THE MIC-MAC REMEDY A SPECIFIC FOR SMALL-POX. ANOTHER VICTORY FOR MAJOR LANE. A HOPELESS CASE OF SMALL-POX CURED BY THE MIC-MAC REMEDY.

To MAJOR JNO. LANE, GREENFIELD, MASS. DEAR SIR,—I telegraphed for a package of your Small-Pox Remedy on last Monday, which I received the following day. I would have instantly responded and forwarded the money, but thought I would await the result of its trial. I prepared the medicine myself so as to render everything secure; and I am proud to be able to state that it produced almost instantaneous relief. It was a malignant case of Small-Pox—in fact, there was no hope of recovery expressed on any side; but by the application of your famous Remedy it easily yielded. Enclosed I send you a five dollar bill. Please acknowledge.

Your truly, Rev. W. A. HENNESSY. Price 85 per package. Sent to any part of the Dominion, post paid on receipt of price—a liberal discount to Clergymen, Physicians and Charitable institutions. B. E. MCGALE, Dispensing Chemist, 301 St. Joseph Street.

THE REMEDIES OF J. EMERY-CODERRE, M.D. The business that in connection with prepared prescriptions approaches more closely to a manufacturing pursuit, and therefore, though denounced by the schools as irregular is for our purposes the most regular in the manufacture of medical preparations. The individuals and firms engaged in this business, are both enterprising themselves and the promoters of enterprise in others. When we consider that the preparations in many instances are beneficial, and as respects almost all, entirely harmless the manufacture would seem to be entitled to a larger share of respectful consideration than it has hitherto received. The remedies of the established firms have much weighty testimony in favor of their excellence, and the popularity, and consequent saleability of a few are truly remarkable, with special reference to the following Remedies:

DR. CODERRE'S EXPECTORATING SYRUP. For the last thirty years the Expectorating Syrup has been known and used with never-failing results for coughs, bronchitis, catarrh, affections of the lungs, &c.

DR. CODERRE'S INFANTS' SYRUP can be given with impunity to infants in cases of colic, diarrhoea, dysentery, painful dentition, inability to sleep, coughs, colds, &c., and is now regarded as the standard remedy for the above.

DR. CODERRE'S TONIC ELIXIR is specially adapted for women requiring the use of tonics and salutary agents. Its use can be continued without any inconvenience, in complaints such as Chlorosis, or Green Sickness, Leucorrhoea, or Whites; Dysmenorrhoea, or difficult course; Anaemia, or paleness of the blood; General debility, involuntary Seminal Losses, Scrofula, Ringworm and other Diseases of the skin, &c. Pure medicinal preparations are as necessary as skilled physicians,—they are the armies provided by nature and science to overcome the insidious legions of death, and if these armies are demoralized by unskillful arrangement, lack of prudence or vigilance they become a dangerous host, agents of destruction of which the less we have the better. These truths are obvious, yet they cannot be too strongly or too often impressed upon the public mind.

Certificate recommending Dr. J. Emery-Coderre's Proprietary Remedies, viz: Dr. Coderre's Infants' Syrup, Tonic Elixir, Expectorating Syrup.

We, the undersigned Physicians, after carefully examining the above Proprietary Remedies, as manufactured by J. E. Coderre, M. D., do certify that they are carefully prepared with medicinal substances suitable for the treatment of the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURALISTS' PORTFOLIO. A VENERABLE PONY.—There died recently at the farm of Yondertown in the neighbourhood of Banff a pony which had nearly completed its 34th year. The animal, which was bred at Yondertown, by the late W. Barclay, was a plebeian, and was in its day a very beautiful creature. It was exhibited in the extra class at the show of the Highland Society at Aberdeen in 1847, when it was awarded the silver medal.

REYNARD IN THE PULPIT.—A singular circumstance took place at Haver, in Kent, on Saturday. A fox had pressed by the huntsman, leaped the churchyard wall and disappeared. The hounds and hunts men were searching and wondering, when an old woman came out from a back door of the church, which happened to be open, with the exclamation, "Here he is, in the pulpit!" and, sure enough, poor Reynard had slipped in at the open door and sought sanctuary, curled up in a corner of the pulpit. Of course, he was soon ejected.

THE TURKEY-COCK AND THE HAWK.—As a general rule, the turkey-cock is a noisy cowardly bird, attacking smaller birds and children, but flying away at the slightest appearance of resistance. A remarkable instance indicating courage on the part of this bird is related. An American gentleman received as a present a turkey-cock and hen, along with a pair of bantams, and all were turned out into the yard together. While there, a hawk pounced one of the bantams, which uttered a cry of distress. The turkey rushed to its assistance, and struck the hawk so violently that he obliged him to leave his intended victim.

CAMEL RAISING IN TEXAS.—Camel-raising promises to be a profitable business in Texas. It is said they are no more trouble to raise than horses or cattle. The colts for the first three or four days are rather tender, and require close attention, but, after that, they take their chances with the herd. They feed on cactus and brush, eschewing all grasses that cattle and horses eat, if the favorite cactus can be had. The females, with proper care, give a colt every year. They are extremely docile. A resident of Texas owns a camel that has travelled 150 miles between sun and sun, and he says that almost any well-kept one is good for 100 miles a day.

THE GIANT RAT.—This animal has the appearance of the brown rat, dilated to gigantic proportions. Its length is over two feet, but of this, the tail is about twelve inches. This rat is found in India being partial to dry situations. The lower castes of Hindoos eat its flesh in preference to that of any other species. It is a most mischievous animal, burrows to a great depth, and passes under the foundations of granaries and storehouses, if not deeply laid. Mud and unburnt brick walls prove no security against its attacks, and it commonly perforates such buildings in all directions. Other genera are found in various parts of the world.

RARE ASTRONOMICAL EVENT.—It is said that a conjunction of Neptune, Uranus, Saturn, Jupiter, and Mars, will occur at or about the beginning of the year 1883, for the first time in a period of over 4,000 years. At that time, unusual effects on our terrestrial weather are predicted, and we have seen in a journal a prophecy of dire calamity by storms and pestilence four years hence—a prophecy based on the recorded experience of preceding partial conjunctions during the last 2,000 years. It is, however very doubtful if any possible conjunction of the outer planets, comparatively vast as they are, can affect our globe much, if any: they are too remote.

A CAT ON THE TRAMP.—A few weeks ago a family named Shaker lived at Dawley, in the county of Salop, but had occasion to leave and go to Nottingham. They, of course, removed all their household goods, including a fine cat, which had been in the family for years. Arriving at Nottingham, the cat showed signs of great dissatisfaction with her new abode, and after a few days disappeared. The other day the cat walked into the old house at Dawley, to the great surprise of the neighbors. As might be expected she was very footsore and lame. When it is considered that the distance travelled on foot by the cat, from Nottingham to Dawley, is over 70 miles, the feat seems one of the most wonderful on record. Hundreds have flocked to see the four-footed pedestrian. Large sums have been refused by the owner for his favourite cat.

A MONKEY'S HOUSEKEEPING.—I was making cakes one day, preparing for company, and the monkey followed me into the pantry and watched everything I did. Unfortunately, dinner was announced in the midst of my work, and I left it, making him go out, too, rather against his will. I knew him too well to trust him in the pantry alone. After dinner, I returned to my cookery. Having carefully locked the door, I was surprised to see my pet there before me. His attitude was ominous; he was on the top of the barrel, two-thirds full of flour, and busily occupied. He had got my egg-bowl, broken two or three dozen, smashing them into the flour barrel, with all the sugar within reach. These he was vigorously beating in the flour, shell and all, stooping now and then to take a taste, with a countenance as grave as a judge's. In my dismay and grief I did not scold him. Yet, to see my materials so used up, and we living in the country, and guests coming! He had a most satisfied air, as if he meant, "Look!" the main operations for the party are now over!" I had forgotten the broken pane of glass in the window.—Advances.

THE STING OF THE BEE.—The sting of the bee is a weapon only too well known. There are few of us, probably, who have not, some time or the other, felt the effect of a sting from a bee or wasp. The bee is not generally so easily excited to sting as the wasp, unless it is much provoked, or has a decided prejudice against some particular person—which is occasionally the case; but when it does it is usually with the sacrifice of its own life, as it generally leaves its weapon in the wound, with the little sac of poison attached to it. We need not wonder that it is difficult to be withdrawn when we read the account of the shape of the sting of the bee. The sting of the bee is not, as it might appear to the naked eye, a mere lance, or a bayonet. It is, in truth, something much more formidable, rather resembling those frightful engines of destruction which the common consent of civilized nations has excluded from the practice of modern warfare. In a word, the little instrument known as "the sting" is found, when magnified, to be the sheath in which the true sting lies concealed, although the whole enters the wound when the attack is made. The piercing apparatus itself is, however double, being composed of two long darts, which are placed side by side, so as to form a lance; and being furnished by suitable muscles, they are forcibly protruded from the sheath when required for attack or defense. If we employ a tolerably high microscopic power to examine the points of these darts, we shall find them to be barbed, each piercer being furnished on one side with eight teeth; and as they are so placed when in use that the smooth edges are in juxtaposition, you will perceive that they then constitute a single formidable barbed spear, similar to one of those primitive weapons of warfare employed by the savage inhabitants of various countries, that you will no doubt often have met in museums or collections of ethnological curiosities. You will now perceive what a formidable weapon the sting must be when directed by the bee against an insect of its own size; and, after examining its barbed points, you will easily understand, too how it happens that, when the little belligerent manages to penetrate your own skin, it should be compelled to leave its sting behind.

OUR RETAIL ESTABLISHMENTS. THE EXTENSIVE CLOTHING HOUSE OF J. G. KENNEDY & CO. It has been the aim of the Commercial Review, in the exhibits we have made of the various branches of industry with which our city abounds, to mention only those establishments that can be fairly called representatives of their trade. And while as a general rule we have taken only those which do a wholesale business, we have not overlooked those in the retail trade which, from the magnitude of their operations, deserve especial mention. Within the last few years a great change has taken place in the clothing trade. Ready-made goods are now produced in as fine fabrics and as good styles and make as the most of custom-made suits. In fact there are many of our best citizens who buy ready-made clothing entirely, and none of their acquaintances are aware that their stylish suit do not come from a fashionable tailor. Especially has this feature of the trade been apparent during the hard times and when economy was a necessity. The most extensive retail clothing house in this city is that of Messrs. J. G. Kennedy & Co., No. 31 St. Lawrence st. We had the pleasure of visiting this establishment a few days since, and we can safely assert that a larger finer or more stylish stock of clothing would be hard to find. The building occupied by them is four stories in height and is filled to repletion with every class of goods in the clothing line, comprising men's boys' and youths' ready-made clothing in every variety, Canadian and Scotch tweeds, cassimeres, dockings, &c. On the first floor is the stock of over coats, suits, &c., in the latest styles and makes, and sold at prices to suit the most exacting. Indeed it would be difficult to find a customer who could not be suited in his department. The measuring and cutting department is also on this floor. Here the finest custom-made clothing can be obtained at minimum prices. The 3rd and 4th floors are devoted to clothing of every description. They carry at all times a fine stock of tweeds, broadcloths, &c. &c., in bales. Their clothing for excellence of quality and first class workmanship and finish cannot be surpassed. We commend any of our readers who really want superior, well fitting, stylish, and durable custom or ready-made garments at bottom prices to pay this house a visit they are sure to be suited by going to this fine establishment.—Advt.
