

ence. Last winter some of our children suffered very much from these sores and very few were free from them altogether. This winter we have only one case and that is a mild one.

FROM MRS. WRIGHT.

Rolling River Mission, Minnedosa, Feb. 12, 1894.

We received several bundles of clothes from different parts of Manitoba, but not nearly enough to satisfy the demands that are daily made.

Do you think we can get any help from Mission Societies in the east? We need blankets or bails and something to make jackets for the women more than anything else. A number of basques were sent in the bundles, but they are useless for the Indian women. We also need needles, thread, yarn and print, for I would like to teach them to sew and knit.

If the school is opened next summer we will need clothing for the boys and girls to help coax them in.

FROM MISS BAKER.

262 Bishop Street, Montreal, Feb. 12, 1894.

Sometime after I left Prince Albert the clothing was received, and I can assure you I do feel so grateful to the Maitland Presbyterian Society for such a generous and well-assorted supply as I hear was sent, everything was so good.

The pants for the boys were such a treasure; of quilts also there was an abundant quantity, and I am so glad that the last days of the poor old woman, of whom I have spoken, were made comfortable out of the good things sent.

Words cannot be found to express thanks. I can only say as I have done before, God bless and reward all who labour in the W. F. M. S. The schools in the North-West could not go on without their support.
