

Canada's Year of Asia Pacific 1997: Sustainable Development and the Trade Liberalization Debate: Civil Society Concerns about APEC, with Options for Canadian Foreign Policy
March 1998
Wayne Nelles, PhD
University of British Columbia

Dept. of Foreign Affairs
Min. des Affaires étrangères
AVR
APR 2 2007
Return to Departmental Library
Retourner à la bibliothèque du Ministère

The paper examines Canadian foreign policy on sustainable development in the context of APEC. More specifically, it explores public debate in the media as well as comments by NGOs and civil society representatives on the APEC agenda, and criticises the weaknesses of Canadian foreign policy. It concludes by offering realistic and strategic alternatives that are more ecologically, socially and economically sustainable than Canada's current foreign policy which supports trade liberalisation over

CYAP 1997, SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT
AND THE TRADE LIBERALIZATION DEBATE:
CIVIL SOCIETY CONCERNS ABOUT APEC
WITH OPTIONS FOR CANADIAN FOREIGN POLICY
Wayne Nelles, Ph.D, UBC
March 1998

- consult civil society
- support civil society
- green the budget
- phase out business subsidies which promote unsustainable development
- review and reform Canadian trade policy
- further progressive domestic and foreign policy
- establish a new APEC roundtable on the environment and economy
- establish a Standing Civil Society Advisory Committee on APEC
- advance APEC's FLEPP Agenda through a National Working Group
- apologise for civil liberties violations during the 1997 APEC Leaders Summit

180 757 75-