of the season. Played the Giants the 13th scheduled game between the two clubs on August 13th. And now add that they won the championship of the world on the 13th of October.

Louis Schettler Pitches Against Pirates and Wins

Peterboro Twirler Beat Pittsburgh Team in Exhibition Game at Greenville, Pa.

Louis Schettler, the Peterboro twirler, held the Pittsburgh Pirates to seven hits and beat them 10 to 6 in a game at Greenville on Wednesday. Schettler pitched for the Greenville club, while Mully Miller, the Peterboro catcher, was behind the bat. Curly Blount also played right field for the Greenville team. Schettler was only scored on in two innings. In the first inning, the Pirates scored two runs and in the seventh, with the score 10 to 2 against them, Kelly hit a home run with the bases full. Curly Blount scored three of the ten Greenville runs. The Pirates are barnstorming through Pennsylvania at the present time.

RUDOLPH AND GOWDY HAVE GONE ON THE STAGE

World Series Heroes Are Busy Rehearsing for Appearance at Hammetts Next Week.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The stage is about to be enriched by the advent of two eminent Bostonians, Messrs. Rudolph and Gowdy. Dick and Hank, who recently figured prominently in the overthrow of a certain swagging White Elephant, are going into vaudeville. They will appear at Hammetts next week, and are now thick in the throes of rehearsal. Year after year baseball goes on contributing to the stage and to literature, and now greedily Thespis lays hands on the boss pitcher and the boss slugger of the late national diamond collision.

JACK AND JESS WILL MEET IN JUAREZ, MEXICO

Jack Johnson fight will take place on St. Patrick's Day at Juarez, Mexico, according to Tom Jones, manager of Willard, the demands made by the champion having been met.

YALE HAS A BRICK LAY THIS YEAR! KNOWLES CAN BOOT IT A MILE

The way Knowles is shooting the pigskin all over the campus has given Yale great hopes for this season on the gridiron. One of the most powerful of the backfield men, Knowles is a ground gainer as well as a punter and droppicker. But he has shown so much ability as a kicker that he will be relied upon to do most of the footwork for the blue this year.

TWO FORMIDABLE PLAYERS ON THE WESTERN UNIVERSITY RUGBY TEAM

JOHNNY ("MUSHY") ROSS. ROY WRIGHT.

Johnny Ross and Roy Wright are probably two of the youngest, yet two of the most reliable, players on the local O. R. F. U. team. It was Ross' great kicking that practically beat Petrolia here on Thanksgiving Day. Wright plays quarterback and yells the signals.

PUNTS AND PASSES

The work-out of the Rugby club last night was not as largely attended as that of Wednesday's. However, there was a reason. A number of the boys were vitally interested in the freshman initiation of the Meds, and are saving the war-paint and feathers accumulated in the afternoon's excitement to use against the Sarnia Sailors when they meet them a few weeks hence.

Kenney, who tried out at centre scrimmage on Wednesday, was not able to be present. "Cap" Stevens accepted his excuse, which, written in a large, flowing hand, was as follows: "Will not be able to keep my appointment with you this afternoon, as the bunch have got me properly."

Art Smith managed to escape the Sophs and was out booting the leather in grand shape. It will take several second-year men to tar and feather him when the time comes.

After this, two full teams will be out in uniform every night. The Arts and Meds, who are preparing for their annual game against each other, will turn out and give the senior team a good workout each evening.

Some of the players seem to think that they will be allowed to play in the games without turning out to the practice.

"Nothing doing," said "Cap" Stevens last night. "The boys who turn out faithfully, and are in condition."

PICKING UP THE PIECES AFTER THE WORLD SERIES JUST ENDED

No Matter How Cheap You Hold a Machine, Don't Get In Front of It When It Is Going at Top Speed.

There is one lesson to be learned from the world's series just ended that is likely to be remembered. It is: No matter how cheap you hold a machine, don't get in front of it when it's going at top speed. You're apt to get hurt.

That's what happened to the Athletics and that's why Good Old Dope exploded in the hospital, following a quadruple collision with that "joke" machine of George Stallings, the Boston Braves. The momentum of a winner is like that of any object; it is bound to carry it forward with an impact greater than that of a force just getting under way. When the Athletics encountered the Braves it was a case of the weaker impact of a team just beginning to move encountering one going at top speed. Result: They are picking up the pieces.

It Happened in 1905. What happened from last Friday to last Tuesday is the duplicate of what occurred in 1905 between the Cubs and the Sox, only the surprise is even more strongly accentuated in the Braves' case than in the victory of the White Sox over the "greatest baseball machine on earth." The Cubs were confident and relaxed; the White Sox were confident and relaxed; the White Sox were whipping at top speed, hot from a record breaking.

As between a brilliant team that is temperamental, and an ordinary one that is game, the latter is the probable winner in a finish struggle. It's gameness that told in the Boston Braves' winning of the championship. Connie Mack to the contrary notwithstanding.

Adams and Viox, of Pirates, Said To Have Jumped To Have Jumped

Pittsburg Report Has It That Two More Members of Pirates Go to Feds.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 15.—Federal invasions of the Pirates stronghold continued today, with Pitcher Babe Adams and Second-Sacker Jimmy Viox the latest captures, according to unofficial but apparently well-founded reports today. Both it was said, would go to Brooklyn.

Barney Dreyfus called the report that Adams and Viox had capitulated a "fake." He reported the defection of Adams and Viox, coming on top of the definite announcement of Ed Konetchy's leap to the rebels, shows that the jumping scene is in full swing. Another of Wednesday's arrivals in the federal league was Marty Berghammer, of Cincinnati, who also goes to the Pittsburg Feds.

Though Walter Ford denied that the Brooklyn Feds signed Tessera, Fletcher and Burns, there is a well-defined rumor that 30 or more major league players have already signed contracts to play with the Feds next year.

JIMMY ARCHER GETS BAIL. CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Jimmy Archer, catcher of the Chicago Nationals, charged by George E. Wolfson, a spectator at the city series game last Tuesday with assault, gave bail of $400 today to assure his presence in court tomorrow.
