The Farmer and the Interests

A Study in Parasitism . . . 75c.

By "Clarus Ager"

TO BEAT THE FARMER into a clear conception of how he is, on every hand, paying someone to take from him the greater part of his produce, is the object of this brilliantly written book. Every farmer should read it through three times: once, to realize what a fool he is; twice, how, and why he is a fool; three times, to make up his mind how he is going to assist himself and come into his own.

Two New Readers

JIM AND PEGGY AT MEADOWBROOK FARM. Illustrated.....60c

A graphic, true picture of an everyday farm—its work, its play, the things that make up its daily life—is the achievement of this new book. A delightful story dealing with two children, Jim and Peggy, runs through the book, capturing the attention in the first pages, and holding it until the last. It is richly illustrated with more than two hundred and fifty photographs, picturing the scenes and activities, both work and play, described in the story.

HOW MAN MAKES MARKETS. Everychild's Series..... 40c

This book is unique in that it presents the story of commerce in an entertaining style. It describes the development of trade and industries, and explains those factors that determine the location and growth of cities. Children will like this story and will learn much of Geography, of Commerce, of History, and of Customs from it, with its wealth of excellent illustrations.

Our illustrated 32-page circular, giving particulars of more than 500 books ranging in price from 5 cents to 15 cents and up, will be sent on application.
