

death, we must then insist, always and at all hazards, that, so long as they are acting within the limits assigned to them by the British North America Act, the Provincial legislatures owe no allegiance whatsoever to the Dominion Legislature. In a word, the Provinces are Provinces, not of the Dominion but of the British Empire, because they held not from, nor even through, the Dominion, but direct from the Imperial Government. We must not allow any other body to interpose its cold shade betwixt us and the Imperial sun, which alone vivifies all its many satellites, and alone preserves the order of their several orbits.

WRECK OF THE SS. ATLANTIC.—The horrors of the Northfleet catastrophe are outdone by those of the Atlantic, cast away on the coast of Nova Scotia, at no great distance from the entrance to Halifax harbor, about 3 a.m. on the 1st inst. Of course we have not the full particulars as yet; and for them we must await the issue of the investigation into the circumstances that has been ordered by the local authorities. The following particulars are given in the public journals, and are gathered from the account given by one of the survivors, Mr. Bradley, third mate of the ill-fated vessel.

The Atlantic having on board a general cargo, some 800 steerage passengers, 50 cabin passengers, and about 1,000 souls in all, sailed for New York from Liverpool on Thursday, the 20th ult. On her passage across she encountered head winds, but nothing very severe in the shape of bad weather. On Monday, 31st ult., finding the store of coal running short, the captain determined to put into Halifax for a fresh supply, for which port he, as he supposed, shaped his course. He stood on till about midnight, with a heavy sea on, and the night dark; about midnight, by reckoning, Sambre Light was distant about 49 miles, bearing W.N.W. It is not said whether before dark, the land had been sighted and cross bearings obtained, so as to lay down the ship's position accurately on the chart; neither does it appear that in default of these, any other precautions, such as taking a cast of the lead, were resorted to.

So on this dark night, the ship stood on towards the land. About midnight the captain went to his cabin to lie down, leaving the deck in charge of some of his subordinates; Mr. Bradley, the narrator, his watch being at an end, also went to bed, and at 3.15 she ran ashore.

LIBERALISM AS IT IS IN PRACTICE.—The following items, clipped from latest telegrams, explain what Liberal Principles are in practice:—

Rome, March 31.—A party of Catholic youth, one of a native of England, while leaving the Church of the Gesù yesterday, were attacked by some men lying in wait for them, and severely beaten.

Madrid, March 31.—Acts of lawless violence are of daily occurrence in Barcelona. The burning of churches, and the massacre of priests, are threatened.

Always and everywhere Liberalism is the same; always displays itself under the same forms of procedure.

The Raffle mentioned in our last came off on Thursday, 3rd inst., and the prize, a handsome gold watch, was won by Mr. Narcisse Guerin, clerk. The proceeds as we have already stated, will be devoted to defraying the expenses of the North West Mission, in which our Sisters of the Grey Nunnery take so deep an interest, and are so profitably employed.

The following gentlemen have kindly consented to act as Agents for the True Witness for the undermentioned places:—

Mr. PATRICK HART, Osceola, Adamston and Douglas.

Mr. PATRICK COFFEY, Brudenell.

Mr. P. LYNN, Escott, Caintown, Farmersville and Charleston.

Mr. D. O'SHEA, Picton and vicinity.

Mr. LAWRENCE SLATTERY, Sheenboro.

Mr. J. MELONEY, Revo, Mount St. Patrick.

Mr. NEAL McCART, Grocer, Clarence Street, opposite the Market, Ottawa.

A majority of the mortality cases in this country may be traced to disease of the lungs. Indeed, these maladies are alarmingly on the increase. We do not know a remedy better suited to the disease than the combination of hypophosphites discovered by Mr. Feltow.

DR. WESTER'S BALM OF WILD CHERRY is "a combination and a form indeed" for healing and curing diseases of the throat, lungs and chest. It cures a cough by loosening and cleansing the lungs and allaying irritation; thus removing the cause, instead of driving up the cough and leaving the disease behind.

The Wild Cherry does not regard Dr. Ayer's wisdom in migrating north—such immense numbers of them are flying over us now, while his almanac says:—"Bleak and blustering about this time, with heavy snow."—Cedar Rapids (Ia.) Times, March 3.

We were too fast last week in our item on the conflict between Dr. Ayer and the wild gessie. The Doctor's science beat their instinct this time. Not for years have we had such a snow-storm as that of last Sunday. The snow lies three feet deep on a level in Minnesota and two feet in Wisconsin, while the storm has swept from the Atlantic to the Rocky Mountains. Snow fell to various depths as far south as Denver, Fort Union and Santa Fe. Learned as we believed Dr. Ayer in the arena of nature, and wonderful as we knew his medicines to be, we were not prepared for so signal an instance of his superiority, not only over the wise men, but the wisest of animals whose instinct is considered unfailing. We drive up the peg, more firmly than ever, over our hearth for Ayer's American Almanac.—Cedar Rapids Times, March 10.

ADDRESS TO THE REV. FATHER CAMPION.

To the Editor of the True Witness.

Dear Sir,—Among the many pleasing incidents of St. Patrick's Day, perhaps it is not too late to record one that occurred in the rooms of the St. Bridget's Total Abstinence and Benefit Society on that morning. Previous to the Society leaving their rooms to form in procession, the Rev. President and Director, "Rev. Aug. Campion" having taken the chair, the Secretary read the following address:—

To the Rev. Aug. Campion, President and Director of the St. Bridget's Total Abstinence and Benefit Society.

Rev. Father,—We, the officers and members of this Society, beg to approach you and to request that you will be pleased to accept at our hands a slight testimonial of the very great respect and esteem in which we hold you in your double quality of Parish Priest and President and Director of our Society. Your exemplary piety and kindness of heart, and also the indefatigable zeal displayed by you on all occasions, whenever the interests of the Society were concerned, have won for you the highest praise and admiration.

Your sermons from the pulpit and the instructions given in our meeting rooms, have been instrumental in augmenting our membership and in inducing weak members to become strong and more firm in their determination to adhere to the Society. The services rendered by you in the advancement of the interest of our Society, are incalculable and will, we trust, be acknowledged and taken into account by Him in whose holy work you have been so long and honorably engaged. Nevertheless you will permit us to say that we also appreciate these noble works of charity and benevolence.

You are following in the glorious footsteps of a late worthy confere, one whose memory is dear to every Irishman in particular, and to mankind in general, the Rev. Theobald Mathew.

In conclusion we again reiterate the request, that you will please accept the small testimonial, and express the prayer that the Almighty God will be pleased to spare you many years to preside over the Society which you have been to a great extent instrumental in founding.

We are, Rev. Father, your very obt. servants, on behalf of the St. Bridget's Total Abstinence and Benefit Society,

JOHN CONWAY, 1st Vice President.

F. C. LAWLER, 2nd " "

WILLIAM DILLON, Secretary.

JOHN HOULAHAN, Treasurer.

The address which was accompanied by a purse of $100 was replied to by the Rev. Gentleman, in the following manner.

Dearest Friends,—Your present though unexpected does not surprise me, for I have been long acquainted with the generosity of your race, which, I dare say has become proverbial. This present you have accompanied with an address which faithfully corresponds to your sentiments, your words are the living expressions of the faith which the glorious St. Patrick has so deeply implanted in the soil of Ireland, and which every son of Erin carries to every place he goes as a most precious boon; yes it is faith which makes you appreciate the services of the priest. You exalt what I have done in behalf of our congregation at large and of the temperance society in particular. I cannot fully accept this compliment, being aware that the flourishing condition of the temperance society, is not less due to our officers than to myself. I feel happy to offer them to-day, my warmest thanks for their generous co-operation. Our Society is now established on a solid basis, still it has not yet reached its full growth as long as there shall be one single victim of the heinous habit of intemperance, we must strive to rescue him and make him share in the manifold advantages which we enjoy ourselves, let this be the main object of every member. I do not know of a nobler work than that which is intended to restore man to his former dignity and secure his temporal and eternal happiness.

To the Editor of the True Witness.

Sir,—I wish to call your attention to the Editorial of the Evening Star dated the 4th inst. respecting your remarks in the True Witness on the Bill of Incorporation of the Orangemen of Upper Canada. He would have you say nothing on the subject, and waxes angry, because you point out the course that the Catholic minority of Upper Canada should pursue to have a veto put upon this unhappy Bill for their peace and the quiet enjoyment of their lives in the Province of Ontario. The Fable of the Wolf and the Lamb is forcibly exemplified in his reasoning why the Orangemen should have a legal status in Ontario, for he infers if the Christian Brothers, who sacrifice their lives for the Christian Education of the rising generation, have been incorporated why should not the Orangemen be incorporated, whose works of brotherly love and Christian benevolence towards their Catholic countrymen, have been so constantly manifested in degradation, misery and ruin, if possible. Is Orangemen, the blight, the cancer of Ireland, to be legalized here; are we to perpetuate in America the hatreds arising from political party strifes whose origin but for Orangemen would be long ago forgotten? No, Mr. Editor, you were perfectly right in your advice to the Catholic minority of Upper Canada, and I trust they will promptly act upon it. Yours,

A SUBSCRIBER.

Montreal 4th April 1873.

To the Editor of the True Witness.

Sir,—In his interesting report of the proceedings of St. Patrick's day in Ottawa, published in your last issue, your correspondent "Mark" falls into an error when he says "that none of the Irish M. P.'s were invited to take seats on the platform." To prevent any false impression that might arise from this erroneous statement, permit me to set matters right by stating that Irish M. P.'s, and a number of them, were invited to take seats on the platform on the occasion in question. Invitations were extended to Messrs. Anglin, Tobin, McGreevy, Duver, Hon. M. P. Ryan and others, all of whom with one exception, sent letters of apology for that evening, because of previous engagements for that evening, and absence from the city. It will thus be seen, that if Irish M. P.'s were not on the platform it was not that they were not invited to be there, but that other circumstances prevented their attendance. Yours truly,

W. H. WALLER, Pres. St. P. L. Ass'n.

April 4th 1873.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY IN FRAMPTON.

To the Editor of the True Witness.

Mr. Editor,—Although late I beg leave to write you a few lines of a day dearly beloved to every Irishman, that is St. Patrick's day. The Irishmen of St. Edward of Frampton, celebrated the day with great enthusiasm. Notwithstanding the very bad storm that was blowing on that day, a large and respectable congregation met at the Church to assist at High Mass, which was sung by the Rev. Mr. Dion of St. Hedonine, who kindly came on that occasion, as our own worthy pastor, the Rev. Mr. Kelly, was very ill for some weeks before, but is now improving. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Mr. Sexton from Quebec, a young priest. He made a very eloquent and edifying discourse on the virtues of the Irish in preserving and spreading the Catholic faith. The music was rendered by Doct. Morissette, from St. Hedonine; also Mr. T. Duff, junior, and Mr. Turgeon discoursed beautifully on the violin. After Mass, a procession was formed, and walked a short distance, but was unable to proceed owing to the inclemency of the weather. They therefore entered the parish hall, where Mr. James Kelly briefly addressed the society, after which they returned to the society where an address was read by John Duff, Esq., signed by the members of the society, expressing regret at the absence of our beloved pastor on the national festival and thanking the Rev. Mr. Dion, and the Rev. J. Sexton, for having so kindly come to help the Irishmen of Frampton to celebrate the day in a worthy manner. The Rev. gentlemen replied to the address in a very able manner which endeared them to the people of Frampton. Mr. Cassidy, made a long and elaborate discourse on the wrongs of Ireland—and the sufferings which her sons endured for the faith. Mr. James Kelly spoke very eloquently in praise of the Irishmen of St. Edward's in carrying out the celebration of St. Patrick's day, also a few remarks encouraging education, but said he was too hot and impatient an Irishman, to speak on the wrongs of Ireland, and concluded by saying he was a home ruler. Several beautiful and patriotic songs were sung by several young ladies and gentlemen.

Altogether it is a day that will be long remembered by the Irishmen of St. Edward's as a grand success, notwithstanding two of the orators were unavoidably unable to assist.

Hoping you will excuse me for encroaching on your most invaluable paper, I remain yours, sincerely,

AN IRISHMAN OF ST. EDWARD'S.

At the Annual Meeting of the Catholic Young Society, held on Monday, March 24th, 1873, the following gentlemen were elected office-bearers for the ensuing year:—

President—P. C. Shannon. Vice-President—R. Warren. Treasurer—W. J. Brennan. Secretary—M. Battle. Assistant-Secretary—Wm. McNally. Librarian—T. Carroll. Assistant-Librarian—D. Bowden.

Council—A. Brogan, M. Polan, M. Arahill, J. J. Hayes, H. L. O'Neill, D. Phelan, Jas. O'Brien, A. Loftus, F. Wilson.

EXTRINSIC FIRE.—Some of the workmen employed in Messrs. R. C. Jamieson & Co's. varnish factory, Centre street, Point St. Charles, were mixing a pot of varnish yesterday morning when it caught fire and instantly the inflammable surroundings were in a blaze. The alarm was conveyed to No. 9. Station, St. Gabriel Market, from where it was sounded. By the time the reels arrived the premises were in possession of the fire and the flames had seized on a row of wooden houses close by. A stream compelled the flames to relinquish their hold on the latter, but on the main body of fire the water seemed to have no effect. The factory being out of the city limits very long lines of hose had to be laid, in some cases 1,000 feet, in order to reach it. Despite the efforts of the men the flames made headway to the N. Shesles, tar roofing factory adjoining. This, once on fire, blazed away viciously, emitting volumes of smoke as black as ink. Another smaller building used as a tar factory, also caught fire and added more smoke to that already rolling towards the city. So dense and binding was the smoke that all traffic on the street to leeward of the fire was suspended, and the inhabitants in the houses in that direction were nearly driven out of their houses. The Brigade worked well and saved the numerous blocks of wooden tenements near the buildings on fire from destruction. About half-past two the flames were extinguished. The buildings destroyed were of wood and valued between six and eight thousand dollars. No insurance.—Gazette, April 8.

THE ALL-ROUND ROUTE AND PANORAMIC GUIDE OF THE ST. LAWRENCE for the season of 1873, will shortly be issued by the publishers, C. R. Chisholm and Bros. This well arranged Guide contains full and accurate information of the points of interest on the "All Round Route" from New York via the Hudson River and Niagara Falls to Montreal, Quebec, the Saguenay river, the White Mountains, Portland and Boston. It is embellished with numerous engravings of leading points, and contains maps of the route and a fine panorama of the St. Lawrence River. No tourist should fail to purchase this Guide, which is at once a useful hand book and a pleasant souvenir of the journey.

THE RIVER.—The water has risen very slowly since Sunday night. Of the roads the Longueil is the only safe one. The Laprairie road is very dangerous, being entirely under water at the part near the canal. The road to St. Helen's Island is so rotten that a man who started from Molson's wharf, to walk across to the Island, went through the ice up to his middle. He, however, got out and returned to the place from where he started, a sadder but a wiser man.—Herald, Tuesday 8th ult.

TESTIMONIAL.—We received only last Saturday, through Mr. Lacroix, of Coaticook, the following flattering address presented to Mr. J. Kearney, the gentlemanly and popular conductor, so long with the Portland section of the Grand Trunk "—DWAR SM.—Having heard with regret of your leaving the Grand Trunk Railway, where you have been so long and so favorably known, we choose this occasion to tender to you our ever expressions of gratitude for many acts of courtesy, and our deep sense of admiration for your many qualities, your genial disposition and uniform gentlemanly actions. You will do us the favor of accepting the accompanying purse, and regret for the loss of the usual meeting of friendly relations. The address was accompanied by a handsome purse.—Mont Gazette.

"WOODMAN, SPAIN."—We learn that a petition is being signed to the City Council praying that the old Church of the Bonsecours be spared in any street widening or other improvement contemplated in that neighbourhood of St. Paul street. Apart from any religious associations, Bonsecours Church is an historical landmark full of interest, which it were a pity to see destroyed. With the old Governor's Palace, or Chateau Ramsay, on Notre Dame street, it is the only remaining relic of by gone days, and nowhere in this city is there presented such a group of buildings flanking up the sides of a church, and reminding one of the old countries, as at this old building.—Gazette.

THE RED RIVER EXPEDITION CAPTURE.—Joe Beef has had for some time a fine female black bear which he claims to be the only captive taken by this expedition. She has been kept chained up in his back yard, but one day last week she fell violently in love with a customer, gave him an affectionate hug and then bit a piece out of his arm. The man is in Hospital, his whole system being poisoned from the animal's bite.

The following election petitions were decided upon by the Speaker of the House of Commons on Monday morning, who rejected them as defective in one other particular, viz. against Messrs. Smith, Peel, Horton, Centre Huron, Edgar, Monck, Ross, West Middlesex; Cooke, West Simcoe; Carling, London; J. H. Cameron, Cardwell. The five first gentlemen occupy seats to the left of the Speaker. The petition against Shibley, Addington, was held to be unimpeachable.

THE WATERS CONCERTO PARLOIR ORGANS.—Mr. Horace Waters of No. 481 Broadway, has a patented improvement in parlor organs which renders his popular instruments preferable to any that we have seen. The new feature consists of what is called a concerto stop, produced by an extra set of reeds peculiarly voiced. Its tone is remarkably full, sweet, and brilliant, and its power very fine. With this stop and the swell the most charming varieties of expression can be produced. The organ in other respects has conspicuous merits. The largest of the several sizes embraces ten stops, namely, a rich sub-bass, a very delicate piccolo, a flute, melodia, dulciana, forte, viola, coupler, the concerto, and a vox humana or tremolo. They have three full sets of reeds, with a clear delicate tone, an excellent action, and an easy bellows attachment, beside being handsome in appearance.—N. Y. Tribune.
